W. M. Rally At Valleyfield

The eastern rally of the Women's Missionary Society was held at Valleyfield on Wednesday, June 22, with 75 delegates and five ministers in attendance. Mrs. J. M. Fraser, Presbyterial Associate members secretary, presided.

Members from the Murray Harbour Auxiliary conducted the opening worship on the theme, "Go ye into all the World." The organist was Mrs. Billy Bruce, Valleyfield. The welcome to the delegates was given by Mrs. Billy Bruce, Valleyfield, and was responded to by Mrs. Higginbotham, Montague.

Mrs. Hardy, Supply Secretary, stressed the need of clothing for overseas, especially for men and children, also the need for school books and Christian literature for Trinidad Mission. The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. Thompson, showed total cash received to June 15 as $3,785.35, an increase of $144.47 over last year. In the C. G. I. T. report Montague group received special mention. Report showed six groups affiliated and the sum of $46.00 (special object) sent to Vellore Medical College.

Mrs. Erwin reported 35 active Mission Bands and 83 new ones organized and asked that it be the aim of every auxiliary to have a Mission Band in their congregation. Miss MacKinnon spoke on Baby Bands, stressing the importance of training children at an early age and having mothers and children meet together for study and worship.

Results of Home Training for Christian Influences" was read by Mrs. MacKinnon.

Four members of Valleyfield Mission Band sang "Gentle Jesus Meek and Mild," and Fay Fraser, granddaughter of the Rev. A. C. Fraser, sang a solo, "Jesus Loves Me."

Mrs. Fraser of Hamilton brought greetings from the Hamilton Auxiliary, telling how their meetings were conducted and of their W. M. S. work.

An inspiring and challenging address was given by the Presbyterial president, Mrs. F. W. Cutcliffe, her theme being "The Woman With A Message." In her talk she called on all women to be Christ's twentieth century disciples, witnessing for him in speech as well as in our living, dedicating ourselves to Christ's extension, in the home, community and the world, and so do our part in the great work for which Christ gave His all.

A selection by Valleyfield ladies, "My Jesus I Love Thee," was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Fraser introduced Mrs. R. P. MacCormack, representative of the Dominion Board, who gave an interesting and informative report. Mrs. MacCormack also spoke of the great need of workers in the church. With 52 new workers needed we have only three to send. She called on parents and leaders to co-operate in encouraging young people in becoming full time workers in the church.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

Some animals actually leave their youngsters with a babysitter while they're away for a while. Rocky mountain sheep frequently operate nurseries. The mothers take turns shepherding the flock of young fry while the other mothers go about other affairs. There's no way to judge how many men enjoy going to dinner parties. But undoubtedly many men feel the same as Calvin Coolidge did. At a party he was seated next to Alice Roosevelt Longworth. She did her best to get the silent Coolidge into conversation, but with no success. He just sat and ate silently. Finally Mrs. Longworth got so exasperated she asked: "You go to so many dinners — they must bore you a great deal. Without lifting his eyes from his plate, Coolidge calmly replied: "Well, a man has to eat some place."

This will make you sit up and take notice. Edgar M. Burchell, who through painstaking work and study, became one of the world's leading bacteriologists though he began life as a janitor, is 838 Roslake College gave the former janitor an honorary degree of doctor of science. The citation read: Mr. Burchell has never attended college. Yet he is a scientist of world renown. Through his research in his quiet lab, he has wrought mightily for his fellow man. Adding new discoveries to medical science and constantly relieving suffering."

Montague Jr. Trade Board

The Montague Junior Board of Trade has completed a major project, setting up roadside tables at the foot of Bell's Hill about three miles from Montague. The Junior Board of Trade secured the site from Mr. Milton Fraser who generously donated the use of the land for the purpose. For weeks the members of the board worked at cleaning the area, cutting down trees, stumping, limbing trees to be left standing, grading the area and making a driveway. The area cleared is about 75 feet long and 50 feet deep. Two tables have been set up and painted in the organization's colors, yellow and green.

The provision of fresh water was made possible through the kind services of MacLeod and Greene who dug the well, and the board then constructed a cement block pillar on which to place the pump. The site was a carefully chosen in that it is on a well-travelled highway, is picturesque and is subject to further development. Two small streams join at the site to flow into Dewar's mill pond. It is hoped that later the board will remove trees on the north side to be replaced by a fine parking place for cars, and a rustic bridge will be constructed across the stream leading to the tables. Adequate signs indicating the presence of roadside tables have been placed at the top of Bell's hill and Munn's hill. It is the hope of the Junior Board of Trade that the travelling public will make full use of the facilities provided at this site.

One day not long ago Mrs. Harold Douglas of West St. Peters, one of the assistant cooks at the lobster factory at Savage Harbour, took sick and was unable to carry on with her duties. The chief cook called for volunteers to take over Mrs. Douglas's duties for the day. No ladies were available so the clarion call was directed to the men's quarters. Quickly Allen Doyle offered to fill the role and as he donned the white cap and apron he was a sight to gladden the heart of any mother and cause a fluttering in the breasts of younger ladies.

Allen soon found he had more than his hands full. He shouted for more help and Mike McKenna donned the hat and gown to aid his pal. Soon they were both overwhelmed with work and the third call was sent out. Har-

Hams Hear No Word From Raft

HALIFAX (CP)—Amateur radio fans around the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence listened vainly Saturday and Sunday for reports from four young men drifting about somewhere in the gulf on a raft.

The men on a cedar-log raft named L'Egare (the Lost One) were supposed to signal their whereabouts at dawn and sunrise with their hand-operated radio transmitter during their attempt to cross the Atlantic.

Britt Fader, local amateur operator, said Sunday night no reports had been heard by the 25 or 30 hams who call in on their network every night. He said they were on the alert for L'Egare, and with the raft's transmitter range of 300 miles "somebody should get them."

Mr. Fader said hams in New Brunswick had also been alerted. The air force said its search and rescue unit here had heard nothing either.

The raft entered the gulf from the St. Lawrence river Friday. Aboard are skipper Henri Beaudou, 28; Benard Saruel, 24; Gaston Venacker, 28; all natives of Quebec, and Paul Lapointe, 24, a French Canadian.

and family will leave shortly for Toronto where she will join her husband who is employed in that city.
