BRENNAN-McDONALD WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED

A very pretty winter wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Holy Family, Kensington, when Miss Patricia McDonald and Mr. Alfred Brennan were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McDonald, Kensington, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Michael Brennan, Spring Valley, and the late Mr. Brennan. The bridesmaid was Miss Louise Brennan and the best man was Mr. Gerald Glover. The ushers were Mr. Joseph McDonald and Mr. Adolphus MacKinnon.

Millar - Crossman Wedding Is Solemnized At Bedeque

Central Bedeque United Baptist parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Saturday, March 15th, at 3 p.m., when Dr. Charles A. Britten united in the holy bonds of matriomony; Miss June Burns Crossman and Mr. John Irving Millar, both of Summerside. Mrs. Keith Dennis acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Vernon Millar, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the marriage the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Hamilton, Niagara Falls Ont. and other places of interest.

Previous to their marriage the bride was on the staff of MacAusland Furniture Ltd. and the groom was employed as electrician with Inman's Plumbing and Heat ng Co. Upon their return they will take up residence in their new home in Summerside. Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Millar, parents of the groom, and the bride's mother Mrs. Ernest Crossman.

Dumplings Can Be Used With The Bacon And Eggs

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"For today, Madame, I am preparing a lamb stew a la mode," announced the Chef. "It is differnt from the usual lamb stew, because it has the same kind of seasoning used in France in preparing beef or lamb a la mode. What style dumpings would be appropriate — Chinese, Hungarian, Italian, German?"

"Let's have American - style dumpings, Chef," I suggested. "Puffy dumplings, containing grated vegetables and a little thyme for seasoning. They look so attractive bordering a deep platter or dish of stew.

"In fact, I often make an extra quantity so some will be left to use next day."

"Don't you find the dumplings too heavy to serve again, Madame?"

THEY ABSORB LIQUID

"They would be if they were refrigerated in the steww because they absorb liquid. But I refrigerate them separate,y. Next day, I slice them crosswise, about half an inch thick, and saute them on both sides in butter or margarine.

"They make a nice accompaniment to bacon for breakfast."

Tomorrow's Dinner: Egg and vegetable salad, lamb a la mode, dumping stew, warm pumpkin pie, cheese, coffee, tea or milk.

All measurements are level; recipes proportioned to serve 4 to 6.

Lamb a la Mode Dumpling Stew: At least 6 hrs. in advance of cooking, combine 2½ lbs. lean stewing lamb cut in 1 in. cubes, ¼ c. mild vinegar, ¾ c. cider, 3 chopped, peeled medium onions and ¾ tsp. pickle spice. Cover. Refrigerate until ready to cook.

Drain the lamb, but strain and reserve the spiced liquid. Dust the meat with 1½ tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. pepper.

Put in a heavy kettle or Dutch oven. Add the spiced liquid, and 1 qt. beef broth or 4 c. water and 4 crushed beef bouillon cubes.

Cover; simmer-boil about 1½ hrs. or until fork-tender.

Let stand 15 min. Then skim off excess fat from the liquid.

To thicken, stir in 2 tbsp. flour, smooth-blended with 2 tbsp. cold water. Cook-stir 2 min. Drop in puffy vegetable dumplings. Cover Slow-boil 12-15 min.

Puffy Vegetable Dumplings: Sift together 2 c. enriched flour, 4 tsp. double-acting baking powder, ¾ tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. powdered thyme.

Melt ¼ c. shortening. Add a minced, seeded small green pepper, 1 minced, peeled small onion and ½ c. coarse-grated raw carrot. Slow-saute until fork-tender.

Stir into the flour mixture. Add 2-3 c. milk or water.

Add to stew as above.

Transfer to a lightly floured board. Pat to ½ in. thickness. Cut into 2 in. rounds with a floured biscuit cutter. Drop into the boiling stew and simmer-boil 12-15 min.

Trick of the Chef—For new flavor use coriander seed instead of pickling spice in preparing lamb a la mode.

