Volkswagen Firm Adds To Its Headquarters In Canada

BY FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
Items from here and there:
The Canadian Gas Association is holding its annual public relations and sales-promotion workshop in Toronto April 10-11, with gas industry officials present from all parts of the country. Co-chairmen are L. C. Whealy, Toronto, and J. Roy Sarsfield, Regina.
Annual meeting of the organization will be held at Manoir Richelieu, near Murray Bay, Que., June 24-27.

The annual personnel management conference of the Personnel Association of Toronto Inc. will be held in Toronto April 17-18.
The association—founded in 1936 by a group of 26 men who previously met in each other's homes to discuss personnel problems—is described as the largest Canadian association of its kind, with a membership representing more than 250 manufacturing, financial and retail organizations in Toronto and Ontario.

John V. Cuff, president, says in a pre-convention statement, that the conference "has become the meeting place of the year for men and women in Canada who are concerned with personnel and industrial relations activities."
The Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, with headquarters in Montreal, announces that G. H. Dixon, general manager of the organization for seven years prior to 1954, has rejoined the organization as general manager. Since 1954 he has served with Anthes-Imperial Co. Ltd., in sales capacities in both Eastern and Western Canada.

Volkswagen Canada Ltd. is making a 40,000-square-foot addition to its Canadian headquarters in Toronto—a one-third increase. Cost will be $600,000, including new equipment.
Werner Jansen, managing director, said in making the announcement: "Although world demand has increased to the point where the 1958 allocation of cars to Canada cannot be raised, the growing number of Volkswagens in Canada means that we must extend servicing facilities.

A striking feature of the United Kingdom in the last six years has been increase in the rate of personal savings, says The Economic Record, publication of the United Kingdom Information Service.
The increased savings, it adds, "have contributed notably to the financing of an investment boom that has greatly enhanced economic strength and efficiency and, in the process, has yielded another important benefit: by lessening the need for government saving via budget surpluses, it has probably helped to keep taxes lower than they might otherwise have been."

The National Industrial Conference Board of New York says today's bread winner in the United States must earn $6,457 a year to match the purchasing power of a $3,000-a-year salary in 1939.

SHARK KILLS WOMAN

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—A shark killed Mrs. Kay Bester, 28, a widowed mother of four, at Uvong Beach in Natal province Saturday. It was the second fatal shark attack in 48 hours on South African beaches. Hundreds of horrified Easter vacationers saw the shark seize Mrs. Bester in waist-deep water.

Opening lead—king of hearts. The declarer's course of play is frequently shaped by the line of defense the opponents adopt.
West won the king of hearts and shifted to a trump. South would have been happy to give up two club tricks for the privilege of ruffing his third club in dummy, but when West switched to a trump, this plan had to be abandoned.
It seemed very likely that West had the ace of clubs as part of his two heart bid. There was therefore considerable danger that a heart and three clubs would be lost. Since the chance of ruffing a club in dummy had been ruined by the trump shift, South had to look elsewhere if the contract was to be made.
So declarer went along with West's idea of leading trumps. He took three rounds of spades. South next cashed the K-Q of diamonds. When both defenders followed suit, the contract became ironclad. The jack of diamonds was then led and overtaken with dummy's ace.
Now came the queen of hearts from dummy and declarer allowed West to win the trick as a club was discarded. It was the defenders' second trick. West was on lead but could do nothing to prevent the contract from being made.
If he cashed the ace of clubs, South could immediately claim the rest of the tricks. If he led a heart instead, declarer would then lose only one more trick since the heart lead, whether the jack or a small one, was bound to create a heart trick in dummy on which a club loser could be discarded.
South's play is noteworthy on two counts. He recognized the power of dummy's Q-9-8 of hearts and took the fullest advantage of them.
Also, he played the diamond suit correctly. It was not only important to keep a diamond entry in dummy, but it was at the same time essential to exhaust West of diamonds so that he would have no convenient exit card when he was put into the lead.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
