Let's Talk It Over

Nothing truer has ever been said than that we are as old as we feel. Or perhaps it would be more accurate to say, we are as old as our attitudes towards the great human comedy that swirls around us.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The "Santa Anita" of the Marltime has been officially opened, and harness racing will doubtless become bigger and better in Prince County as time goes by.

Gals Defeat Andy's Aces 8-3

George's Gals defeated Andy's Aces in a regular League fixture at the Queen Elizabeth softball diamond last night by the score of 8-3. The game ended as the last half of the fifth inning was under way, when Umpire Sullivan awarded the game to the Gals because of the wild disorder prevailing on the diamond.

Dunning-Hardy Wedding

A pretty June wedding was solemnized in the O'Leary United Church, Wednesday afternoon, June 24, at 3 o'clock, when Evelyn Gay Dunning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Gay of O'Leary, became the bride of Douglas John Hardy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey E. Hardy of Charlottetown.

Rev. John M. Sheer performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. J. M. MacWilliam was in charge of the wedding music. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of lilies, snowballs, peonies, pansies and other spring flowers. Miniature nosegays of white pansies and forget-me-nots marked the guest pews. Mr. Albert Noonan, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Ann Bradshaw of Charlottetown, aunt of the bride, as matron of honor and Mrs. Lawrence Harris as bridesmaid. Mr. Norman Hardy, cousin of the groom, was best man. Grant Noonan acted as ring-bearer.

The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white brocaded satin, fashioned in princess style, long sleeves pointed at the wrists with tiny buttons, and sweetheart neckline. A tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones held in place the illusion veil. She carried a white Bible and a bouquet of white carnations. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Mr. Bradshaw was gowned in yellow nylon net with bolero, matching head-dress and mitts. Her flowers were white mums. The bridesmaid wore blue corded taffeta with matching head-dress and mitts and she carried yellow daisies. Jean Vessey, niece of the groom who acted as flower girl wore pink corded taffeta with mixed flowers. The ring bearer wore a suit of white gabardine with black bow-tie.

Ushering the guests were Cpl. H. M. Groust and L.A.C. H. Porter. During the signing of the register Mr. Albert Noonan sang "I'll Walk Beside You". Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Gay wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a pink corsage, while the groom's mother was attired in a mauve dress with a pink neck-piece and a yellow corsage.

The guest book was in charge of Miss Bernice MacDougall. The buffet lunch was served by friends of the bride while the bride's two aunts, Mrs. Chesley Woodside and Mrs. Ralph Gay presided over the tea cups.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy left on a short visit with friends in Charlottetown. On their return they left for a three week honeymoon trip to the U.S.A. The bride travelled in a blue suit with white accessories.

George Bernard Shaw was of the same ilk. The impact of ninety years had thundered at the citadel of his physical frame and brought it tumbling down, but his mind and spirit were still possessed with the courage and curiosity of youth.

From a mental and spiritual standpoint he did not grow old, but was cut off in the flower of his prime.

The men who searched for the fountain of youth in the everglades of Florida were disappointed. But the lives of some of our men and women furnish indisputable proof that there is such a fountain, born of a sort of intellectual curiosity that hardened arteries and faltering footsteps cannot quench. This may be a gift to which some of us may not hope to aspire, but perhaps we can go a little way towards the desired goal by striving to keep interested in the people and events about us.

Silver Anniversary Marked At Kensington

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Saunders of Kensington were 25 years married on June 27. The celebration of this Silver Anniversary began when the couple attended Mass in the Holy Family Church, Kensington at 7 a. m.

Messages of congratulations and gifts from absent relatives and friends by mail and special delivery made the day a memorable one. At 5 p. m. Mrs. Harold McEvoy of Summerside and Miss Mary Ready of Montreal escorted the celebrants to Cavendish for a special anniversary dinner. Arriving back in Kensington, Mr. and Mrs. Saunders found their home invaded by a host of well-wishers. Mr. Louis O'Connor as Master of ceremonies, explained their object, and Dr. James I. Higgins read an address.

Several beautiful gifts were presented, a silver service from the Produce dealers and Inspectors with whom Mr. Saunders has been associated and two travelling bags from other friends of Kensington and vicinity. On a table adorned with several gifts of silver was a beautiful table lamp, the gift of their son, James, Mr. William McLeod of Charlottetown. Rev. R. F. McDonald, former pastor of Indian River and Mr. James Pendergast spoke briefly, extolling the virtues of this popular couple. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, in their own inimitable manners, replied, thanking their friends for their gifts and good wishes. A pleasant social evening followed with the ladies of the community serving delicious refreshments. Following is the address:

Kensington, P.E.I. June 27, 1953

Mr. and Mrs. James Saunders: On this, the occasion of your 25th wedding anniversary, the citizens of Kensington and vicinity have gathered here to join with you in celebrating the memorable event, and to leave with you some concrete tokens of our esteem in which you are held by the community.

