Union Spokesman Talks To Rotary

"Unions are as necessary in the sphere of human activities as organizations of doctors, lawyers, teachers and others."

Henry Harm of Moncton, Maritime regional director of education and organization, Canadian Congress of Labour, said in an address at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary at the Charlottetown yesterday.

Describing the organizational structure of the Canadian Congress of Labour, Mr. Harm said that it was entirely independent from United States Labour.

"Organized labour has had much to do with improving conditions under which Canadians now live," he said as he enumerated a dozen such activities including abolishing child labour, workmen's compensation, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, hospitalization and medical care, vacations with pay, minimum wage laws for women and a shorter work week.

Mr. Harm said his statement was an example of ideal management-labour co-operation, which read: "The signing of another two year agreement — underlines a long period of labour-management co-operation. Maritime Electric believes that over the years, management and employees have learned that responsible leadership is necessary to effect and maintain a healthy union-management relationship, based on confidence and trust."

Organized labour is anxious to co-operate with organizations such as Home and School, Red Cross etc. having the welfare of the community at heart. "We are fully aware that with greater strength comes greater responsibilities," Mr. Harm said.

Dealing with the overall objective of organized labour, he said "We seek economic security for our members and their families. All we ask is a fair share of the wealth we help to produce, to enable us to live without fear of unemployment, want and misery. Surely this is not too much to ask in a rich and prosperous country such as ours."

The speaker was introduced by chairman Al Cameron and thanked by Co-chairman Don Gas, for a most informative address, giving a better view of labour-management objectives.

A question period followed in which Ken Parker, Ernie Reid, Brian Cudmore and Frank Storey took part.

Guests of Rotary were: Lan Gilbert and Sandy Ald of Montreal, William Davidson, Toronto, John Brown, President Charlottetown and District Labour Council, Harold Gaudet, Chairman Education, Charlottetown T. and L. Council.

Large Family Is Expensive, But Worth It, Says Mother

Although bringing up a large family is very expensive and requires a considerable amount of care, Mrs. Ruel McCormack of 222 Grafton Street proves she really deserves the title of "Mother of the Year" when she says that if she had her life to live over she would "definitely do the same thing again."

Mrs. McCormack, who is the mother of 16 children, says "They are a lot of trouble, but worth every minute of it."

RECEIVES GIFTS "The mother of the year" will also receive a number of gifts from various Charlottetown merchants.

When asked how it felt to be chosen as "the mother of the year" Mrs. McCormack replied that it was "very confusing." "I didn't know my name was even entered," she said.

Four of her daughters are married, they are Mrs. R. A. Dalling, Dartmouth, N.S.; Mrs. James MacGrygan, Scarborough, Ontario; Mrs. William Corrigan, Toronto and Mrs. Frank Strain, Charlottetown.

Population Is Growing

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia announced Sunday after the first Soviet census in 20 years that its population is 206,626,000 and increasing yearly at the rate of 3,500,000.

The ravages of war, reflected in the older age brackets, have resulted in Russian women outnumbering men by 20,800,000.

The Russian population was lower 10,000,000 than forecasts made by Western observers on earlier incomplete figures.

WAR TO BLAME The board blamed the men-war ratio on war but it reported that the number of men and women below 32 is equal. It said Russia has the highest marriage rate in the world — more than 12 marriages a year for each 1,000 population.

Russia also has the world's lowest death-rate—7.5 per 1,000 population, the board reported. It said the Soviet birth rate is more than 25 per 1,000 population and there are more than 3,500,000 more births than deaths every year.
