AN UNHAPPY SPOUSE.—The wife of several years standing of a young man belonging to Halifax suddenly disappeared last Thursday night, and about the same time a visitor to the city, who had been attentive to the woman in her unmarried days, also departed. The husband had gone to the Lyceum and on his return found the establishment locked up. On Saturday he received a letter from his missing partner, dated St. John, expressing regret at her action and a desire to come back, but as she had acted somewhat similarly about a year ago the injured young man thinks he will let her rove where'er she likes hereafter.—Halifax Chronicle.

MAJOR-GEN. MIDDLETON, on the 3rd inst., inspected the Battery, the barracks, the armories, and the fort of Kingston, attended by Col. Vickers, D. A. G., and several of the officers of the district staff. He expressed himself as fully satisfied with all he saw. The Canadian soldiers especially pleased him, and he thought the militia of the country in physique superior to the militia of the old land. He did not expect to find things as perfect in Canada as at Aldershot, but he was bound to say that what he had seen in Toronto and Kingston surprised him and elicited his compliments. His present tour was not official; he merely desired to see the various military posts and make the acquaintance of officers located at them. Kingston he had visited before, fifteen years ago, and he noticed many familiar features, though of course the city had grown.

Miller, Prof. J. G. Reynolds and nurse.

WE are indebted to D. H. Macdonald, Esq., of San Francisco, for late papers. By the Examiner, we see that "Angus McLeod, a well-known Scotchman of San Francisco, left there on July 10th, on an extended trip to his native home in Nova Scotia. An occurrence of this kind, of course, says the Examiner, could not pass unnoticed, consequently a number of his friends surprised him on the evening prior to his departure, by presenting him with an address, composed and delivered by R. S. Falconer, who also presented him with a suitable testimonial in the shape of a gold-headed cane, set in quartz and inscribed: "Presented to Angus McLeod, by a few of his friends, July 15, 1884." The recipient feelingly replied in a few appropriate remarks, after which the health of the guest was enthusiastically drunk. Song and sentiment prevailed till midnight. Mr. McLeod left with the best wishes of his friends, for a pleasant visit and a speedy return to his friends." The address was signed by a large number of Nova Scotians, P. E. Islanders, and New Brunswickers.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

John Bright on the House of Lords.

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 5. In connection with the great Reform demonstration here yesterday, an enthusiastic meeting was held in the evening, at Bingley Hall. Fully 20,000 people were present. In a speech by the Right Hon. John Bright, he made a powerful attack upon the peers. He said the divine right of Kings was a ridiculous figment. If the Lords are obstinate, the speaker said, agitation will continue to the bitter end. England, he said, has been chosen as the home of a self-governed people who will never be subservient to the insolent pretensions of a hereditary class. He said the Tory majority in the House of Lords was actuated by the same bitter hatred of Liberals as in 1837. "Who are the peers," he asked. "They are the spawn of the b'nders, wars and corruption of the dark ages of our history. They had entered the temple of honor, not through the temple of merit, but through the sepulchres of their ancestors. They were no better than their fathers. Some of them were worse, for their privilege had produced ignorance and arrogance. The reform of the Lords is inevitable. The creation of new peers to pass the Franchise Bill would get rid of the present difficulty. What was wanted was a limitation of the veto power of the House of Lords. Should the people submit, or should they curb the nobles as their fathers had curbed the kings of England? Mr. Bright then proceeded to explain the manner in which he would like to see the power of the House of Lords restricted. He would allow the peers to retain their present power during the first session that a bill should be presented to them, but he would absolutely preclude them from vetoing the Franchise Bill or any Bill a second time. Many persons, no doubt, would think him lenient to the peers. But he preferred remedies which, while effectual, would cause the least disturbance to existing institutions. The meeting displayed its approval of the sentiments expressed by the speaker by frequent and enthusiastic applause.

ELECTRIC GLOSS.

FOR cleaning Solid Silver, Nickel, Brass, Copper and Plate Glass. Quick! Sure! Permanent! No dirt, no trouble, no labor. Being entirely free from grit and acids, it cannot injure the most finely burnished surface. It is the only preparation ever produced that will polish brass or copper without the use of acid. Nothing approaches it for removing grease and finger marks from Brass, Copper, Glass, etc.; while for cleaning Nickel or Stoves it is especially useful. Retail price, 25 cents per bottle.

MICA WASH.—This wash is the only thing of the kind ever invented. A stove may be as handsome as a jewel and shine like ebony; but smoked mica lights will spoil it all. Day by day mica becomes scarcer and higher in price, and an article that will clean and preserve it is valuable to all concerned. Try this wash once, and you will always use it. Retail price, 25 cents per bottle.

The above household necessities are manufactured by The Electric Gloss Co., Philadelphia, U. S. A., and sold by every respectable Druggist, Store Dealer, Hardware Merchant and General Dealer in Canada. The Canadian trade supplied by
