"AGRICOLA'S" LETTER.

Sir,—Our local rulers seem to have a mill to manufacture denunciation of the teachers of this Province for having the temerity to remonstrate with the Government in regard to their supplementary allowances. The last grist turned out appears in the several Liberal journals over the signature of "Agricola." It seems a waste of energy on the part of the writer to furnish copies of the manuscript to the several favoured newspapers, when he could have adopted the practice often employed by writers of death-notices, by subjoining "Island papers please copy." "Agricola" considers that for the short time each day our teachers are employed, and the insignificant amount of labor performed, they have no reason to complain of the treatment accorded them by the present Government.

By the recent readjustment of the tax on property holders the entire increase on that portion of our population amounted to $821.76, whilst by the amendment to the School Act, the increased tax on 579 teachers amounted to $5,955.82 that being the sum paid last year, in supplements, the fact that Agricola regards this as being justice, it would be interesting to know in what schools he obtained his education, or by what moral code is he governed. It is passing strange that this writer does not attempt to reform our civil service, and demand that the officials in the Registry and Land offices, receiving from $600 to $1,000 per year, with acquisitions or responsibilities not equal to those of the district teacher, should not have their salaries reduced to $225, or by his silence on this point does he entertain the hope that his services may yet be called into requisition?

The youth that now attend our public schools are those who in a few years will be called on to take their places on the farm, in the workshop, in the commercial and professional walks of life, and in the halls of legislation. It is obvious that in preparing the rising generation for the eventual life that is before it, the school teacher occupies an important place, fraught with grave responsibility. Yet for that responsibility, coupled with the expense and mental labor incurred in order to fit him for the position he occupies, "Agricola" considers he is worthy of no greater remuneration than the ordinary wage-earner, who in the morning shoulders his stumping hoe and whose only mental strain is that he will not get hungry before dinner. Happily for this Province this theory, belongs to a school of a bygone age, of which "Agricola" is one of the few. He evidently is one of those individuals who has a monopoly of his own affections, without any person to dispute his title. His thoughts are centred on the living present. For him the future has no claims. Uninterested alike is he whether the children attending our public schools shall reap the reward of a wise, or suffer the disastrous consequences of an inefficient, education.

"Like the chirrup of the grass-hopper under the fern that makes the whole field resound with his importunate chink" let not "Agricola" vainly imagine that on this question he is the custodian of the farmers thoughts or the exponent of their opinions.

MARRIAGE THIS MORNING.

The marriage of Miss Fannie H. Longworth, youngest daughter of the late Henry Longworth, Esq., of Glynwood, and Mr. A. A. McLean, Q. C. was solemnized in St Paul's church at seven o'clock this morning. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. H. W. Longworth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Bryan, in the presence of a large number of the relatives of the contracting parties and other citizens. The church was very prettily decorated in honor of the occasion.

The bride wore a dark green travelling suit with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Davies, who wore a navy blue cloth dress, with cardinal trimmings and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of cardinal roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. James A. Hyndman.

The wedding presents were dainty, numerous and costly. The groom's gift to the bride was an elegant gold watch. To the bridesmaid he gave a handsome curb bracelet.

After the ceremony Mr and Mrs McLean left on a wedding tour which will include a visit to Montreal, Boston and other cities. They take with them the best wishes of a host of friends to which we add those of THE EXAMINER.

How many young men and young women are cut off just as the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.
