B.O.A.C. Plans Super Jet Service Across Atlantic

LONDON, (CP) — Britain's globe-girdling Overseas Airways Corporation is planning a fleet of long-range passenger super-jets to streak across the Atlantic in pace with the sun—arriving in New York at the same time by the clock as they leave London.

Third Phase of Bid
Sir Miles Thomas, BOAC chairman, explained in his annual report today that this will be the "third phase" in Britain's bid for world air supremacy.

To do it, the jet airliner of the future would have to fly the 3,443 miles from London to New York in five hours, the time difference between the two cities, at a near-supersonic speed of 690 miles an hour. Such speeds already have been approached.

At present, BOAC piston-engined liners fly from New York to London in just less than 13 hours averaging 270 miles an hour.

Thomas said the first phase in the battle was over when the Comet, the world's first jet airliner, was put into service on Commonwealth flights. The second phase is approaching with Comets and turbo-prop Britain's providing express jet and tourist services.

Show Profit
For the first time since the war BOAC showed a clear profit of $290,000 for the year ending March, 1953. For the previous year BOAC reported a profit of $3,450,000 but since this had to be set against a government subsidy grant of $4,200,000, the year's result was actually a loss. No government grant was received last year.

Thomas said BOAC's passenger list had increased from 250,173 in 1952 to 290,620. Total revenue was raised to $36,156,579, about $10,000,000, an improvement of 7.7 per cent on the previous year.

The year ended March 1953 was marked by impressive progress, he said: Civil jet flying was pioneered; low-fare tourist services were launched; the payload capacity had been considerably increased.

During this winter, British Comets will begin exploratory high-altitude flights above the North Atlantic.

Traffic Problems Are Considered At Congress

By BOB JOYCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MONTREAL, (CP) — The fight between private motorists and public transport companies spread to the floor of the International Municipal Congress Monday as some 800 Canadian and American mayors and delegates met to discuss traffic and transit problems.

Morris Edwards, president of the Cincinnati Transit Company and first of our American experts to speak at the afternoon traffic session, called for strict regulation of the "unmanageably large number of automobiles" to clear the streets for faster bus and street-car service.

"There is no fundamental reason why the right to use or store automobiles in congested areas in rush hours should not be progressively limited, as the necessities of particular local situations demand."

Mr. Edwards said that delays in downtown traffic are responsible for 10 per cent of the total operating costs of metropolitan transit systems, and play an important part in forcing transit companies to increase fares.

Modern transit vehicles — carrying 30 to 40 passengers — were the most efficient mover of people. They required no downtown storage.

Government Authorizes Vote By Ballot Of Employees Re Telephone Company Dispute

Arrangements were made yesterday at a special meeting of the Provincial Cabinet to permit the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to take a vote by ballot and thereby ascertain the wishes of employees of the Island Telephone Company in the present wage and hour dispute between the union and the company.

Premier A. W. Matheson, in announcing the decision of the Government yesterday, said that the terms and time of the vote would be fixed by the Provincial Secretary, Hon. William Hughes.

The Premier also stated that one week after the vote the result was to be certified by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council and to the officers of the trade union. He added that "any strike action then taken earlier than 15 days after this procedure will be deemed to be unlawful."

Under the Trade Union Act as contained in the Revised Statutes of Prince Edward Island a provision for Regulations states "the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may make regulations generally for the better carrying out of this Act."

Schooner Sinks In St. Lawrence

QUEBEC, (CP) — The 126-ton schooner Norsya struck a submerged wreck and foundered in the St. Lawrence River, 185 miles below Quebec early Saturday, it was learned here Monday night.

No loss of life nor injuries were reported among the seven crew members of the vessel that left Quebec Friday night with a load of wood for Freshwater Bay, Baffinland via Sagelick, Labrador.

The Norsya, commanded by Capt. W. T. Myalls of North Sydney, N.S., struck the wreck-age 12 miles north of Matane, Que., around 12:30 a.m., EDT Saturday.

Crew members abandoned the foundering schooner in lifeboats and reached shore at Baie des Sables, Que., 10 miles from the scene of the accident. They were brought back to Sydney during the week-end.

The vessel, owned by the Norsya Steamship Company of North Sydney, was a twin-propeller, wooden ship. She was 105 feet long.

Russia In New Demand For Ban On The A-Bomb

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (CP) — Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded Monday the immediate and unconditional prohibition of hydrogen and atomic bombs and all weapons of mass destruction.

In a resolution at the end of a speech to the United Nation General Assembly, the Soviet chief delegate proposed that the security council set up international controls to make certain countries comply with bans on such weapons.

Vishinsky also made a bid to admit neutrals to the Korean peace conference in line with demands by the Red Chinese. He attacked the United States for opposing Peiping's admission to the UN, urged a one-third cut in the armed forces of the big five powers, called for a disarmament conference, and demanded the elimination of U. S. military bases on foreign soil.

Except that he added the word "hydrogen" to take account of Russia's announcement last month that she now has the H-bomb secret, there was nothing new in Vishinsky's proposals. They all have been beaten by large majorities in the past. Western delegates said the same fate would await the latest Russian resolution.

