The Bishop's Jubilee.

THE Catholics of Prince Edward Island will, to-morrow, celebrate with enthusiasm the twenty-fifth anniversary of the consecration of their venerable Bishop. Thousands will, without doubt, come to the Jubilee in Charlottetown; thousands who cannot come will be in hearty sympathy with the occasion and the ceremony; and all will unite in the hearty congratulations which will be showered upon His Lordship. The event is so unusual and the man so highly esteemed, even by those who differ most widely from the distinctive beliefs of his Church, that readers of THE EXAMINER of every class and denomination will, we are sure be interested in a timely sketch of His Lordship's career.

The Right Reverend Peter McIntyre, D. D., Bishop of Charlottetown, was born at Cable Head, Lot 41, in King's County, Prince Edward Island, on the Feast of S.S. Peter and Paul, June 29th, 1818. His parents, Angus McIntyre and Sarah McKinnon, Scotch Highland Catholics, emigrated from South-west Invernesshire, to this Island, towards the close of the last century. Providence blessed their industry and integrity; and they were enabled not only to have "full and plenty" for a large family of sons and daughters, but also to extend the sacred rites of hospitality to all who came in the way. Mr. McIntyre's house at Cable Head, was one of the principal stations of the late Bishop McEachern in that part of the country—before there was a church at St. Peter's—and little Peter, the Benjamin of the family, was naturally enough, brought to the notice of the pious and discerning Bishop. The Bishop, it is needless to say, entertained a very high regard for Angus McIntyre and his family, and His Lordship insisted that the youngest son, little Peter, should be sent to college to be educated for the Church. Mr. McIntyre was well aware that the proposed undertaking would be exceedingly heavy, at a time when schools were few and means were not easily obtained. But, out of respect for the wishes of his Bishop, he generously acted upon the suggestion, and his son Peter was accordingly among the first students at the opening of old St. Andrew's College.

After the death of the good Bishop McEachern, in 1835, young McIntyre expressed a strong desire to be sent to Canada to pursue his studies. This wish was complied with by his kind father; and after having studied, during seven or eight years, in the Colleges of Chambly, St. Hyacinth and Quebec, he was promoted to the second order of the Priesthood in 1843, and returned to his native Diocese the same year. We have been told by an old friend of the family that when young McIntyre first went to college, his father had several long stockings literally crammed with Spanish dollars, and so, wanting the accommodation of banks, the old gentleman was enabled to promptly make generous remittances to his son and pay the college bills on presentation. The same good friend also tells us that by the time young "Father McIntyre" returned from Quebec the Spanish dollars were pretty low in the old stocking—but not exhausted! May it not be that the generous manner in which his venerable father furnished him with ample funds until he was able to provide for himself, materially helped to form and develop those generous, hospitable and princely traits of character which we all admire in Bishop McIntyre?

The first missionary duties of Father McIntyre were performed as assistant to Father Perry. After a short time, however, he was appointed to the charge of Tignish, Lot 7, the Brae and Casumpec, with his principal residence at Tignish. There he lived and labored for seventeen years; and it was there that he first gave evidence of his talent for building. The Acadian French who form the largest proportion of the Catholic congregation at Tignish, were, at that time, neither rich in this world's goods nor counted enterprising. Yet to them belongs the very great credit of building, under the direction of Father McIntyre, the first brick church—if we mistake not, the first public building of brick—ever erected in this Province—a church which, at this day, is one of the finest on the Island. Inspired by their enthusiastic priest, the poor French people made the bricks, hauled them to the site, laid the foundation, and built the church. They had little money, but much zeal; and they were led by a man of rare administrative ability. To the Church at Tignish was added a handsome Parochial house and a fine convent, both of brick. A church and Parochial house were also about the same time built at Brae.

The talents and zeal of Father McIntyre were soon recognized by a Church which—whatever her faults—is not slow to see and reward true merit. On the death of Bishop Macdonald he was appointed to preside over "the Roman Catholic Diocese of Charlottetown," comprising Prince Edward Island and the Magdalen Islands; and on the 15th of August, 1860, he was solemnly consecrated "Bishop of Charlottetown." The ceremony was performed by the late Archbishop Connolly, of Halifax, assisted by the late Bishop McKinnon and Bishop Sweeney,—the late Bishop Mullock, of St. John's, Newfoundland, and Bishop Dalton, of Harbor Grace being also present. Under the administration of Bishop McIntyre great attention has been given to the education of the youth of the Catholic people and to the erection of buildings in which to carry on the work of the Church; and the Bishop's talent for building has found scope. The following list comprises 21 churches, 20 parochial houses, and 10 colleges and convents, all built since he became Bishop of Charlottetown:—

* Twice built, being once burnt. The buildings erected in Charlottetown, consist of St. Dunstan's College, (re-built with brick); St. Patrick's School house, St. Mary's Convent, St. Joseph's Convent (now being enlarged) and the Bishop's Palace.

As a result of the establishment of schools and colleges, and the active encouragement given by Bishop McIntyre to Catholic education, there has been a marked increase in the number of the "religious" engaged in the Island. When he arrived from Quebec there were on the whole Island only eight Priests; viz.:

- Father Perry.
- Francis McDonald.
- James McDonald.
- John McDonald.
- Ready.
- Meville.
- Belanger.
- Reynolds.

It is worthy of remark that the first three only of those on the above list are now living. While Father McIntyre was Priest at Tignish the following were ordained, viz.:

- Father Daniel McDonald.
- Pius McPhee.
- Charles Boudreaux.
- James Phelan.
- Thomas Phelan.
- Angus McDonald.

So that at the time he was elevated to the Episcopacy there were but fourteen (14) Priests in the whole Island—now there are thirty-seven (37).

