self=help

You are weak, "run-down," health is frail, strength gone. Doctors call your case anæmia—there is a fat-famine in your blood. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is the best food-means of getting your strength back—your doctor will tell you that.

He knows also that when the digestion is weak it is better to break up cod-liver oil out of the body than to burden your tired digestion with it. Scott's Emulsion does that.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST - SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save use many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette

LAYING THE TABLE-CLOTH.

"Doubliers" of the Twelfth Century Displaced by Two Table Cloths.

Most Canadian girls and many of their brothers have had to "set the table" when they would have better enjoyed doing something else, but the task offered no serious difficulties. If they had had to follow the French fashion of several centuries ago they might well have felt some dismay. Probably no little French girls of the period from the twelfth to the seventeenth centuries could have arranged a fashionable table-cloth without considerable assistance.

In the twelfth century the table-cloths were very large, and were always laid on the table double; for a long time they were called "doubliers" for that reason. The cloth was first placed so as to touch the floor on the side of the table at which the guests sat; then all the cloth that remained was folded so that it just covered the table.

Charles V had sixty-seven table-cloths, which were from fifteen to twenty yards long and two yards wide. He had one cloth which was thirty-two yards long, and had the arms of France embroidered on it in silk. All of these were fringed.

In the sixteenth century "doubliers," or double cloths, were replaced by two table-cloths, one of which was small and was laid just as we lay ours to-day.

The other, which was put on over it, was large and of beautifully-figured linen. It was skilfully folded in such a way that, as a book of that time says, "It resembled a winding river, gently ruffled by a little breeze, for among very many little folds were here and there great bubbles."

It must have required much art and care to make dishes, plates, salt-cellars, sauce-dishes and glasses, stand steadily in the midst of this undulating sea, and among those "bubbles" and puffy folds.

However, the fashion had only a short existence, as is apt to be the case with unpractical fashions, and toward the latter part of the century a single cloth laid flat, and touching the floor on all sides of the table, came into general use.

A Joke on the Joker.

A transatlantic liner had steamed more than a day from New York. A long, thin man was leaning over the rail, contemplating the surging waters. Not far away was a group of ladies and gentlemen. Suddenly the long, thin man showed signs of excitement. "Didn't I see a man struggling in the water there?" he exclaimed. The other passengers crowded about, and gazed in the direction indicated, but could see nothing. Presently, however, they heard a pitiful cry, "Help! Help! Save me! Help!"

In an instant all was commotion. The shout was raised, "Man overboard!" The cry still came from the waters, "Help!"

The captain came and listened. Then he ordered the ship put about, and a boat lowered. The long, thin man, much excited, pointed to the place where he said he had seen the drowning man. The boat pulled rapidly away, and the great steamship herself plowed slowly back to the place.

Every one on board knew that the trip was a test of speed between this steamer and a ship of a rival line. Every minute was precious. A "record" was being made. The owners of the ship had ordered the captain to lose not a moment. But in a case of life and death all other considerations are put aside.

The sailors in the small boat found no man in the water, however, nor was any one missing from the ship. At last it was decided that some poor stowaway had fallen overboard in an attempt to escape from his place of hiding, and the steamer proceeded on her way.

The passengers were shocked and sad, and the captain was rendered rather glum by the loss of more than an hour.

But the long, thin man seemed very gay, under the circumstances. One would have said that the drowning of this poor fellow had pleased him. The fact was, he had perpetrated what he called a great joke on the captain and passengers, and he was too much elated to keep it to himself.

Before long he had confessed to two or three passengers that he was a professional ventriloquist, and had counterfeited the call of a drowning man.

These passengers told others, and soon the story was known all over the ship. The long, thin man regarded himself as the hero of the hour.

But about this time the captain came to him, and told him how much had been at stake on the trip. And for that matter, it always costs a considerable amount to stop a great steamship at sea and start it again, just as it does to stop and start a railway train. The captain thought that, taking the two elements of loss into account, the sum of several thousand dollars would about represent the amount that the ventriloquist owed the steamship company.

The ventriloquist stood aghast. "But you can't make me pay damages for a joke!" he said.

"Perhaps not," answered the captain, "and perhaps we can. At any rate we can try. I shall deem it my duty to have you arrested as soon as we reach Liverpool, and then you will have an opportunity to answer in court our demand for financial restitution."

From that time the voyage had no pleasures for the long, thin man. He was in a state of great alarm. The passengers grinned significantly when he passed, for the captain's remarks to him had been overheard. He spent most of his time in his room, and did not favor the passengers with any more feats of ventriloquism.

Overruled.

Wingle—Why call it a toothbrush? You should say "teethbrush," unless you happen to have but one tooth.

Wangle—Nonsense; one does not say "shoesbrush."

Wingle—No, because he brushes but one shoe at a time.

Wangle—But how about the hairbrush? —Boston Transcript.

