Clarke, charging a third infraction of the same Act, was dismissed. A WORD TO BICYCLISTS.—His Worship Mayor Dawson has sent a copy of the following letter to the President of the Bicycle Club:—

SIR,—The Mayor, in consequence of the bicycle accidents of a day or two ago, desires to call your attention and through you the Club, to the desirability of bicycle riders having a bell attached thereto, and sounding the same at street crossings and when passing pedestrians or vehicles. The Club, by carrying out this suggestion, will (probably) relieve the City Council from the necessity of passing a by-law relating thereto.

GOVERNOR HOWLAN AT TIGNISH.—Yesterday Governor Howlan visited Tignish for the first time since since he was appointed to his present position, and although he came by the evening train and word of his coming was only received at noon, many of his friends from miles around were at the station to welcome him. He was presented with an address on the arrival of the train, to which he suitably replied. Flags were flying from the various buildings in his honor, and guns sent forth their greeting amidst the cheers of the crowd, as he entered the carriage in waiting. While at Tignish His Honor was the guest of Dr. Murphy.

CUT HIS THROAT AGAIN.—This afternoon John Jackson, cooper, occupies a cot at the Prince Edward Island Hospital, in consequence of his having again attempted to end his days by cutting his throat. It seems that Jackson, who has been in the Lunatic Asylum for the past two months, was discharged yesterday, and shortly before noon to-day he was found lying near a shed in the rear of the Franklin House, bleeding profusely. His relatives and the authorities were promptly notified, and Jackson was removed to the Hospital. An examination showed that Jackson had cut his throat in two places, and had severed several small arteries. At the time of writing it is not known whether he will recover or not. This is the third time Jackson has attempted to end his existence in this way.

Humbug or no Humbug

When Barnum said that the people likes to be fooled, he did not live in Charlottetown or he never would have made such a statement, and he would have found out—like our competitors by bitter experience—that no amount of fooling with large flaring advertisements, offering one line of goods for half what they cost, and charging double price for another, would soon win the confidence of the people away from our wonderful cheap departments. Notwithstanding the hard times and low prices, our trade is increasing every month and every year. Square honest goods at square honest prices is what the people want, and that is what they get in our store.

MEETING AT MORELL.

The Liberal Conservatives of King's County opened the campaign at Morell last evening by a rousing and enthusiastic meeting, which was addressed by A. C. Macdonald, Esq., and Hon. Senator Ferguson.

Mr. Macdonald pointed to the claims the Government had on the farmers of Canada for the manner in which they developed the cheese and dairy industries and decreased the taxation.

Senator Ferguson made a telling speech which was received with round after round of applause. He pointed to the manly and straightforward position of the Government on the trade, Manitoba school and branch railway questions as compared with the vacillating position of the Opposition.

Parties who were present at the Liberal meeting of last week estimate that there were four times as many at the Conservative meeting of last night. The tide of public opinion appears to be setting strongly in favor of the Liberal-Conservative candidate, Mr. Macdonald, who will carry the riding by a large majority.

A WARNING IN THE PAST.

To prove that we were being slowly but surely swamped by our jug-handled fiscal arrangements with the United States prior to 1878, it is only necessary to state that our purchases of manufactured goods from that country had risen from $47,000,000 to $51,000,000 in the same period, and that we had imported from them in one year nearly $18,000,000 of agricultural produce, which, on account of its cheapness, simply displaced so much of the products of our own Canadian farms.

While trade with the United States was expanding so enormously, that with the mother country was contracting. In 1873 our total imports from Great Britain amounted to $68,492,000, while in 1878 they had decreased to $37,431,000, a shrinkage of $31,061,000.

In consequence of the unsatisfactory condition of our manufacturing industries the imports of raw materials decreased, scores of factories were idle, or running only on short time; and thousands of our most skilled artisans were forced to emigrate to the United States in search of the employment they were unable to obtain in Canada.

Among our merchants a similar state of affairs obtained. The business failures throughout the Dominion, which in 1874 were 566 in number and $7,996,765 in amount, gradually rose under the masterly inertia of Sir Richard Cartwright, until in 1879 (for the effect of which year his policy was undoubtedly responsible), they numbered 1,902 and aggregated the enormous sum of $29,347,937.

As if to accentuate the folly of refusing to alter our tariff so as meet the exigencies of the times and protect our own people from the unfair competition of foreigners, our national expenditure increased from $19,174,647 in 1873 to $24,455,381 in 1879, while each succeeding year seemed to show a larger deficit than its predecessor.

Would not history repeat itself were the Liberals again to accede to power? Do not the utterances of Messrs. Laurier, Cartwright, et al. show that they have the same visionary ideas on tariff matters, which if put in force would again ruin this country?