The following is a list of the Priests ordained by Bishop McIntyre, who were educated or partially educated, at the schools established by His Lordship, and in St. Dunstan's College, rebuilt by him:—

- Father McIntyre.
- Gallant.
- Burke.
- Stephen Phelan.
- McMillan.
- James E. McDonald.
- Gillis.
- S. Boudreaux.
- Allan McDonald.
- Lauchlan McDonald.
- Chaisson.
- N. Boudreaux.
- Corbett.
- Walker.
- Gregory McDonald.
- D. F. McDonald.
- P. Doyle.
- D. A. McDonald.
- W. H. Grant.
- John McDonald.
- Dugald McIsaac.
- Neil McKinnon.
- Ronald McDonald.
- *Joseph McDonald.
- *James Broderick.
- *Edwin Kelly, (eccl).
- Angus Beliveau.
- Joseph Gleason.
- Marcelle Richard.
- James McKenna.
- Cornelius O'Brien.
- William Hamilton.
- W. F. Chapman.
- *Thornton, (eccl).
- Manning.
- J. L. McDonald.
- *George McDonald, (eccl).
- *Clement Morrison, (eccl).
- P. Bradley.
- E. Macaulay.
- N. McKinnon.
- S. O'Sullivan.

*dead. His Lordship has proved himself to be a powerful friend of the cause of temperance. Whole settlements have, by yielding to his good influence and banishing the intoxicating cup, been lifted from a state of poverty and debt to a state of prosperity and independence. He has, also, been ever mindful of the sick and needy. The Charlottetown Hospital—open to persons of all denominations—is one of the fruits of his large-hearted charity.

In 1869 and 1870, His Lordship assisted at the Ecumenical Council; and he has since made several visits to Rome.

On the whole, Bishop McIntyre has been a good Bishop and a true man. "Rich in love and sweet humanity," he has won the love of the Catholics and the esteem of the Protestants; and as we have the Roman Catholic Church here, and are not likely to be rid of it, there are very few indeed who will not concur in the sentiment that he may long be spared, under Providence, to guide it. To Bishop McIntyre we extend our cordial congratulations on this joyful occasion.

The Liberal Political Demonstration.

The Liberal Political Demonstration at Mount Stewart yesterday, though not largely attended by people from Charlottetown or from the East, was well patronized by the people of the Third Electoral District of Queen's County. The Reform Association of Mount Stewart made extensive preparations for the demonstration, and provided ample facilities for the amusement and recreation of all present, such as dancing booths, swings, merry-go-rounds and Grit orators. Those present were divided into two classes, viz: the deep dyed-in-the-wool Grit who came anxious to "demonstrate," and the curious Conservative who came to hear the eloquent French Canadian Laurier, the risible Gilmore, and our own prince of obstructionists Davies. Both made a large gathering; but the show was not as advertised. Laurier and Gilmore were not present, and the home-spun substitutes did not appear as attractive to the majority as the glib-tongued vendor of prize packages who occupied a stand opposite the rostrum.

Perhaps the most attractive feature of the demonstration was the arrival of the "Ship of State." This was a curious craft, drawn on four wheels, with hull a la Northern Light, having an awning through which protruded three short masts. She was called the "L. H. Davies," and hailed from St. Peter's Bay. On arrival of the orators of the day at Mount Stewart, they were taken on board the "Ship," a salute of two Queen Ann guns was fired, and the orators were conveyed to the picnic grounds amid the martial strains of the bagpipes.

Another pictorial feature of the demonstration was a cartoon, executed by G. W. Millner, Esq. It represented Uncle Sam standing on a promontory, looking at a P. E. I. fisherman sitting idle on the shore. Uncle Sam says, "Hello! plenty mackerel. Why don't you fish?" P. E. I. fisherman responds, "A good reason why. Ask the man in the clouds." The fringe of the clouds are profiles of Sir John's face. Another cartoon, by a Mount Stewart artist attempted to illustrate the injustice of the Franchise Bill. One would need to be rich in imagination to discover what the artist was driving at.

The speaking commenced at 2 o'clock. Daniel McLean, Esq., occupied the chair, and the speakers were Francis McQuaid, Esq., Dr. McIntyre, M. P., Dr. Robertson, Esq., M. P., Henry Beer, Esq., M. P., P. L. H. Davies, Esq., M. P., D. Farquharson, M. P., Mr. Hooper, M. P., A. B. Warburton, Mr. Lea, Tryon, and Mr. McDonald, the chairman. The speeches were in the usual style of the Grit orators. They glorified Blake and themselves, and damned Sir John and his followers. All their actions were righteous, while those of their opponents were diabolical. None but the great Liberal Party was capable of ruling the destinies of the Dominion, was their refrain from beginning to end, with few interruptions; and at the conclusion of the orations, the orators dispersed with an air indicating that the Conservative party in the Third District might "consider itself whipped."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Steamship Damara.

SIR,—Allow me to correct a paragraph in your issue of last evening, emanating from an Ottawa correspondent, which is not correct as far as the destination of the steamer is concerned. She is not bound to Montreal, and is on her third and not on her first voyage. She is now on the passage from Havre to Halifax direct, and is appointed to sail from Halifax to Havre on or about the 19th inst., as advertised. If sufficient freight offers for Havre and London, she may call at this port on the homeward trip. The information regarding the excursion party may be correct, as she has a large number of passengers on board from Havre.

Yours truly,

THE "Myrtle Navy" brand of smoking tobacco has stood the test for over ten years, and during that time it has lost no friend and gained scores of thousands. This lengthened experience shows that it has no passing fashion which has gained it the approval of the public, but its superiority in essential qualities which makes a first-class tobacco.
