WATCH for Daniel Druce.

ONE common drunk at the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN at Market Hall to-night.

THE steamer M. A. Starr arrived this afternoon with a cargo of merchandize.

"LAW ME! how shiftless!" Aunt Ophelia, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, to-night.

CABBAGE PLANTS in variety, for sale by John Colwill, Upper Prince street.

SEIZURE.—The Customs authorities at Souris seized a quantity of liquor, tobacco and sugar—brought from St. Pierre a few days ago—for infringement of the Customs regulations.

EVA'S vision of Heaven, in Uncle Tom to-night.

A CRICKET MATCH will take place on Victoria Park on Saturday, between the married and single elevens of the Phœnix Cricket Club. Wickets will be pitched at 2 o'clock, p. m.

MR. WILLIAM DODD will sell by auction to-morrow, at his saleroom, one large Square Piano, in good order.

I'M A LAWYER, and my name is Marks." Uncle Tom to-night.

REV. W. B. HINSON will (D. V.) preach again this evening in the Baptist Chapel.—Prayer meeting at 7½, sermon at 8 o'clock.

REMEMBER the sale at auction of Bank and Skating Rink stock at 12 o'clock noon at W. D. Stewart's Auction Rooms.

THE Duke of Beaufort, Sir John Rae Reid Lord Fitz Roy Somerset, and Mr. D. F. Munroe, were among the passengers brought by the White Star steamer Adriatic which arrived at New York on Thursday.

MISS OPHELIA, I think that you are just about the right person to fill the place of my late lamented Molly." Deacon Peny, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, to-night.

HYMENIAL.—A large congregation assembled at St. Peter's Church this morning to witness the marriage of Mr. James Carman, of the Post Office Department, and Miss Helen Stewart. We wish the young couple happiness and prosperity.

THE fugitives and the kind hearted Quaker, at Market Hall to-night, in Uncle Tom's Cabin.

THE attendance at the Gælic service, conducted by Rev. A. McLean, in the Prince street Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, was very large. The sermon, which was plain, instructive and highly practical, was listened to with rapt attention. In the audience were seen many of his late parishioners from Belfast, who flocked around him after the close of the service.

DIAMOND DUST POLISH is acknowledged by the leading Manufacturing Jewellers and Silversmiths, to be the best polish for cleaning, and giving a beautiful lustre to articles of Gold, Silver, Nickel, and Glass. Does not contain any Mercury, Cyanide, Acid or Grit. Can be applied to the most delicate Jewellery, without injuring it the least, restoring it instantly to its original brilliancy and beauty. Sole agent for P. E. Island, THEO. L. CHAPPELLE, Diamond Bookstore.

"OH! GOLLY! I'se so wicked." Topsey in Uncle Tom to-night.

THE brigt "L. J. Westaway" Captain McLeod, arrived in port to-day, twenty-seven days from Demarara. The mate—John Orsato—and two seamen—John Egan and George Ledgewick—are lying sick of fever. The quarantine officer ordered the vessel to anchor in the stream and removed the sick men to the Hospital. It is reported that their disease is yellow fever, but up to our going to press we have been unable to find whether or not the report is authentic. The captain, however, has been admitted ashore. Were there cases of yellow fever on board his vessel, he would not be permitted to land.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, Mr. W. D. Stewart will offer at auction at 12 o'clock to-morrow, four shares in the capital stock of the Citizen's Skating Rink Co. Some curiosity is expressed as to what it will bring, this stock being regarded by many as about the best in the market, the dividend paid to the fortunate shareholders this year, reaching the handsome figure of twenty per cent., whilst the banks have paid but nine per cent. The net earnings of the rink for the past five years have been eighty-one per cent, and the EXCESS of assetts over liabilities is fifty-one per cent., of the capital stock (as per annual report in May last) thus proving rink stock to be a safe and good investment for our capitalists.

THE performance of the Folies Dramatiques at Market Hall last evening, was one of the best our citizens have witnessed for some time. There was a refreshing novelty in the style of entertainment, the characters being evidently in the hands of artists of experience. The numerous and varied personations were given with an artistic fidelity to Nature, while the whole was so bristled and bubbled with fun that the audience were kept in an almost constant roar of laughter. Through the whole entertainment the most fastidious would fail to detect a word, look or gesture, that could be coarsely or indelicately construed. Space will not permit us to individualize to any extent, but we cannot refrain from referring to the singing of Arzena, and the comic specialities of Sidney Burt. The former possesses a voice of rare sweetness well under control; and the latter, a wealth of facial expression, as well as the rare faculty of never overdoing. To-night, the company present their own version of the well-known Uncle Tom's Cabin, expressly arranged by Chas. McGinnis, and we bespeak for them a bumper house.