This Girl Ought to Write Ads.

The teacher of a primary school in the mission read The Old Oaken Bucket to the little tots and explained it to them very carefully, says The San Francisco Post Then she asked them to copy the first stanza from the blackboard and illustrate them as the artists illustrate a story in the daily newspapers One little girl handed in her verse with several little dots between two of the lines, a circle, half a dozen dots and three buckets

"Lizzie I don't understand this" said the teacher "What is that circle?"

"Oh that's the well"

"And why have you three buckets?"

"One is the oaken bucket, one is the iron-bound bucket and the other is the bucket that hung in the well"

"Then what are all those little dots?"

"Why those are the loved spots which my infancy knew"

He Felt Better.

At Eastbourne a tradesman was charged with attempting to commit suicide by driving four long nails into his head The medical man who gave evidence in the case produced four nails, which he had with difficulty withdrawn from the prisoner's head The prisoner said he felt better after he had driven them in.—London Tit-Bits.

Boo-Hoo!—"Mrs. Murphy calls her slipper castoria??? ?

"Because the children cry after it!"

A Scotch Lad's Faith.

I like the positive faith of that sailor boy that Captain Judkins, of the steamship Scotia, picked up in a hurricane. "Go aloft!" said Captain Judkins, to his mate "and look out for wrecks." Before the mate had gone far up the ratlines he shouted, "A wreck, a wreck!"

"Where away?" said Captain Judkins.

"Off the port bow," was the answer.

Life boats were lowered and forty men volunteered to put out across the angry sea to the wreck. They came back with a dozen shipwrecked men, and among them a boy of twelve years.

"Who are you?" said Captain Judkins.

The answer was, "I am a Scotch boy. My father and mother are dead and I am on my way to America."

"What have you here?" said Captain Judkins, as he opened the boy's jacket and took hold of a rope around the boy's body.

"It is a rope," said the boy.

"But what is that tied by this rope under your arm?"

"That, sir, is my mother's Bible. She told me never to lose that."

"Could you not have saved something else."

"Not and save that."

"Did you expect to go down?"

"Yes, sir, but I meant to take my mother's Bible down with me."

"Bravo!" said Judkins, "I will take care of you."

In Regard to Marriage.

In Japan, if a woman is not married by a certain age, the authorities pick out a man whom they compel her to marry. In Schleswig there is a spinster's insurance company, established to provide for the single lady members of well-to-do families. The company gives them shelter, board and pin money. In Denmark young women are able to insure against being old maids. Should they remain spinsters at forty they receive a weekly allowance. The Marlahilf Matrimonial Club of Austria, the members of which are all rich men, pledge themselves to marry a poor girl—any infringement by marrying a rich one entails a fine of £400, which forms an endowment to keep those who have obeyed the rule. On the other hand, an anti-matrimonial club exists at Frankfort, the members being ladies between the ages of twenty and forty, duly elected and paying an annual subscripiton of £10. They take a vow never to marry; doing so entails a fine of £100. Every member must dress in black and forswear novels.

A Slight Mistake.

"I didn't know you were so accomplished a linguist," he remarked, as he glanced at the paper she was reading.

"I don't make any pretensions in that direction," she answered.

"But that is a Russian newspaper you have picked up."

"Why, so it is," she answered, in surprise. "I thought it was a dialect story." —Washington Star.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Ball, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure the worst chronic cold. 25 cents.

She is sweet sixteen, and she says the first time her sweetheart kissed her it made her feel like a tub of butter swimming in honey, cologne, nutmeg and cranberries, as though something ran down her nerves on feet of diamonds, escorted by several cupids in chariots drawn by angels shaded with honey-suckle, and the whole spread with melted rainbow.—Georgia Cracker.

Don't Wait for the Sick Room.

The experience of physicians and the public proves that taking Scott's Emulsion produces an immediate increase in flesh: it is therefore of the highest value in Wasting Diseases and Consumption.

Domestic Laurels—"My wife beat the record this week." "How do you know? Did she have a cyclometer on her wheel?" "No, she wore a pedometer while she was cleaning house."

Completely Knocked Out.

"I was so much run down I had to give up work, and I felt as if life was not worth living," writes Wm. W. Thompson, Zephyr Ont. "I took Scott's Sarsaparilla and am now feeling as I did years ago." Scott's Sarsaprilla tones up the entire system, purifies the blood, and eradicates rheumatic and scrofulous poison. Ask for Scott's and get it.

"Whom did the convention declare for?" "No one." "Then the delegates are entirely uninstructed?" "Well, yes, generally; though I believe some of them can read and write a little."

A Child Cured of Eczema by Chase's Ointment.

"My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised the use of Chase's Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

The Cuban order prohibiting the export of leaf tobacco may bother outside manufacturers for a while, but it will not diminish the supply of cigars made from Havana leaf. A good many of these are made from Jamaica leaf, and some, it is suspected, from tobacco that was never nearer the tropics than New Jersey.

