What A Race

WE were among the privileged one to witness that great pacing classic Wednesday night at Sackville Downs.

We expected to see one of the greatest free-for-alls of our time and we were not disappointed. It had everything any race fan could wish for.

Naturally Island racing fans were disappointed because June Byrd or Hi-Jay didn't head the summary but in this kind of an engagement all horses were terrific.

But the big roan, Dee's Boy, handled expertly by Kensington's Myron MacArthur, was just unbeatable Wednesday at the Downs. His breaking of the track record brought driver MacArthur a cheque for $500 from Downs president Capt John Cruickshank. And make no mistake about it, no $500 was given with greater glee. The Capt and his son Jack wanted this to happen and they were both overjoyed at it coming about.

We really didn't think the track record would fall Wednesday night although we were anticipating a honey of a bottle. But it tumbled in great style as the 4000 spectators shouted themselves hoarse.

It was indeed a night to remember.

June Byrd Great

JUNE Byrd didn't win a dash but she went her best mile since coming to the Maritimes. Unofficially her time was 2.03:2, a truly great performance.

Her owners should be mighty proud of the game pacer that has been so consistently good since coming this way. Her greatest moment was in the first trip Wednesday after she had relinquished the lead to Dee's Boy and appearing to be falling well off the pace in the homelane.

This was the time that Jack Ferguson asked the mare for one more effort and she gave it in courageous fashion.Steadily she closed the gap on the flying roan and finished at his bike in the record-breaking time of 2.03:1.

What more can you expect of any race horse?

WE don't believe owner Bill Boyles was too disappointed in his Hi-Jay.

After all, they tell us that all horses were home in at least 2.05 in that opening mile and that's not bad going on any racetrack.

Folks must remember that Hi-Jay has had little time to rest since coming to Charlottetown. He arrived in Charlottetown July 21 after a long haul from Yonkers. On July 24 he was off to Sydney for Jim Ferguson's $3000 Dosco Special. From Sydney he shipped back to Charlottetown and Tuesday last went on the van again to Sackville Downs.

That's covering a lot of territory in a short time and undoubtedly it took its toll on the seven-year-old gelding. However, despite many jaunts Hi-Jay was able to show great speed in the big one last Wednesday night.

Right now he is to get a well-deserved rest and will not see action until the first big free-for-all of Old Home Week that goes on Monday August 13. He will be in top form for this major attraction and his summary in these two dashes certainly be much more impressive.

Track Is Great

THE Sackville Downs track was in the best shape ever. Every horseman we spoke to had the same story and we got to inquire how this was so after the heavy rains of this summer.

Jack Cruickshank tells us that stone dust is liberally applied after every rain and that management and drivers have been delighted with the result. If this is the case in Sackville Downs, it certainly should apply to all other tracks that are finding it difficult to keep their ovals in shape under these adverse weather conditions.

You can't argue with success and the Downs surely produced a speedy track when miles of 2.03:1 and 2.03:4 were dished out.

Our thanks to the Sackville Downs management for the many courtesies extended during our brief stay. Both the Captain and Jack Jr. did everything possible to make things pleasant and they surely succeeded.

Of course, their hospitality came as no surprise. It's the same every time we are able to make our way to the Downs.

Pistons Crush Irish 11-1 For Series Lead

Canadian Tire Pistons took a 2-1 lead in their best of seven City Softball League semi-final series with BIS Shamrocks last evening by crushing the Irish 11-1.

Lloyd 'Teet' Gregory handled the mound chores for the winners, giving up six hits over the 7-inning route. The six singles were well spaced and no Shamrock sticker got more than one hit. Gregory also walked two and struck out one.

Portsider Sterling Simms was the starting and losing pitcher. Simms was taken out in favor of Joe Thistle in the third inning and was charged with the Pistons' first seven runs. During his short stint on the mound the BIS southpaw gave up three hits and walked five.

When Thistle came in on relief, Simms went out to left field. Thistle was charged with four hits, two walks and struck out two.

POOR BACKING

The Shamrock pitchers got poor backing from their fielders with a total of five costly errors being committed. Along with their seven run barrage in the second inning, the Pistons counted one in the fifth and three in the sixth for the eleven runs. The Irish counted both their runs in the sixth inning on a single, two errors and a sacrifice fly to left field by George Bradley.

Piston catcher Charlie Smith was the only player to get more than one hit for the winners, garnering a single and a double in three official appearances.

The fielding gem of the game was a shoe string catch by Sterling Simms in left in the fourth inning. Simms was playing deep for slugger Merle 'Kingfish' Longaphie but the Piston first-sacker poked a fly ball to shallow left field. Simms, after a long run, caught it at his boot-tops, lost his balance and rolled over. Pistons' first seven runs. During his short stint on the mound the BIS southpaw gave up three hits and walked five.

When Thistle came in on relief, Simms went out to left field. Thistle was charged with four hits, two walks and struck out two.

Buck Whitlock's Stars crushed the front-running Dodgers 14-4 in City Baseball League action at Memorial Field last evening.

Southpaw Wilf Shepherd went the route for the winners and limited Irv MacKinnon's stickers to five hits, the longest a double to Len Arsenault in the second inning. Shepherd also walked four, hit one batter and struck out eight.

The Stars got to starting and losing pitcher Earl 'Lefty' Perry early in the game and he was charged with nine of the fourteen runs scored by the winners. Perry hurled the first five innings, giving up a total of ten hits, walking three and fanning two.

Reliefer Pat Sherren gave up six hits over the remaining distance, issuing one free ticket to first and sending none down via the strikeout route.

There were only two innings that the Stars were unable to score any runs. They counted two in the first, 2 in the third, 1 in the fourth, 3 in the fifth, 2 in the 7th and 3 in the eighth.