"You can't bid at this sale, sir." "Yes, I can." "Well, what do you bid?" "I bid you good-day." Marks, in Uncle Tom to-night."

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FREDERICTON, June 8.

His Honor the Lieut. Governor is much improved since yesterday, and his complete recovery is now quite certain.

AMHERST, June 8.

While working in S. E. Freeman's mill, at Athol, yesterday, Richard Chapman was struck by a deal which caught in the saw, and so seriously injured that he died in half an hour.

QUEBEC, June 8.

Among the bills to-day was one to incorporate the Restigouche Salmon Club. A number of New York gentlemen have bought out Dan Frazer's well known place and his salmon fishing rights. They propose to establish there a summer resort and to build cottages for their families.

A railway is proposed to connect the Grand Trunk Railway and the Quebec Government line by a short line on the Island of Montreal from Point Eclare to Sault au Recollect. The idea is an old one, but the scheme is important from many respects of the western carrying trade.

The government's resolutions asking for authority to complete the bridge at Hull, connecting the Q. M. O. & O. R. with the Canada Central, were passed unanimously, the opposition not being able to move an amendment to their own scheme. Mr. Chapleau attended to the important need of securing at once the benefits of running powers over the Central, granted by the Dominion Parliament last session in view of the importance of the latter road as a thorough line from Sault Ste Marie to the West.

Joly repudiated all conciliation, and declared himself a thorough party man, taking the responsibility for the obstinacy with which all offers of coalition were rejected last session. He admitted that they had been made on his own side. This avowal causes much surprise, and is considered fatal to his reputation for moderation and personal independence.

The first want of confidence motion is being discussed. It is an amendment to the proposal of the Government to make uniform the laws relating to stamp duties upon legal documents. Any intention or need of imposing new taxes is repudiated by the Government, and the whole thing is a pretext founded upon the imposition of a ten cent duty upon certain exhibits in the commissioners' courts, the increase in revenue from which would amount to $900. All the other duties are already authorized by statute. The bill to be introduced is simply a consolidation, intended to make a uniform tariff so as to secure the proper fulfilment of their duties by officers of the Courts. Hitherto they have been seriously neglected under the pretext of the obscurity of the law and much loss of revenue has been the consequence. The amendment affirms the desirability of economy, instead of the imposition of fresh taxation.

The debate is likely to last some time, but the Government will be well supported. Tarte of Bonaventure has declared his intention to vote with them.

MONTREAL, June 8.

The scene in court this morning during the $15,000 robbery case, when McNamee called Mouseau, Q. C., Crown prosecutor, "an infamous liar," which resulted in a row, is the subject of great interest this afternoon. At the afternoon session McNamee was addressed by the Court, composed of Messrs. Desnoyers and Dugas. Mr. Desnoyers said:

"Before any other proceedings go on, it becomes my duty to call on one citizen to leave this court. This morning in court he was guilty of contempt by using gross and contemptuous language to the Bar and to representatives of the Crown. Like everybody else, I was taken so much by surprise that I was unable to meet it as I should have done. However, the majesty of the court has to be vindicated, and such conduct as you, Mr. McNamee, made yourself guilty of, cannot pass unpunished. It becomes my duty to order your personal arrest and to proceed to pass sentence on you for contempt of court this morning. Mr. Chief of Police, arrest Mr. McNamee."

Chief Paradis and Detective Lafon placed themselves one on either side of Mr. McNamee.

Mr. Desnoyers—"Have you anything to say Mr. McNamee, why sentence should not be passed upon you?"

Mr. McNamee apologized for the language addressed to the court, but renewed his attack on the Crown Prosecutor, who, he said, had grossly insulted him.

Mr. Desnoyers—"I am glad you have taken back one part of the offence, but there remains the insult to the officers and majesty of the law, which must be vindicated. I cannot allow such scenes to occur here. I had intended to imprison you for a longer period, but, taking into consideration the excuse, I will be as lenient with you as possible. You are now sentenced to imprisonment in the common jail for ten (10) days."

Mr. McNamee then walked over to the Central Police Station, leaning on the arm of Chief Paradis. It is said that an attempt will be made to rescue McNamee by his friends, but the latter would not submit to such conduct.

"No, MASSA, you can't have my soul, for that is given to the Lord, and he is well able to take care of it." Uncle Tom to Simon Legree, at Market Hall to-night.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."