AFL President Hits Hard At Eisenhower Gov't

ST. LOUIS, (AP) — AFL president George Meany said Monday that under the Eisenhower administration "human values have very definitely been submerged to the material welfare of the greedy few."

Meany's address at opening session of the annual AFL convention hit hard at administration policies and said labor unions must step up their political activity.

Delegates applauding Meany's sharp words included Martin Durkin, AFL Plumbers Union president who recently quit as secretary of labor in Eisenhower's cabinet. Durkin sat in a front seat.

Meany said he recently received a pamphlet prepared by the National Association of Manufacturers praising administration policies. He said the pamphlet came to him in a letter mailed free from the White House.

"Now I'm sure the N.A.M. can afford to buy a three-cent stamp," said Meany. "But maybe they feel they have taken over Washington to such an extent they are now an official part of the government."

Doukhobors End Hunger Strike

VANCOUVER, (CP) — The end of a 12-day hunger strike was celebrated in prison Monday with a borsch luncheon by more than 100 Doukhobors.

Borsch, a native Russian soup with red cabbage as its main ingredient, is a favorite with the Doukhobors.

For the first time since they were placed in Okalla prison in suburban Burnaby Sept. 10 the Doukhobors, members of the radical Sons of Freedom, accepted breakfast. They all took plenty of porridge, along with a variety of fruit juices.

Meanwhile, the trials continued in a Burnaby hall and by mid-afternoon 16 Doukhobor men and women had been convicted to bring the total to 45. Seven had charges of nude parading in public withdrawn.

Gunman Gets $5,000 From Ontario Bank

COBDEN, Ont., (CP) — A lanky, black-masked gunman, dressed in khaki overalls, slipped into the village Bank of Nova Scotia during a lull Monday, forced the cashier and bank manager against a wall and escaped with about $5,000 in cash.

The thief, apparently working alone, sped out of Cobden in a blue, late-model Dodge, bearing Ontario licence plates 5092L, bank manager Fred A. McCallum reported. The plates were stolen from a Carleton Place, Ont., used car lot last week, police said.

Police blocked all district roads, believing the gunman had headed for Portage du Fort, Que., about 16 miles east of Cobden, across the Ottawa River. But so far they have no trace of the man. Cobden is about 65 miles west of Ottawa.

Two Airmen Get Prison Terms On Theft Charges

MONTREAL, (CP) — An R.C.A.F. court martial has found two airmen guilty of stealing public funds and sentenced them to discharge and varying terms of imprisonment and detention.

Air transport headquarters said Monday that LAC J. E. LaPorte, 30, of Montreal was sentenced to discharge from the service and two years' imprisonment less one day and LAC J. J. Lamberte, 31, of Grande Riviere, Que., to eight months' detention.

The men were arrested with three others at Lachine airbase in July after an audit of accounts. Two other airmen were arrested later.

It was reported at the time about $4,500 was misappropriated. Most of the money was recovered. No official details of the appropriations were given but it was reported at the time of the arrests that pay cheques of the men involved were increased and cheques made out in the names of fictitious officers to cover the difference.

Five airmen still to be tried are: LAC T. Howard, 30, Victoria; two brothers AC C. Therien, 20, and LAC J. Y. R. Therien, 18, of St. Remi, Que.; LAC J. V. Brunelle of Brownsburg, Que.; and LAC J. L. P. Cote of Montreal.

Lesage Is Youngest In Federal Cabinet

By J. T. GRAY

TORONTO, (CP) — The coming ability of the United States to use the oceans as bomber bases "promises one of the most startling changes in military strategy since the invention of the atomic bomb," a report to the American Association of Port Authorities said Monday.

"Near-Revolution"
The report, drawn up by a committee on harbors and shipping, also predicted "a near-revolution" in transport operation because of the development of a jet hydro-ski wing seaplane.

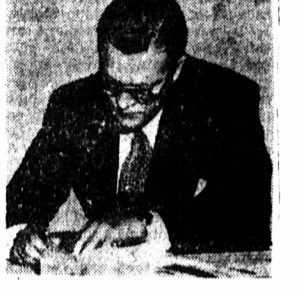

"Currently on the drawing board," said the report, "is a sketch of what may be the ultimate in air transportation: a gigantic delta wing airliner with hydro-skis, fast as sound or faster. Seated in a watertight hull, high above storms, its passengers will ride in a sound-free cabin, able to fly to the ends of the earth with the comforting thought that boundless runways are accompanying them down below."

The hydro-ski, a development of the water ski, can be let down and retracted and is designed to enable the plane "to land and take off in seas far rougher than anything an old-time flying boat could handle."

Long-range bombers now are handicapped because of their de-

Pearson paid tribute to the constructive and useful work Graydon had done for Canada, both at the UN and in external affairs business in the House of Commons.

Pearson said also that Graydon's death meant for him personally the loss of a friendship that went back to college days and the memory of which he would always cherish.

Graydon, who represented Peel in the Commons since 1935, was buried Monday at Brampton, Ont.