You, Patricia, have always given very graciously of your time and talents to all phases of community life. Your active interest in the Home and School Association, the C.W.L., the Community Club, any other local or parish activity must have been a great sacrifice of your time, yet everything was done with such a natural cheerfulness that one would think that these were the only interests of your life.

You, Jim, like your esteemed wife, have also contributed generously to all phases of life in the community. Your active interest in the school, where you served as trustee, in your church where you also served as trustee and taught catechism to the children, your unflagging enthusiasm for anything that would benefit your community has been a source of strength to many organizations and meetings.

Together you made a home—a home which is everything a Christian home should be—happy, pious, charitable and hospitable. All society is based on three main divisions, the family, the church and the state. Yet it is the family or the home that is the foundation of the other two and it is the home that supplies the proper environment for the molding of character and the formation of a healthy society. Your home and your family life should serve as a model for the rest of us, and it will always remain as an example for us to follow.

We in Kensington and vicinity are very fortunate to have such an outstanding couple as the Saunders in our midst and we think it only fitting that we should gather friends wish them much happiness and prosperity in their life together.

Shining Hour, a bay horse owned by Mrs. Walter Baggs of New York, and out of the training stables of Don Cadeagan of Glace Bay, lowered his record on Saturday evening to 2:10 1-5. We were talking to Mrs. Cadeagan and she was greatly impressed with the new Summerside Raceway. Their party came in by plane, and the pilot dipped his wings over the race track to give them a good aerial view of the new structure. Mrs. Cadeagan readily admitted that the new Summerside track is away ahead of the Sporting Centre in Sydney.

Elmer Lach made a very good impression on Summerside sports fans. A very likeable chap, with no sign of showing he realized what an important sports figure he really is. Elmer was broke into the N. H. L. directly from an amateur club, but that it was much easier to do that thirteen years ago than it is now. Recruits generally get "farmed" to minor professional clubs before they are thought ready for the big show. Lach had quite a chat with Mrs. Charlie Cahill, Charlottetown, Summerside's lone representative of N.H.L. ranks. He was through, of course, before Lach broke in.

Summerside's "Miracle Man" in the realm of baseball has been persuaded to take over the coaching of Holman's Intermediates, and we warn all other clubs in the Island League that the present cellar dwellers will be looking for a place on the roof before long. The presence of Charlie Moran as a coach is bound to inspire these boys to greater effort. Who knows? Maybe Charlie will bring back the Maritime Intermediate crown to Summerside before the season is over.

George's Gals, those high-stepping lasses who have been tromping every team in sight all summer, have received a 15-4 pasting from their deadly rivals, Andy's Aces. There were signs that this might happen for over a week when the Aces were drubbing air-force teams by lop-sided scores, and the Gals were winning by more modest margins, but still you wager that the girls in dark blue could find many who would could take Lash Schurman's league leading fence. There is a lot of feeling between the two town rivals, and the next time they meet, no holds will be barred. Right now those teams would rather beat each other than win an Irish sweepstake. Certainly one of the reasons for the sudden rise of the seafood girls is the remarkable improvement in the pitching of Marie Peters. You've got to hand it to Marie for pluck and determination. Three weeks ago her pitching left a lot to be desired, and the gorgeous gals shelled her off the mound in a hurry. But Marie wouldn't quit. She got Ar MacKinnon, a well-known softball pitcher of a few years back, to give her some pointers, and zowie, how that gal has improved! So she may have the last laugh on those Gals after all. Then, of course, there is always the possibility that the Schurman-Phillips crew, who are lusty hitters, may beat her the next game. It's going to be interesting, to watch, in any case.

here tonight to do honor to you on such a happy occasion. Therefore we would like you to accept these gifts which carry with them the wish that you may enjoy them for many years.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Maureen Connolly, California's sunny little queen of tennis, won a battle of bar-line sharpshooting Saturday from her traditional foe, Doris Dart, to take her second straight Wimbledon singles championship.

Maureen won 8-6, 7-5, but the championship didn't come easy. Her Coral Gables, Fla., opponent, Senor in experience by about 10 seasons, scrapped for every point and placement.

The women's championship—with 16,000 Britons looking on—was the 10th straight won by an American girl. The last native to take the championship, which practically every player calls "the world's championship", was Dorothy Round in 1937.
