make ourselves more obnoxious." This is exactly the spirit which animated the Orange blackguards of Canada, who had the word "loyalty" continually on their lips—just as their brethren here have—when they grossly insulted the Prince of Wales by declaring that they would force him to walk under their tawdry arches, in spite of the declarations to the contrary made by his Royal Highness through the Duke of Newcastle, and when they chased him from town to town, in order, if possible, to carry out their disloyal purpose, preventing his Royal Highness from landing in several parts of the Province which he wished to see.

If His Excellency the Lieut. Governor will pass by in silence the above threat, which is, to say the least, very derogatory to Her Majesty, we must conclude that His Excellency is either prepared to go the whole figure with the Orangemen for the propagation of their disloyal and infamous principles, or that he is regarded as a mere automaton by the disloyal fraternity. His Excellency may learn this fact for his comfort, from the pen of his Orange Secretary—that if he had not assented to the Orange Bill, Orangeism would have flourished here in spite of him. His Excellency's influence, we fear, must be very small in this Colony, and Orange impudence very great, when His Excellency will virtually allow himself to be snubbed, and offensive braggadocia used towards the Queen, with perfect impunity.

RAISING THE WIND.

THE present Orange Government have adopted some droll expedients for raising the wind. We fear they will go a very small way towards liquidating the debt of forty thousand pounds which they have incurred since they came into office, a little more than four years ago. Two of these expedients were, the passing of a Bill to sell the Government Pews in St. Paul's Church, and also a Bill to sell the Barrack buildings and Square, which are Imperial property. Some time ago, this property was placed at the disposal of the local Government by the Imperial authorities, but the despatch of the Colonial Minister by which this concession was announced, does not express one word to show that the Barrack Square might be cut up in patches of small building lots and sold to private individuals. Our wise Government pretend to be mightily anxious for the enrollment of a Volunteer Force, through whose bravery and efficiency we may be able to repel foreign invasion; but the only piece of ground we have about the town suitable for defensive operations, and in which our Volunteer Force may be reviewed or drilled, is proposed to be parcelled out in building lots, if the Home Government will assent to the Bill, which we think they will never do.

Another expedient for raising the wind was the sale of the Hospital near Government House. That building cost the Colony over one hundred and fifty pounds; it was sold a few weeks ago for eighteen pounds. This is admirable economy. Should any infectious disease be brought into our community, where are the unfortunate patients to be put? That is a question which evidently does not alarm our Government.

So that for the sake of a few pounds to our public Treasury, religion is put up for sale in St. Paul's Church—foreign aggression is winked at in the proposed sale of the Barrack Square; and the public health is put in peril for the want of a proper hospital in the suburbs of the Town.

WE are distressed to learn that our friend, Mr. D. Currie, reputed editor of the Monitor, is suffering severely from the heat of the weather, so much so that he cannot, as he says, reply to an article in the last Examiner. We suspected as much from the recent change in the personal adornment of the learned gentleman. That white beaver has been very wisely doffed, which, though it gracefully crowned his "dome of thought and palace of the soul," must have been painful to a head so sensitive and delicate as the owner's. The cane, too, we are happy to learn, has been laid aside, for though it made, no doubt, very ingenious curves in the air, the continual flourishing of it excited too much muscular action for a gentleman in delicate health, just on the eve of the dog days. One singular effect of the excessive heat on Mr. Currie's mind is, that his thoughts ramble strangely and incoherently about plank roads and Dens' Theology. It is understood in private circles that the notion of the plank road pressed heavily for the first time upon Mr. Currie's heated imagination a few months ago, when he and the other officials were worked into quite a fever under the apprehension that they would be made to walk the plank as soon as the elections were over. Dens' Theology, at least such parts of it as Mr. Pope has picked out and distorted for his secret perusal and that of his friends, is not a good book to read in hot weather, if it be calculated to excite one's bad passions, as Mr. Pope says it is. If Mr. Currie would take a friend's advice, we would say to him—Try to forget the plank road, until the next general election at least—put away Dens' Theology, as well as the white beaver and cane; and if it is necessary that you should have some reading matter that will not disturb the brain to any dangerous extent, take up a file of the Monitor, and try to read the Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald's letters on Popery, from beginning to end. We don't expect you will be able to get through them; but the only effect they can have upon you is to put you sound asleep, and sleep is the best thing for a gentleman in your case during this hot weather.

