

Walsh Gives New Details Of Communist Activities

QUEBEC, (CP)—Pat Walsh says Communist workers, employed in 1942 at the Aluminum Company of Canada's giant Shipshaw development, in the Lake St. John district of Quebec, now are working on the company's huge Kitimat project in British Columbia.

Walsh, 37-year-old union organizer who resigned last week from several Communist organizations, said in an interview in a Quebec newspaper Thursday that a "considerable number" of Communists are working at Kitimat.

Referring to the Shipshaw project, Walsh said in December, 1941, he was ordered to go to Shipshaw to arrange hiring of men who, "to help Russia, then our ally, would influence other workers and hasten the construction work."

"In December 1941 I brought in Serge Borko, who brought with him several construction experts, all good Communist comrades."

Met Obstacle

"However," Walsh said, "there was an obstacle in our way. The Mayor of Arvida, Marcel Tissot, knew me and several of our group as Russian agents. We feared his anti-Communist views.

"A campaign was started to get him out of the way. Everything that went wrong was attributed to this 'fascist'."

Walsh added:

"Today I am ashamed of it, but in June, 1942, I was proud to be able to tell the Communist leaders in Canada that we had more than 250 well-placed agents at Shipshaw."

RHEUMATIC PAIN—Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glocheckie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

hopped from branch to branch back up to his chosen perch where he was well hidden from any sharp eyes that might be in the neighborhood.

Sitting up there, he had nothing to do but use his eyes. Being a Crow he did use his eyes. He had learned by the time he tried his wings for the first time that his eyes had been given him to use. "This is one reason that the Crow folk like to sit in treetops when they have nothing else to do. From a high perch like that they can see far. So the young Crow spent his time during the day watching what might be going on about him. Sometimes, he saw nothing for a long period. Again, there would be others in his neighborhood whom he could watch while they did not know they were being watched. Thus it was that he learned in a short time much about his neighbors that otherwise would have taken him a long time to learn. Sometimes, just watching others, he forgot his own troubles. It was when the Black Shadows came creeping out all through the Green Forest that he felt loneliest, and pitied himself most.
