Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. new styles come with it, and every man in Charlottetown, with any idea of dress, comes to us for styles, as a matter of course. The best readymade suit is only a travesty of correctness. It isn't even a clever masquerade. Banish all readymade misfits from your wardrobe and get something stylish and handsome, produced to order and faultless in fit and correct in every detail of workmanship. We fit our customers. That's our rule and it stands, like rock bottom. The belated summer suit has now no place in the wear of the gentleman of style, who, if not already provided for the fall, makes no delay. We have now on hand a beautiful range of Fall and Winter Overcoats at prices to meet the demands of the times. Our stylish Suits seem to create a sensation among the nobility of Charlottetown.

Priestley's

"Are they not exquisite in their soft richness?" is the constant remark of ladies touching Priestley's famous black dress goods. And that is the truth, but it is not the whole description, for they have a character for refinement, for wearing and draping quality, which no other dress goods can lay claim to. The Priestley's appear to have gathered up all their excellences, and concentrated them in "Eudora," the latest black dress fabric they have given to the world. In every respect equal to the famous Henriettas, it surpasses them in extra width, and weight, and in dust-repelling quality. It is wrapped on "The Varnished Board" and Priestley's name is stamped on every five yards.

SOME ODD HAPPENINGS.

Lately, near Berlin, a young lady fell from an express train while endeavoring to close a window. She will probably die.

A chapel measuring 9x12 feet will shortly be erected on Mount Blanc, 15,000 feet above the sea level.

Last year thirty-three persons in London lost their lives by the explosion of coal-oil lamps. In twenty-five cases the lamps were glass lamps, and it is therefore proposed to prohibit their sale and use.

In France it is a punishable offense for any one to give infants under one year any form of solid food, unless such be ordered by written prescription signed by a legally qualified medical man.

The Mahometan clergy denounce electricity as a damnable power.

A servant girl at Vienna attempted to commit suicide by a novel method. She undressed and then poured boiling water over herself; being interrupted in this she tried to throw herself from a window. And now she is in her proper sphere—the lunatic asylum.

The smallest clock in the world was on exhibition lately in a jeweler's show window in Gottingen, Germany. The dial measures less than one-third of an inch in diameter and the weight which furnishes the motive force for twenty-four hours is suspended from a woman's hair.

L'Independence Belge says that a young Hungarian military doctor named Bela Skarvan has been condemned by court-martial to three months' solitary confinement, to the confiscation of his property and the loss of his doctor's diploma, and to degradation to the rank of a private because in a letter to the military authirities he ventured to express his aversion to military service.

Several newspapers in Lissabon, Portugal, with malice aforethought, accused the Jesuits of stealing children. Since then, in consequence of these calumination, many priests have been assaulted on the streets and seriously wounded by the very ignorant and very credulous populace. In fact, very vigorous measures were necessary to prevent the assassination of all clericals.

A son of Geheimarth Julius Schwabach, member of the firm of Bleichroeder of Berlin, has shown himself a phenomenal spendthrift. Within eighteen months he squandered over $250,000. He tried his best, or his worst, to prove himself a fin de siecle blade. For instance, while residing at Leipsic, Germany, he sometimes telegraphed to his tailor at Berlin to come to him by special train to take an order. The rich fool is now under guardianship.

The Berlin Echo has discovered that among the Chinese the "milhi" is priced as the most delicious dish. It consists of new-born mice, still blind. They are dipped in oil and then connoisseurs swallow them very slowly. At the marriage feast of the present Emperor of China no less than 5,000 of these sleek bon-bons glistened on the festive board.

A late official report shows that contrary to common belief cases of religious mania are rare in the British Isles. It also discloses the strange fact that more mental aberration is developed among the tribes of peddlers than among any other class, physicians and druggists coming next

How densely ignorant the Russian peasants are is shown by the fact that lately a swindler was arrested in the Government of Saratow for selling among the peasantry a large number of tickets to the planet Jupiter. Many of the dupes had disposed of everything they possessed in order to buy such a ticket. These would-be emigrants were promised large estates and a life of ease and luxury, of course, and had even been told not to take along the pictures of saints, since on Jupiter they would be likely to make their personal acquaintance.

A piano in a lion cage is the latest stage specialty. It has been introduced by a hitherto obscure female piano teacher who first performed in a lion cage in a menagerie at Dewsburg, England. The experiment is pronounced a "grand success." The kingly beasts are said to be very appreciative, and particularly partial to Chopin's airs.

Custom is tyrannical. Hence it is that the English servant maid, whenever she wants to shine when taking an airing, continues to actually hire a soldier from the barracks, glorious in scarlet coat and brass buttons, to accompany her at the rate of not less than sixpence per hour. By paying eight or ten pence she may monopolize the soldier's society; otherwise the martial gallant may let out half his smiles and his left arm to another maid at the sixpence rate.