MR. S. A. MACDONALD, who dubs himself "The Leading Fashionable Tailor," will move to-morrow into his new store, recently vacated by M. S. & J. Goodstein. This store is conveniently located, being only a few doors above the Apothecaries Hall. It has been thoroughly renovated, and now presents a clean, neat and inviting appearance. The interior has been painted white, and the front a handsome wine color by Mr. A. L. Howatt. Mr. C. P. Welsh was engaged yesterday in putting in the electric light. Messrs. Mark Wright & Co. have made a cutting table, which will extend 12 feet from the rear of the interior. In the northeast corner of the building is a snug office. The second flat will be used as the tailoring department. The arrangement of the whole building is such as to afford every facility for conducting a flourishing business.

PASTE THIS IN YOUR HAT.—An American paper says: Do you know that in riding a bicycle you develop the following muscles: Vastus externus, pectoral biceps, tiraus anticis, deltoid dorsal, triceps lumbar dorsal, supinator biceps, femoralis abductor, teno achilles? If you cut this out and paste it in your hat, you will know just what you are doing, and will appreciate the cause when that tired feeling comes on.

OLD ST. DUNSTAN'S.—The old cathedral building was to-day inspected by Mr. Pasquette, chief foreman for the contractors, and pronounced safe.

THE Provincial W. C. T. U. convention will meet in the Baptist Church, in this city, on Thursday and Friday, 21st and 22nd inst. A cordial welcome is extended to visitors. 1&3

C. C. C.—Members will please remember the adjourned cricket meeting at the park to-morrow evening.

NEWS NOTES.

Disastrous forest fires are raging in different parts of the New England States.

It is rumored in Suakim that the Khalifa is dead, but no confirmation of the report can be obtained.

The despatch of Indian troops to garrison Suakim has given great satisfaction and confidence to the natives.

London has gone into the renovating business in earnest. The city is spending $2,500,000 in cleaning and rebuilding one slum.

There are active preparations for the coronation ceremonies in Moscow and the Czar and Czarina arrived in that ancient city on Monday last.

The Anglo-Egyptian expedition up the Nile is proceeding without the slightest hitch, and the dervishes appear to be temporarily demoralized.

The Duke and Duchess of York, from Copenhagen, and the Princess of Wales and her daughters, from the south of Europe, have returned to London.

According to London papers, over $4,000,000 is paid for advertisements in the metropolitan journals every year. This is equivalent to between $4 and $5 per capita of the population. It pays.

The steamer Lake Superior, from Liverpool, which passed Father Point on Tuesday morning inwards, reports a great many icebergs between the eastern edge of the Banks and Cape St. Mary.

Some of the Belgian coal mines are wonderfully deep. In a pit at Flenu coal is now being "got" 3,700 feet below the surface. In another pit, at Montigny-sur-Sambrd, a coal seam is worked 3,000 feet deep.

The loss of stock in New South Wales by the recent drought is estimated at 10,000,000 sheep, valued at 4s. each; 303,000 cattle, valued at 40s; and 20,000 horses, valued at 60s.; amounting in the aggregate to a total value of £2,666,000.

The interesting news comes from Europe that some time since a party of antiquarians, in digging over the ruins of the ancient city of Ephesus, in Asia Minor, came across the house in which the Blessed Virgin Mary lived after she left Jerusalem, and before she went to Mount Sion, where she died.

Francis Schlatter, the healer, has been heard from again, this time at a ranch sixty miles south of Lordsburg, near the Mexican line. A brother of J. Sloat Fassett, of New York, reports his crippled leg as having been healed by Schlatter, who passed his hand over the afflicted limb.

The Arctic explorer, Lieut. Robert Peary, is going north again this summer, and a steamer is now being arranged at St. John's for that purpose. The object of the expedition is believed to be to secure for the Philadelphia Academy of Science the 40 ton meteorite near Cape York, which Lieut. Peary discovered last year.

Notwithstanding reports from Caracas to the contrary, it can be stated that the celebrated Uruan incident has not yet been closed, and that no indemnity has yet been paid by Venezuela to Great Britain. Negotiations are proceeding, however, through the German minister at the Venezuela capital, but so far it has not been possible to arrange the terms of the indemnity.

After a period of more than 400 years the Copt-Catholic Church is again under the rule of the Pope. A few months ago Leo XIII. restored the Patriarchate for the Copts in Alexandria, naming Bishop Cyrillus Makarius as Apostolic Vicar. The latter has now named a Copt Bishop for Upper and Lower Egypt. Of the Copts existing to-day only about 20,000 are Roman Catholics.

The Italian Government is advised by General Baldissera that the Italians who were taken prisoners by the Abyssinians in the province of Tigre have been surrendered by their captors and that General Baldissera now considers the campaign ended. Adigrat has been disarmed and abandoned and the troops which occupied that place will return to a position behind the frontier of Erythrea.

The Supreme Court at Washington on Monday sustained the constitutionality of the law of Louisiana requiring railways of the state to provide separate cars for white and colored passengers. The judgment of the Supreme Court of the state upholding the law was affirmed. Mr. Justice Harlan vigorously dissented, saying no power in the land had a right to regulate the enjoyment of civil rights upon the basis of race.