Some censorious people say that the reason why Mr. Currie suffers from the heat is, that he has panted in the full glare of official sunshine much longer than he expected, labouring under the weight of an enormous salary. We don't believe it. But if there be any truth in the assertion, and if the advice above given have not the desired effect of restoring to the learned gentleman the full control of his faculties, we shall then recommend that he be carried body and soul into the cool shades of the Opposition.

THE Halifax Reporter, of the 6th inst., most emphatically denies, in the following terms, that it has been solicited to write those notices of P. E. Island affairs which lately excited the ire and untruthfulness of the Monitor and Protestant:

"The statement, that we have been solicited to write and publish the opinions copied into the Vindicator and Examiner is as false as it is absurd, and no one knows this better than the writer himself. This assertion that our notices of Island affairs excite in his mind no other feelings than those of supreme contempt, need surprise no one who knows anything of the Monitor's antecedents. That paper's contempt of the truth is notorious."

The apologists of our Orange Government are in a bad way for an excuse to account for the indignant expression of opinion on the part of Colonial and British journals against the bigots and fanatics of this Island.

☞ THE writer of the communication, noticed in our last, on the laying of the Corner Stone of the Wesleyan Chapel, having frankly given us his name, and permitted us to erase some words which were deemed objectionable, we now publish it, under the proper heading, in its corrected form; but even as it is, the reader will please to understand that we do not at all commit ourselves to the opinions which it contains.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Hon. Arthur Gordon, Lieut. Governor of New Brunswick, is now on a visit to this Island, and is the guest of His Excellency Lieut. Governor Dundas. Mr. Gordon is spoken of in very high terms by the New Brunswick press as an estimable gentleman, and a popular and constitutional ruler. A scion of the illustrious house of Aberdeen might be fairly expected to possess those qualities which would make him a worthy representative of his Royal Mistress.

NEWS FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

BY the United States Mail on Saturday night we have obtained the following news relating to the progress of the war, from which it will be seen that the fortunes of the heroic Vicksburg are not much changed, either for the worse or the better.

BANGOR, June 12.

Unofficial from Grant to 8th represent a siege favorably progressing. Vicksburg deserters still speak of lack of provisions; women and children hiding in caves from Federal fire.

Small Confederate force attacked Federals at Young's Point and Miliken's Bend driving them to the river, when they were repulsed. Two or three colored regiments constituted principal Federal force.

Reported that several thousand refugees from conscription are entrenched in mountains of North Carolina, defying Confederate authorities. North Carolina papers complain of bad faith of the Confederacy towards the State.

New military department of Monongahela, formed for protection of Pennsylvania. Gen. Couch is to command it.

Confederate pirate Coquette destroyed barque Whistling Wind, 6th, with cargo of coal for New Orleans. Coquette was formerly Challenge, captured by the Florida.

BANGOR, June 12.

Louisville Journal says Grant is still being largely reinforced.

Immense democratic State Convention in Ohio nominated Vallandigham for Governor and denounced his arrest.

Confederate loss at Port Hudson reported 600.

Spirited engagement occurred at Monticello, Ky., on 10th; Confederates defeated. Federal loss, 30 killed and wounded.

Reported troops from Blackwater, North and South Carolina, and elsewhere, have been hurried up to Lee who contemplates a grand and desperate effort to annihilate Hooker.

Stuart's official papers, captured in the recent cavalry engagement, indicate that offensive movements were on foot.

Federals retain possession of flats near Fredericksburg unmolested.

MATTERS IN VICKSBURG.

On the 28th a rebel soldier named George S. Douglass, belonging in Mason county, Ill., who professed to have been dispatched by Gen. Pemberton with a letter to Gen. Johnston, came into our lines and gave himself up. The substance of the letter he bore is given as follows:

"An urgent demand for help. Number of reinforcements required, 30,000—advising retreat if he could not bring that number upon Grant's rear within ten days—number of troops in Vicksburg, 18,000—on hand, thirty days' rations for the garrison, one meal a day—ammunition scarce, particularly gun caps. Douglass was further instructed to ascertain the exact number of Johnston's army, and report as speedily as possible."

