

Electors, Attention!

The Liberal-Conservative Committee on revision of the Voters' List respectfully notifies voters not already registered...

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 29, 1889.

Notes and Comments.

An Ottawa despatch says that Charlottetown has been created a port of registry under the act respecting the registration and classification of ships.

Minnesota has recently enacted a law prohibiting the publication of accounts of legal executions, and the Attorney-General of the State says that the law is constitutional.

Judging by the tenor of late despatches the heavy rains of last week in Kansas, welcomed as a preventive of hot winds and as the saviour of the corn crop, seem to have done almost as much harm as good.

Wyoming is one of the few places where women are recognized as the equals of men before the law. They can vote, they can hold office, they can sit on juries, and the latest advices from that territory describe how they hanged a woman on the same limb of a big cottonwood tree with a man, one dangling at each end of the rope provided for the occasion.

Reports as to the condition of the crops in Manitoba and Ontario are published. On the whole the reports are very satisfactory. In Manitoba wheat will be an average crop, barley a two-thirds crop, with oats not so good.

A presentment recently made by a grand jury in New York shows a deplorable state of things in some of the institutions of that city. The Ward's Island Asylum is reported to have 447 inmates more than can be fitly accommodated.

World's fairs are big undertakings as they are managed now. The Philadelphia Exposition in 1876 received an appropriation of $1,500,000 from the city of Philadelphia.

Now that the fountain on Queen Square is in working order—the temporary ornamental jets having been placed in position—it may not be out of place to intimate that Mr. Newbery is open to receive the present of a fountain from any man, number of men, or society desirous of having their name or names handed down to posterity as citizens who were abreast of the times in their day and generation.

The Toronto Mail has virtually thrown up the "unrestricted reciprocity" sponge. It thinks there is no use in keeping up the agitation in Canada unless Mr. Harrison and the Republican leaders in the United States Congress show a disposition to meet them half way.

If the Americans, or what is the same thing, the party dominant at Washington, is not disposed to discuss such a question (unrestricted reciprocity) it is no longer worth while for us to advocate it.

The editor of the Patriot should make a note of the above extract. The people of Toronto are discussing the advisability of having a by-law passed prohibiting the parading on the streets of that city of all bands excepting military bands and those who shall have obtained special permission from the authorities so to do.

Another source of trouble is the Salvation Army bands, which fill the air with discordant pipings every night, to the terror of horses and to the annoyance of quiet neighborhoods. If they did any good, the objection might not be so applicable, but as they are used solely to drum up a crowd to put money in the pockets of Booth's agents in this city, they should come under the operations of the by-law and be incontinent suppressed.

MILITIA VS. CIVILIANS.

A VERY interesting match was played on Saturday, being the third of the series, in which the Militia had won the first and the Civilians the second. The Militia won the toss, and sent their opponents to the bat. Longworth and Martin managed the bowling so effectively that the wickets were all down for the small score of 27 runs.

Table with columns: CIVILIANS, MILITIA, Runs. Lists players and their runs for both teams.

We are agreeably surprised to see such fine celery, cabbage, cauliflower, green and butter beans, beets, carrots, onions, lettuce, etc. at Gay's stalls, Market House.
