United States Census Returns.

A Washington despatch says the Census Bureau reports there were 40,000,000 farms in the United States at the end of 1870. The increase of 51 per cent, since 1870. The increase in the number of farms has been the greatest in the Western States and Territories. Wool manufacturing establishments in the United States at the end of May, 1880 were 2,684; capital invested, $159,644,000, hands employed, 161,000; wool consumed, 296,190,000 pounds; value of products, $267,639,000. The number of males of voting age in the United States in 1880 was 12,830,347, of whom 11,343,000 were white, and 1,487,000 colored.

Lecture on Education.

MR. D. MONTGOMERY, Chief Superintendent of Education, favored the residents of Brown's Creek, with an interesting and instructive lecture on "Education," a short time ago. His lectures seem to be highly appreciated by all those who are delivered on a subject which holds a prominent place in the minds of the learned at the present day. A decided advancement is already noticed in the different localities in which he has thus rendered his service, in the interest that parents take in securing, at a higher cost, the service of efficient teachers, and providing ample accommodation, independent of the well-being of their schools. In the course of his lecture, Mr. Montgomery dwelt largely on the method of teaching the different subjects taught in our schools, and the necessity of the physical and intellectual training as well as inculcating moral principles in the pupils.

M. M. Brown's Creek, June 27, 1882.

Gambetta's Egyptian Policy.

The revelations of the long expected yellow-book on Egypt, which was distributed to-day, have dealt a terrible, if not a crushing, blow at M. Gambetta. It is now perfectly clear that from his accession to office until his downfall he had been persistently urging the English Government to adopt a joint course with France in Egypt, which led in the long run to the armed joint intervention in Cairo. The correspondence published in the yellow book shows with no less clearness that Lord Granville steadily, even contemptuously, refused to pledge England to M. Gambetta's policy, though as a mark of ordinary deference to France he had consented to endorse the joint note addressed to the Egyptian Government in January. In an interview with M. Challeme Lacour on January 17th, he even went so far as to say, textually, that in adhering conditionally to M. Gambetta's suggestions, he had never supposed that they would oblige the slightest utility. And yet, spite of all, M. Gambetta was, or professed to be, all along convinced that at the bottom France and England were in perfect accord in Egypt, and prepared in case of need for joint armed as well as moral intervention. M. de Freycinet's policy has not been consistently dignified, but at least it has not been blind. M. Gambetta's policy seems to have been both blind and deliberately foolish. Carried to its logical issue it would have left France alone face to face with Europe and Egypt.

Political Notes.

A recount before the County Judge of Bothwell has resulted in Mills being elected by twelve majority. It is probable the election will be contested. The Algoma election takes place July 5th. Dawson and McDougall are nominated. It is rumored in Ottawa that Holtz will resign Chateaugay and give Huntington a chance. The Ottawa organ of the Opposition pays the following compliment to the patriotism of the grits of Cumberland which will doubtless be duly appreciated. It says: "It is now ascertained that by subsidizing the Chicago Ship Railway to the tune of $150,000 a year for 20 years, Sir Chas. Tupper bought off all the opposition in Cumberland County and was elected by acclamation." Sir John Macdonald received a majority in every ward in Napanee and in every township in Lennox but one. In 1878, Napanee gave Sir Richard a majority. The people of Lennox have a queer way of expressing want of confidence in the Premier and the Government.

The Halifax Herald wants to know where the money came from which was so lavishly used in the Grit interest in the late elections. It says that in the city, money was used in the most unblushing manner. In King's an expenditure of $16,000 is said to have taken place in "missionary expenses." In Hants, at several of the polling places as high as $30 was paid for a vote. In Shelburne, Queen's, Annapolis and Guysboro, the same agency was used most lavishly, and so all along the line. In St. John, it is well known that money flowed like water in the effort to defeat the Finance Minister. Before the elections it was generally stated, and apparently on good authority, that Yankee manufacturers had subscribed large sums of money to defeat the National Policy party in Canada with the view of getting back the Canadian markets for their manufactures; and certainly the supplies of money with which the Opposition were everywhere furnished, show that the statement was a true one. There is no doubt that the Government losses in Nova Scotia were largely due to the fact that Sir Charles Tupper was, during the last ten days of the campaign, confined to his bed by illness. But for this the result would have been very different. His presence in the constituencies would have turned defeat into victory in at least four of them, which have been claimed by Grits by very narrow majorities. As it is the result in that Province is a splendid tribute to the confidence and esteem in which the veteran leader of the Liberal-Conservative party in Nova Scotia is held. The Montreal Gazette says:—"In Prince Edward Island, in Queen's County, the election of Mr. Davies appears to have been a personal compliment to himself rather than a verdict in favor of his principles. The aggregate Conservative majority in the County was 388; and while Mr. Davies secured his election by a majority of 38, Mr. Laird, who may be said to have represented the Grit policy in his own person, fell behind his colleague in the race by nearly five hundred votes. With any other candidate than Mr. Davies, the Grits in Queen's County would have been beaten out of sight."