An "only original" circus is now giving performances at Christiania, Norway. The members of the troupe represent various grades of nobility. One baron is director of the educated dogs, another baron is a clown, the latter's wife, a baroness, charms the public with her songs; a countess beats the cymbals, a marquise twangs the zither and a duke blows the fife.

German railroad cars are not comfortable, but German railroad management is fair. For instance, according to a late agreement between the railroads, if a traveler now makes only part of the trip to which his ticket entitles him, the money paid in excess is returned to him provided the station master of the station where his trip was cut short has certified to that fact on the ticket.

The executioner of Paris, Mons. Deibler, had an insignificant lawsuit lately. But it led to the rediscovery of the fact that in olden times the French executioner was paid according to a fixed tariff. The highest price, 48 livres, was set on boiling a criminal in oil, 20 livres had to be paid for beheading a person, 36 livres for burning a witch, 9 livres for branding and 4 livres for flogging a malefactor, etc.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind—m w f wkly—1

ODDS AND ENDS.

A good wash for weak eyes and inflamed lids is composed of eight grains of sulphate of zinc, one drachm of rinum opil and eight ounces of rose water.

The juice of one lemon to eight ounces of elder water makes an excellent lotion for sunburnt faces; rub in a little of it while the face is still wet.

25 Cents vs. Kidney Trouble.

For 2 years I was dosed, pilled, and plastered for weak back, scalding urine and constipation, without benefit. One box of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills relieved, 3 boxes cures. R. J. Smith, Toronto.

A—Is dyeing the hair as dangerous as the doctors would make it appear?

B—Certainly, you may take my word for it. Only last spring an uncle of mine dyed his hair and in three weeks he was married to a widow with four children.—Fligende Blaeter.

Heed the Warning.

The common and ever-present warning of kidney trouble, back ache and weakness in back are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Pills. The original and only 25 cent Kidney-Liver Pills. When all other remedies fail they cure.

"You know, George," she was explaining, "I was brought up without any care."

"Mary me, my darling, and you shall have nothing else but care," said George.—Detroit Free Press.

C. Donnelly, prop. of the popular and well-known Windsor Hotel, Allison, Ont., was troubled for years with Itching Piles. He was pursuaded by Jas. McGarvey, Allison, livery man, to use Chase's Ointment which he did, was cured, and had no return of them and highly recommends this Ointment as a sovereign cure for Piles.

An extempore preacher intended to end his peroration with a slow ejaculation of a "mess of pottage." He ended with "A pot of messages—a message of pots—a pottage of messes!" then, giving it up, hastily retired.

POOR DICESTION leads to nervousness, chronic dyspepsia and great misery. The best remedy is HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

A colored man's opinion: "I sees a man going home wid a gallon of whiskey, and a half pound of meat; dat's temp'rance lecture 'nuff for me; and I sees it ebry day. I knows dat eberything in his house is on de same scale—gallon ob misery to ebry pound of comfort."

Scott's Sarsaparilla

ACUTE Inflammatory Rheumatism is produced by an excess of uric acid in the blood. Paralysis is nearly a dead circulation produced by impure and impoverished blood. So-called neuralgia of the thigh is sciatic rheumatism: scrofulitic rheumatism is hereditary: syphilitic results from syphilis; gout is caused by high living; sluggish circulation affects the heart.

"THE KIND THAT CURES"

Thus the whole line of rheumatic diseases owe their being to an affected circulation of impure blood. No person can suffer a rheumatic pain that has a free and equal circulation of pure blood, and this accounts for Scott's Sarsaparilla curing the supposed incurable cases. It eradicates all rheumatic poisons and acids from the blood and equalizes the circulation.

DR. HERZ'S SECRET.

His Idea Will Make the Telegraph Wires and Cables Hum.

In an interview with a representative of the Pall Mall Gazette Dr. C. Herz recently announced that he had invented and completed a system of electrical transmission which would permit of telegraphing more than a hundred thousand words across a submarine cable where now only twenty are sent in the same time. "It is," said he, "an accomplished fact and capable of being applied to-morrow to any instrument in existence. My experiments were made years ago, before my arrival in England, and before my illness. I have had at my disposal all the telegraph lines in France during the night, and at other times during the day when they were not occupied. I wait only for the opinion of a well-known patent attorney, when the world will know the details."

The invention, the journal explains, will permit of such a quantity of matter being forwarded at the very last moment from the uttermost parts of the earth that four daily editions of the sheet which possesses the franchise could be issued and monopolize the newspaper business. And still greater marvel, he says, it will allow of working the telephone in multiple across the ocean.

Preserving Wood by Lime.

