AGRICULTURAL NEWS

P.E.I. Department of Agriculture

This undesirable weed is found chiefly in hay and grain fields along road sides and in waste places. The seeds are produced in large quantities. The best control is pulling or cutting before seed is produced. If this weed is found in hay or along road sides it should be pulled, once it starts spreading through hay fields there is no control except chipping.

In order to identify the plant the description is that it is a biennial or short lived perennial with thick fleshy roots; stems grow to two to three feet high, hairy; leaves opposite on the stems, pointed, hairy; flowers large, fragrant, petals white, flowers either male or female, the sexes are on different plants. They flower chiefly during the months of June, July, August and September.

INCREASED BREEDING

The first five months of 1958 have shown a marked increase in the number of cattle artificially bred on Prince Edward Island over the previous year. To date 2967 cows have been artificially bred. The month of May shows the highest number namely: 1077. The number bred each month are listed below with the numbers in brackets representing those of the 1957.

Table with 2 columns: Month and Number. January 367 (186), February 360 (216), March 509 (307), April 654 (409), May 1077 (617)

The figures noted above represent an increase of 71 per cent over 1957. This period has shown the most rapid increase of any period since Artificial Insemination was established here in the province.

Ten breeds are available daily, namely: Holstein, Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey, Dual Purpose Shorthorn, Beef Shorthorn, Hereford, Aberdeen Angus, Red Poll and Charolais.

If you require service phone the inseminator in your area before ten in the morning to receive service that day. It is important that full co-operation on the part of the members is extended to the inseminators particularly during the next three months which are the heaviest months in breeding cattle in this province. By phoning before ten o'clock in the morning it affords the inseminator the opportunity to lay out his route and hence cut down the number of miles which he has to drive and also to extend a better service to the members of the Club. Cattle which come in heat in the latter part of the day are far better bred the next day than they are bred that day. There is a greater chance of them getting in calf if this procedure is followed.

Hot Weather And Production: The importance of the extra care that must be given to layers during hot weather periods is shown in the following excerpts from a bulletin on the "Effect of Air Temperature Rise on Laying Hens." It says in part: As air temperature increases from 70 degrees to 100 degrees, F. - 1. Body temperature increases (of the hen) rises. 2. Respiration rate increases 2.7 times. 3. Heart rate is lowered. 4. Water consumption increases 35 per cent (for Leghorns) from 7.6 gallons per 100 hens to 10.3 gallons per 100 hens daily. 5. Feed intake is decreased 60 per cent. 6. Egg weight declines by 11 per cent. 7. Egg shell thickness declines to 77 per cent. (After a short period of high temperatures, shell thickness did not return to normal until after two weeks of cooler temperatures.) 8. Blood calcium level decreases 25 to 30 per cent. 9. Hens lose weight, paralleling reduced feed intake. 10. Egg production drops 53 per cent. 11. At 100 degrees F., fertility and hatchability decline and death losses increase. O'Leary 4-H Calf Club The O'Leary 4-H Calf Club held their regular meeting on June 6th at the home of Donna Smallman. The President, Sheldon MacLellan presided. Roll call was answered by 14 members. It was moved and seconded that only two members of the one family be on the lunch committee. A judging class will be held on the same evening. A short study period followed after which the meeting adjourned. Elaine Palmer, Secretary. Bedeque V-E 4-H Calf Club On May 29th the Bedeque V-E Calf Club held their judging class followed by a regular meeting. The President, Carl Wright called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered by 14 members with four new prospective members present. Some of them being interested in starting a beef breed in the club. Mr. Allan Palmer, Agricultural Representative was present and discussed the possibilities of having a club rally in July which would likely be held in the High School Auditorium, Summerside. The next judging class is to be held at Edwin Lord's and the next regular meeting will be held at Wilbert Wright's on June 30th. The following new committees were appointed: Lunch, Morley Wright and Marion Stavert. Owing to the length of the program the same committee will act for next meeting. The meeting adjourned.