TRINITY CHURCH BOY CHOIRSTERS

The singing of the Junior Boys' Choir of the Trinity United Church Charlottetown, under the direction of Royston F. Mugford, A.R.C.O., was a delightful feature of the Portrait to Fashion at the annual Parade of Spring Fashions. The boys sang "O, Perfect Love, All Human Thought Transcending" before the entrance of the bridal party. They immediately set a mood of dignity and solemnity similar to that of a church and their lovely singing enchanted their listeners.

MARY HAWORTH

Craves Proof Of His Love

Dear Mary Haworth: I am 29, a college graduate, and my husband is a medical doctor the same age. We have two children and expect another in August. We have full time help and enough money to buy the things we desire.

When we get time off from Jack's work we go out of town. Last fall we went to a football game with several couples. On arrival at the hotel, Jack went to sleep in our room, without consulting me or the group. We window-shopped while he slept. That night and next morning I was furious; it seems he never asks what I want to do.

Last New Year's, we went to a ranch with a group. Jack went to bed at 11 p.m. I had hoped we'd have time together for loafing, talking, enjoying each other —as all my pleasure comes from him. But it seems he doesn't need or enjoy me as much as I do him. If he really loved me, wouldn't he ask what would please me—and do it.

SAYS HE'S TIRED

After these tremendous disappointments, I talk to him. He says he is tired, and that he didn't do anything wrong. I ask for some personal attentions, to show he likes or needs my company. (At home the phone rings constantly, or the children are always underfoot). He says the problem isn't lack of attention, but my underlying resentment towards him.

Jack does love me and knows I love him; but these episodes are unbearable to us and leave us depressed for several days. When I feel neglected by Jack, how can I avoid getting mentally sick? I don't believe he will change; so I must become secure in his love . . . I seem to be always wanting his love; and he seems never to need mine.

Jack says love is an attitude; and that these little attentions I want are not the measures of love. Thank you for any help you can give us. A.B.

Dear A.B.: Both you and Jack have something to learn, about the patterns of mutual accomodation required in marriage, to make a good relationship. And you may pick up the necessary information by reading Dr. Alexander Magoun's classic Love and Marriage (Harpers); and Wingfield Hope's inspired Life Together (Sheed and Ward).

You feel that Jack is selfish and neglectful. But I suspect that he is bored and defensive, rather because you allow him so little margin for doing the courting in marriage.

Your habitual beef that he isn't adequately gallant and attentive —your sighs and hints and hungry manoeuvers for more of his love—tend to smother his enthusiasm for pleasing you in that respect.

Your insistence upon the importance of little attentions and social proofs (for the world to see) that he "needs and likes" your company, is evidence of picayune self-love, more than mate love, I feel. Your concept of marriage is adolescent and self-centered—case of being the belle n a date, with an anxiously hopeful swain in tow.

TOO MUCH TIME

Jack is a bit foggy in saying "Love is an attitude." Rather, it is a commitment; a decision of the will. But of course the 'ecision has to be translated into behavior; and true love is consistently kind. It is thoutthful, considerate, other-centered. And the wise wife sets the pace of what she hopes to receive, on the score of gracious sympathetic appreciation from her man.

To correct your sick bias, learn to help your husband feel freely at ease, comfortable, happy, just being himself, in your company —regardless of his selfish lapses, if any. In short, practice the other centered attitude, the whole hearted desire to give joy to your spouse, not on your terms, but his. (Always within the bounds of moral propriety, of course.)

Recognize also that ocmparative idleness is part of your problem. You have household help and enough money to satisfy material wants, which leaves time on your hands, and a question of what to worry about. Pitch into community good works, on behalf of urgently needed folks — and thus get your mind off self. M.H.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Be very careful in running electrical appliance cords under a rug. Choose a path that will avoid wear and tear from feet of furniture or from much traffic. Otherwise the friction may wear the insulation, baring the wires dangerously.