Someone who has been experimenting on the preservation of wood by the use of lime, gives the result as follows: I have for many years been in the habit of preparing home-grown timber of the inferior sort of fir, Scotch spruce and silver, by steeping it in a tank, or a hole dug in clay or peat, which was fairly water-tight, in a saturated solution of lime. Its effect on the sapwood is to so harden it and fill up its pores that it perfectly resists the attack of the little wood-boring beetle, and makes it, in fact, equally as durable as the made wood. I had a mill which was lofted with Scotch fir prepared in this way in 1850, and it is in perfect preservation. The timber is packed as closely as it will lie in the tank, water is let in, and unslaked lime is thrown on the top and well stirred about. There is no danger that the solution will not find its way to everything in the tank. I leave the wood in the solution for two or three months, by which time an inch board will be fully permeated by it. Joists and beams would, of course, take a longer time for saturation; but in practice we find that the protection afforded by two or three months' steeping is sufficient, if the scantlings are cut to the sizes at which they are to be used."

Concrete Floors for Stables.

The floor should consist of three layers, first, about three inches of broken stone and brick, in pieces that will pass through a three-inch ring, second, 2 1-2 inches of gravel, sand and cement, topped off with a 1-2-inch floated coat of clean, sharp sand and cement, mixed in proportions of two of sand to one of cement (best Portland cement to be used.) The floor is to be laid to have proper fall to drain off all water, and provision is to be made for this. The usual method is to give it a slope to the rear, where there is a gutter to carry off the liquid matter. The surface of the top coat should be scored.

As concrete makes a hard and unyielding floor for a horse to stand on, planks may be laid down over it, which can be easily removed for cleansing and airing. Instead of the plank, sawdust may be employed. It makes good bedding, is soft under the horses' feet, and is cheap. What is soiled can be removed every day and replaced by fresh.

Vitrified brick is considered by some as making a better stable floor than concrete.

Shooting Oil on the Water.

Oil is no longer to be poured on troubled water. It is to be fired like a shell from a gun. As a wave approaches a shell filled with oil is to be precipitated in its direction. The shell will be perforated with small holes, so that the oil will run out slowly and continue its work for a greater length of time than would otherwise be the case.

A Japanese Fuel.

The little economies that have made Japan so rich may be noticed everywhere. The dust of charcoal is gathered up and mixed with the chaff of wheat, barley and other grains and with chopped straw. It is then moistened into paste, rolled into balls about as big as a billiard ball and makes excellent fuel.

Good Bread.

At a bread contest held in an eastern city not long ago, a milling company offered prizes ranging from $5 to $100 for the best loaves of bread. The recipe used by the winner of the $100 was: Three pints of water, one-half pint of milk, one tablespoonful of lard, one tablespoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt, and one yeast cake. The ingredients, which were first thoroughly mixed, and then kneaded ten minutes, were raised over night in a covered bread pan. In the morning the dough was kneaded ten minutes and made into three loaves. Three other loaves entered for the contest were awarded $75 prizes. One of these loaves seems to have been prepared in a somewhat unusual way. The ingredients for the dough were two-thirds milk to one-third water, compressed yeast and a little salt and sugar, and were mixed with enough flour to make a stiff dough. This dough was mixed, kneaded and set to rise at night. When light, it was chopped thoroughly with a chopping knife, made into loaves, and set to rise the second time; when this was light it was baked forty minutes.—New York Evening Post.

New Names for Canada.

Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh of the Northwest Territories, told the Legislature assembled in Regina the other day that the Ottawa authorities have resolved to give distinctive names to the several regions of the vast unorganized territory that composes so much of the larger portion of the Dominion. The region adjacent to Alaska will be called Yukon, and to the east, embracing all the territory to the Atlantic, there will be the districts of Franklin, Churchill and Ungava. Is Labrador to drop out as a territorial name?—London (Ont.) Advertiser.

15 Years of Itching.

Wm. Golding, commerciel traveller, 130 Esther st, Toronto, Says: For 15 years I suffered untold misery, sometimes called pin worms. Many and many weeks have I had to lay off the road from this trouble. I tried eight other pile ointments and so called remedies with no permanent relief to the intense itching and stinging, which irritated by scratching would bleed and ulcerate. A GREAT MEDICINE.

Cod-liver Oil is useful beyond any praise it has ever won, and yet few are willing or can take it in its natural state. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not offensive; it is almost palatable.

Children like it. It is Cod-liver Oil made more effectual, and combined with the Hypophosphites its strengthening and flesh-forming powers are largely increased.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Painless Dentistry!

This is addressed to all those who are suffering from TOOTHACHE, or who may require treatment of any kind at the hands of a Dentist. I make the very best Teeth, guaranteed, for $15 00 a set. If not satisfactory money refunded. Gold and Silver Fillings a specialty.

The following letter from Dr Robertson of Crapaud, as regards the Painless Extraction of Teeth, speaks for itself:—

To J E McDonald, D D S, Summerside, P E I.

Dear Doctor,—I am so well pleased with the work you have done for me that I will take it as a special favor if you will give publicity to this letter. I positively assert that after an experience extending over twenty-two years, under the hands of many dentists, you are the only one who ever extracted a tooth for me Absolutely Without Pain. The TEN teeth you removed for me at one sitting did not hurt a particle, as Mr James Dawson of Tryon, who was present at the operation, heard me testify. The man who invented your method should be knighted.

I am yours, gratefully,
H W ROBERTSON, M D