An Indignant Old Lady.

The car stopped and on climbed an elaborately dressed lady, followed by a nurse girl bearing a small boy in her arms. The lady looked entirely too young to be the boy's mother and was dressed in a style becoming rather a young girl. In addition she paid no attention whatever to the infant and nurse, who took a seat behind her, and the spectators on the car began to think they had been deceived in imagining that there was any relation between them. Presently she raised he daintly gloved hand and signaled the conductor to stop. Then she stepped gracefully off and made her way to the curb. Looking back indifferently she said:—

"Jane, bring the boy!"

The boy evidently did not want to come. He clung to the seat in spite of the nurse, whereat the fin de siecle mother called:—

"Boy—boy—come along!"

And the old lady on the back seat sniffed indignatly and said:—

"Well; I reckon that's one of these new women. She didn't even know her child's name."

England is an American Power.

A glance at the map will show the extent to which Britain is an American power. The following is a list of the British possessions in America, with their respective areas:

| | Sq. Miles. |
|---|---|
| Newfoundland and Labrador | 160,200 |
| Canada | 3,456,383 |
| The Bermudas | 190 |
| The West Indies | 12,175 |
| British Honduras | 7,562 |
| British Guiana | 109,000 |
| The Falklands Islands | 7,500 |
| | 3,753,010 |

Against this the United States possess a total area of 3,501,000 square miles, being 250,000 less than belong to the British crown.

Noble Baron—When I borrowed the money I thanked him. He said, "Don't mention it, my dear baron," and I never have.

"To My Life's End."

Old age brings many aches and pains which must be looked after if health is to be maintained. This depends more than anything else on the kidneys. "I am 85 years old," writes A. Duffin, farmer, Aultsville, Ont., "and have had kidney trouble five years. My son advised Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I obtained immediate relief. I shall use them to my life's end." You will find Chase's Pills equally effective or that lame back,

What sort of capacity has he?

Do you mean stomach or brain?—Washington Times.

Kind Words from the Fred Victor Mission Bible Class.

On behalf of the Fred Victor Mission Bible Class I wish to express our gratitude to you for the box of Chase's Ointment which you supplied in aid of our charitable work to the infant child of Mrs. Brownrig, 162 River street. Ten days ago the child was awfully afflicted with scald head, the face being literally one scab from forehead to chin, and in that brief time a complete cure has been effected. Surely your gift was worth more than its weight in gold.

Wibble—"Where are you going in such a hurry?"

Wabble—"Down to the doctor's. A woman ran her umbrella into my ear this afternoon."

Wibble—"Well, I hope you will be able to get it out."—Amusing Journel.

Science Triumphant at Last.

Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the outcome of the latest scientific researches. There was always a prejudice against taking Cod Liver Oil on account of its disagreeable taste, but Miller's Emulsion is agreeable to the palate, and that is one reason why it has become so popular with the medical fraternity, the hospitals of the country and the households wherever consumption or lung troubles prevail. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Fuzzler—They say its dead bad luck to whistle before breakfast.

Old Soak—I know it. That's the reason I content myself with merely wetting mine.

The London Times has a despatch from Pretoria which says that the sentence of death on the four Johannesburg leaders has been commuted into fifteen years imprisonment.

IT IS THE FACT, Think as You Please

It is not generally known, but it is a fact readily proven by the investigations of science, that the real danger from every known ailment of mankind is caused by inflammation; cure the inflammation and you have conquered the disease in each case. Inflammation is manifested outwardly by redness, swelling and heat; inwardly by congestion of the blood vessels and growth of unsound tissue, causing pain and disease.

INFLAMMATION

External inflammation accompanies bruises, bites, cuts, stings, burns, scalds, chaps, cracks, strains, sprains, fractures, etc., and is the chief danger therefrom. Internal inflammation frequently causes outward swellings; as instances familiar to all we mention pimples, toothache, stiff joints and rheumatism. Yet the great majority of internal inflammations make no outside show, for which reason they are often more dangerous than the external forms.

Causes Every Known Disease!

Inflammation of the nervous system embraces the brain, spine, bones and muscles. The breathing organs have many forms of inflammation: such as colds, coughs, pleurisy, bronchitis, etc. The organs of digestion have a multitude of inflammatory troubles. The vital organs form one complete plan mutually dependent; therefore inflammation anywhere is felt more or less everywhere, and impairs the health. The late Dr. A. Johnson, an old fashioned Family Physician, originated JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, in 1810, to relieve pain and cure every form of inflammation. It is today the Universal Household Remedy.

Send us at once your name and address, and we will send you free, our New Illustrated Book, "TREATMENT FOR DISEASES," caused by inflammation. I. S. JOHNSON & Co., Boston, Mass.