TEN MILE HOUSE W.I.

The monthly meeting of the Ten Mile House Women's Institute was held on March 4 at the home of Mrs. Leo Mullen with eight members present.

The meeting opened with the ode followed by the creed in unison. The Roll Call was answered by a sale of patches which amounted to $3.75. Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read and discussed. Correspondence was read and discussed. A donation of $2.00 was voted to be sent to Mrs. R. L. Burge in aid of the Ceylon disaster fund.

It was moved and seconded that the deceased members of the Institute have their names inscribed in a Book of Remembrance.

A report from the school nurse, Miss MacKay, was heard, and a card of thanks was also read from the Walsh family.

Mrs. B. McQuaid received payment of $2.00 for monthly cleaning of the school. The sick and school committees were heard from and the same committees were appointed for March with Mrs. B. McQuaid on the programme.

It was decided to have a card play at the home of Mrs. Leo Mullen and a lunch committee was appointed. Proceeds from the card party at Mrs. B. McQuaid's nette: $16.52.

Roll call for next meeting is to be answered by paying a penny for each letter in your name. A programme consisting of a contest was put on by Mrs. Leo Mullen and won by Mrs. Daniel O-'Connell.

Mrs. Bernard McInnis invited the members to her home for the April meeting. Meeting closed with the "Queen" followed by a delicious lunch served by the hostess.

PAY NOT IMPORTANT

EASTBOURNE, England (Reuters) — Britain's salesgirls aren't overly concerned about pay increases — a happy store means more to them, a conference of store managers was told. A survey showed wage increases came eighth in what girls wanted. Pleasant working conditions and a chance of promotion were most important.

IRISHTOWN W.I.

The March meeting of the Irishtown W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Stavert with the president in the chiar. 14 members were present. Roll call was responded to by giving an Irish Joke or paying a fine, 35 cents was paid in fines.

In the absence of the Secretary the treasurer was appointed to record the business of this meeting. The sick committee reported several calls made in the district. New committee appointed consists of: Mrs. Cecil Campbell, Mrs. Harold MacLeod, Mrs. Archie Johnstone.

The school committee reported $9.16 spent on hot lunches and offered to carry on the lunches for March. $5.00 was given to them for same. Also a donation of $1.00 from a former member toward lunches.

The monthly committee reported $25.16 proceeds from 2 card parties. 26.75 from a pot luck supper held in the hall followed by an enjoyable mixed program. There were no bills to be paid.

A "thank you" letter was read from Mrs. Jack Evans for treats sent to her during her illness. On motion it was approved that the W.I. send a quilt and other personal gifts to a newly married couple of the district, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Wall. The collection amounted to 75 cents.

April meeting place to be decided later. A box of Red Cross sewing and knitting was distributed among the members. A reading on "The Task of Education" was given by Mrs. H.B. MacLeod and one on "Our Responsibility as Christian Citizens" by Mrs. Borden Campbell.

EVERYBODY WILL LOVE TASTY Bacon & Cheese Ring!

Fry together, then drain well
8 slices cut-up side bacon
½ cup finely-chopped onion
Sift together once, then into bowl
2 c. once-sifted pastry flour or 1¾ c. once-sifted all-purpose flour
4 tsps. Magic Baking Powder
½ tsp. salt
few grains cayenne
Cut in finely
¼ c. chilled shortening
Mix in
¾ c. shredded cheddar cheese
3 tbsps. finely-chopped parsley
Make well in dry ingredients; add ⅔ c. milk
and mix lightly with a fork, adding milk, if necessary, to make a soft dough. Knead 10 seconds on floured board. Roll out to 9-x 16-inch rectangle.
Combine bacon chips, onions and
¼ c. chili sauce
Spread on dough. Beginning at a long edge, roll up jelly-roll fashion. Bring ends together to form a ring; seal. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Cut 1-inch slices almost through to centre with scissors; turn each slice partly on its side. Bake in a hot oven, 450°, 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 1 ring.