A meeting of the Peace Society was held on Thursday evening in London, for the promotion of a plan of arbitration of differences between the United States and Great Britain. A letter was read from the United States ambassador Mr Bayard, declining an invitation to attend, on the ground that, although he sympathised with the movement, it was not his province to actively assist it until the voice of both nations had declared in its favor.

Dr. Edwin A, Down, of the Yale medical school, in a very carefully prepared article abounding in statistics to sustain his position, combats the popular impression that insanity is increasing. He says that the increase in twenty years, shown by the official records, is comparatively trifling, and is more than accounted for by the change in conditions, which has resulted in sending to insane asylums many persons who were previously kept in almshouses or in private families, and not reckoned in making up the record of the insane.

'TWAS A DEADLY TORNADO.

Late advices show that the deadly tornado which swept through north-eastern Kansas and a portion of south-eastern Nebraska on Sunday afternoon and night caused at least eighteen deaths and the injury of a score of persons and incalculable damage. Many who escaped instant death are maimed for life, and in numerous instances the injuries are expected to result fatally. The storm covered a large scope of country. Chaos prevails throughout the stricken districts, and in the confusion it is even yet impossible to obtain a complete list of the dead and injured at the various places. The property losses cannot be estimated with any degree of accuracy. There is no doubt, however, that the storm is the most appalling disaster that has been inflicted upon north eastern Kansas for years, At Frankfort sixty buildings were destroyed, and 200 people rendered homeless.

VERY INTERESTING FIGURES!

The savings of our people have greatly increased since 1878. The deposits in our chartered banks in 1878 were $76,856,253, and in January, 1896, they had increased to $190,493,856.

The great increase in the amount of life insurance in force is also an indication of thrift. In 1878 the total amount of life insurance was $84,751,937, while in 1895 it had increased to the enormous sum of $319,781,939.

The capital invested in industrial establishments in 1881 was $164,957,423; in 1891, $354,620,750. The number of employes also increased proportionately, while the wages paid out nearly doubled, being in 1891 $100,663,650.

The total value of output of our industrial establishments in 1891 was $476,258,886. There were then 776 establishments, whose output was over $100,000 annually. Omitting establishments whose annual output was under $2,000, the output of all others was $444,003,694 in 1891; while by far the greatest increase between 1881 and 1891 was by establishments whose output was valued at over $50,000 annually.

Our foreign trade forms but a small proportion of our commerce. The best customers for both farmer and manufacturer are the Canadian people themselves, who consume by far the greater portion of all the country produces. Notwithstanding our great interprovincial trade and the large quantity of goods we manufacture, which replaces the foreign product, our imports have increased from $93,081,787 in 1878 to $123,474,940 in 1894, and our exports have increased from $79,323,667 to $117,524,949 in the same period. In making these comparisons we must not lose sight of the fact of the great depreciation in values of all commodities within the periods named, so that all these figures relating to 1894 would really be greatly increased if values were equal to those in effect in 1878. A matter in this connection which will be of interest to us is the fact that, according to recent reports, our exports for the first quarter of this year to Great Britain increased ninety per cent.

The tonnage of sea-going and inland vessels arriving at and departing from Canadian ports, exclusive of coasting vessels, has increased in round numbers from twelve millions of tons in 1878 to twenty millions of tons in 1894. But the greatest indication of the importance of our interprovincial trade is found in the traffic of our railways. In 1878 our railways carried nearly eight million tons of freight, and earned $20,500,000. In 1894 the tonnage was three times greater, and the earnings nearly $50,000,000, while the working expenses, number of passengers carried, and miles of road in operation more than doubled in the same period.

The increase in our postal facilities also emphasizes the importance of the increase in our commerce since 1878. In that year the letters and postal cards mailed were 50,445,000 pieces, while in 1894 the number had increased to 132,097,200 pieces.

Fire insurance in force in 1878 was $409,299,701, and in 1891 $836,067,202. To the latter amount should be added the insurance carried by many large companies which make no return to the Government.

In 1881 we imported and manufactured $401,287,672 worth of merchandize, and in 1891 $589,544,010 worth, showing an increased consumption in 1891 over 1881 of $188,256,338. In 1891 our own manufactured products, which we consumed, exceeded our imports in the proportion of four to one.

It will be seen by these figures whether the protective principle has occasioned great public and private injury, etc., all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity as long as the present tariff system remains in force. The policy which has brought about the beneficial results which have been indicated is to be changed we are told to free trade or a revenue tariff, or commercial union, as the case may be, but neither of these policies can be brought about without great disaster to the country.

—Brooklyn Times: The Liberal politicians and newspapers have no aspirations in the direction of closer union with Great Britain. They want to tie up Canada's destinies with those of the United States. They would first make the two countries one commercially, and then it would not be many years before they would become one politically.