In regard to the state of affairs in Vicksburg, Douglass made the following representation:

"He says there are 18,000 fighting men in Vicksburg, commanded by Generals Pemberton, Stevenson, Reynolds, Bowen, Forney, Morris, Lee and M. L. Smith. Pemberton is chief in command, and exceedingly unpopular. It is surmised that he thinks of surrendering. Referring to this, Bowen said in his (Douglass's) hearing, 'that if Pemberton made the first movement toward giving up the city, he would hang him as high as Haman.' The evident policy of Pemberton will be, when he is satisfied that all hopes of succor from Johnston are gone, to break out through our lines on the left, and endeavor to cut his way through to Big Black.

"The damage to Vicksburg occasioned by the fire of our guns and mortars is immense. He estimates that at least one-fifth of the city is destroyed. Up to Wednesday at 12 o'clock, the names of 100 women and children were reported at the Provost Marshall's office, who were killed by the explosion of our missiles in different parts of the city. Among these is said to have been the wife of Pemberton himself.

"The depot and court houses are but slightly injured: the jail is nearly destroyed. The largest magazine, containing three quarters of the shot and shell in Vicksburg, is blown up; horses, cattle and mules are killed, and a large number of houses burned.

"On the day of the assault, 2000 were killed and wounded, including 18 Colonels and Lieut. Colonels. The day after (Saturday) Col. T. N. Wall, Col. Lee Willis, Col. Rogley, Major Cameron, Adjutant Williams, Adjutant Parker, Capt. Hoge and Capt. Stahl—all officers of the Texas Legion—were seated, chatting pleasantly in the shade at the angle of the fort opposite Logan's heavy battery, when a shell from it exploded in their midst and killed them all. Wall and Willis were literally blown in fragments.

"On the 22d inst. eight Georgia and Tennessee regiments refused to fight and fell back when ordered into the rifle pits. Louisiana, Texas and Missouri soldiers are considered reliable."

CAVALRY FIGHT ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Times despatch, dated Beverly Ford, evening of the 9th, says you can record the greatest cavalry fight of the war. —Gen. Pleasanton this morning crossed the Rappahannock in two columns, his right at Beverly Ford and his left at Kelly's Ford, six miles below. The Fords were captured without loss. Beverly Ford was taken by a spirited dash of the 8th Illinois and 8th New York, and we were on the south side before the enemy were aware of it. Gen. Gregg took Kelly's Ford with a slight skirmish and no loss. The right column was under Gen. Buford, and he had proceeded only a mile from the river when he came upon Jones's whole brigade, who had just shaken themselves out of their sleep in time to get ready to receive us. The fight now commenced and continued from 5 a. m. to 3 p. m., by which time the entire force of Stuart, consisting, according to papers found in their camps, of 12,000 cavalry and 16 pieces of artillery, had been engaged and driven back three miles on the right and five miles on the left with heavy loss, our forces forming a junction near Brandy station. At 2 p. m. the fighting of both columns under Gens. Buford and Gregg was very gallant, not a single instance of misbehavior occurred. The grandest charge of the day was made by the 6th Pennsylvania cavalry, supported by the 6th Regulars, when they dashed on a whole brigade of the enemy and were taken in flank by another brigade, and though thoroughly overpowered gallantly cut their way out. Two of Gen. Gregg's brigades, under Col. Wyndham and Col. Kilpatrick, had hot work all the morning, but drove the enemy from the river to Brandy Station. The rebels were numerically superior to us, including our small supporting force of infantry. Notwithstanding this we drove them back handsomely, and captured 200 prisoners and one stand of colors. They had five large brigades under the command of Fitz Hugh Lee, W. T. H. Lee, Jones, Field and Robinson, with 16 pieces of artillery under Major Beckham. They had been reviewed the previous day by Gen. Lee, and were under orders to leave on their grand raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania, to-morrow (Wednesday) morning. Important papers were captured in the camp of Jones's brigade, showing the strength of the whole force and its intentions.

The fight was discontinued about 3 o'clock, the rebels falling upon strong infantry supports, which came up by rail from Culpepper, supposed to be part of Longstreet's force, which from letters taken we learn was in that vicinity on Saturday.

Our forces returned almost unmolested to this side of the river during the afternoon. The enemy declined to make any further attempts to regain their lost ground. We lost several valuable officers.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT OF NOVA SCOTIA.—The Halifax Colonist, a Johnston-Tupper organ, contains the following:—

"We understand that the names of the following gentlemen will be submitted to-day by the Hon. Mr. Johnston to His Excellency, to form an Administration for the Province:—Hon. J. W. Johnston, Attorney General; Dr. Tupper, Provincial Secretary; W. A. Henry, Esq., Solicitor General; Hon. Jas. McNab, Receiver General; Isaac LeVisconte, Esq., Financial Secretary; John McKinnon, Esq.; Thos. Killam, Esq.; Alex. McFarlane, Esq.; S. L. Shannon, Esq. It is also rumored that Jas. McDonald, Esq., is to be Railway Commissioner. We are authorized to state that the Ministerial elections will come off immediately."

Accounts from Sydney, Australia, represent that a fearful drought has prevailed there. In some localities there had been no rain for fourteen months, and the cattle had died by thousands.

The oldest newspaper in the world is published in Pekin. It is printed on a large sheet of silk, and it is said, has made a weekly appearance for upwards of a thousand years!

The letters that spell debt are the initials of the sentence, "Dun Every Body Twice;" and the letters that spell credit are the initials of the sentence, "Call Regularly Every Day—I'll Trust."

A farmer in Chutcoughe, Long Island, while ploughing recently, turned up sixty-one silver table spoons, which weighed 183 ounces. Some think they are part of the buried treasures of Captain Kidd, "as he sailed," and quite an excitement has in consequence been got up in that locality.

ARRIVAL OF THE ENGLISH MAIL.

THE English Mail, with dates to the 30th ult., arrived here from Pictou on Friday morning last. There appears to be no change of any importance in European affairs. We give in another column a summary of the news.

☞ WE are indebted to Turner's American Express, Prince William Street, St. John, N. B., for a Boston paper of Thursday last, full of interesting reading. Many thanks. We shall reciprocate the compliment as far as may be in our power.

THE DANGERS AND DEFENCES OF CANADA.—It deserves not to be forgotten that the same Duke of Newcastle whose want of the commonest forethought destroyed the British army before Sebastopol, has been entrusted with the destinies of Canada under Lord Palmerston. He it was who had blankly to acknowledge to the omission that he had made no provision for the army's wintering in the Crimea, because he had no idea of their doing so; and it will be little satisfaction, if at some future moment, he is asked why he let two years slip by in mere official routine, he should reply that he never expected the United States would be mad enough to cross the St. Lawrence. Whether or no they ever do so it is clear enough that we should be spared half of this blustering, and very many if not all the outrages on our commerce, which daily breed fresh irritation between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, if it were known at New York that British North America was a dangerous wall for the Yankee generals to run their heads against. We should not then find them openly speculating on the consolations which Quebec and Montreal will afford them for the failure of their chivalrous enterprises at New Orleans and Charleston, or proposing to satisfy the claims of the rowdies and loafers who serve in their ranks with the territories and spoils of the colonies of a friendly country.

Ten thousand British troops, some of the finest and best drilled regiments of our infantry, now compose the defences of British North America. But it must not be forgotten that the beginning of winter cuts them off from all support and reinforcement, and their ground of action lies over an enormous range of frontier, the greater part unreclaimed forest, against hordes of enemies, before whose ceaseless though desultory attacks they must inevitably melt away. Our already too vast military expenditure, it is urged, puts it out of the question that more troops can be kept in the idleness of anticipation across the Atlantic. For the same reason no corps of cavalry has been sent to Canada, although this arm seems to be more dreaded than even artillery by the raw levies of the States.—London Standard.

A RICH DESSERT SERVICE.—The Pacha of Egypt has just had made for himself in Paris, a dessert service consisting of twelve gold plates, richly inlaid with diamonds, costing 60,000 francs each; six champagne glasses, costing 30,000 francs each; six small wine glasses at 18,000 each, and a dozen spoons and forks at 6,000 francs each. The plates and champagne glasses each contain more than a thousand diamonds.

The Vicksburg Whig, of the 21st April, thus apologizes for the shortcomings of the current number: "We owe our readers an apology for the scarcity of reading matter in this morning's paper. The shells from the Yankee battery across the river burst so close to our office yesterday that the printers could do but little work."

A new American Artic Expedition, under the conduct of Captain Hall, the well-known explorer, leaves the States next month, on a three years' voyage to King William's Land and Boothia, Felix Peninsula. Capt Robinson, of Newburgh, has most liberally contributed his schooner-yacht, Victoria.

Nineteen thousand widows have applied for pensions, at Washington. Their husbands have been killed in the Civil War.

A new steamer, of 3000 tons burthen, is to be built in the Clyde, for the Cunard company. She will rank with the Scotia, Persia, &c., and will be called the Cuba.