Large Exactor Features Race Card At Local Oval

A $422.40 exactor on the seventh dash featured last night's nine dash program at the Charlottetown Driving Park. Only two lucky ticket holders had the right combination of Anthony L and Wing Victory for the whopping pay. Wing Victory had finished first in the race but was set back to second for a long gaining run.

The card also featured fast times with the slowest time on the program being 2.13.

Three of the winners took new marks. In the curtain raiser it was Mai-Kai first under the wire in 2.12:3 for a new record. Col. Dan's Garth's Best took a new mark of 2.13 in winning the second dash. His mark going into the race was 2.14-4. Miss Kemble, driven by Don MacNeill, lowered her mark by more than two seconds in capturing the sixth race on the card in 2.12-1.

HAS BEST TIME

Dominion Byrd, owned and driven by Doug Hill of Charlottetown captured the feature Junior Free-for-all with times of 2.08-1 and 2.06 flat. His 2.06 mile was the fastest time of the night.

Ten Genesee swept both dashes of an AB trot and pace event in identical times of 2.10-4. The other lone dash winner was Chief Ozaukee in the third race.

There were some other terrific pays. The first double paid $50.70 on a combination of Mai-Kai and Garth's Best, the quinella $39.70 and the second double $30.20.

The biggest single pay was a win ticket on Chief Ozaukee in the third dash which returned $13.60. Anthony L paid $12.60 to win in the 7th.

A cooler, donated by Hillside Motors to the horse with the best summary in the 3rd and 7th dashes, a B pace event, was presented to Lorne Hennessey, who was reining Anthony L. The 12-year-old chestnut horse, owned by Claude Murphy of Charlottetown, emerged with a 3-1 summary.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Hunting Prospects For 1962 Certainly Not Promising

In this enlightened age we are prone to look upon the far distant past as the period of the Dark Ages when man did not possess the high mentality of the present period of Space exploration. How mistaken can we be? Four thousand years ago in Egyptian Pharaoh dreamed of building a dam and harnessing the waters of the mighty Nile and eliminating the threat of starvation that plagued his people at frequent intervals during his reign. Today Russian engineers are in sight of the goal of this mighty project designed to bring prosperity, without fear of starvation, to millions of Egyptian peasants.

Fifty-six years ago, I, along with my brothers, worked with my father, the late Robert Jenkins, in helping build a dam. It was slow, labourious work via the pick and shovel, horse and cart route. As usual we encountered trouble with breaks in the 'waste gate' section and he finally upon the bypass system. This same bypass is in operation today. My father always dreamed about building dams... the more the better was his motto. It took a long time for his dream to come true. Sometimes when I watch a D-7 bulldozer moving as much 'fill' in a hour that would take 20 horses and carts and fifty or 60 men days to accomplish I wonder what the old timers would think if they could look down upon the scene.

NOT BRIGHT

To date the hunting prospects for 1962 are not too rosy. Teal show promise but there is a big question mark with respect to black ducks. This could be due to the high water mark prevailing during July. As a rule all swales and shallow ponds are bone dry at July's end and the ducks have to resort to the regular hangouts available where they are more noticeable. The first week in September should have the answer to both the black and lesser ducks status. Not a single Hun covey has been reported to date but this is understandable in view of hay-ing being practically at a standstill. What about pheasants? do I hear someone inquire. They are just a golden dream of the past in the days when they lent the colours of the rainbow to our landscape.

The overall picture on trout fishing is down to its lowest ebb in years. Some claim that the run of sea trout is down but I'm inclined to accept this contention with a grain of salt. We have one run in late June or the first few days in July known to all wielders of rod and line as the Strowberry Run. This run according to reports was normal but the sea trout have a tendency this summer to drift in and out with the tide since July ushered in. There is a late spawning run beginning in September but this columnist trout temperature is low at this stage and my fingers feel more at home cluching a 12 double shotgun but not to use on ducks before months end.

ON JUMPING SPREE

A resident of Panmure Island told me this week that one evening a few days ago heavyweight sea trout went on a jumping spree off an Island bar. Some would go two and three feet out of the water and he reckoned many were in the three and four pound class. It's only on rare occasions trout act like that, in salt water and the cause may only be guessed at. I have watched them roll on the surface when they were so close packed one could transverse walking on them. One evening this week I stopped to chat with an angler of many acquantance. He had managed to land three nice trout on a midget fly that looked different from any such lure I have ever seen. We were standing on Moore's Bridge and I could spot some hefty specimens lazily finning against the slight current. He told me that a few days ago a monster trout at Vernon River made a pass at his offering and missed, either accidentally or on purpose, that he appreciated the miss I mean. He told me he is thankful if he ever saw a larger speckled trout rise to his lure and was convinced he never would have been able to handle it. He's had a lot of experience with big trout and when he admitted he was glad he didn't tangle with that one it must have been a whale of a trout.

When a big tackle buster heads seaward with the throttle wide open something has to give when end of line is reached... and it could be more than the cast and some top trout lines cost a lot of money. It's not worth a few seconds thrill.

Airmen Defeat Legion Jrs. 15-9

SUMMERSIDE — The RCAF baseball team defeated the Legion Juniors at Queen Elizabeth Park last evening by the score of 15-9, thus preventing the legionaires from clinching first place in the Summerside Town League standing.

It was a free-hitting contest. Lorne MacDougall, starting on the mound for the airforce, got credit for the win, the score being 10-9 in RCAF's favor when he retired in favor of Hugh Spicer. MacDougall gave up 11 hits, walked 4, and struck out 2 in the 4 2-3 innings he worked. Spicer was touched for only two hits in the remaining 2 1-3 frames. He whiffed two and walked one.

George McNeill, losing Legion pitcher, worked in the first inning but failed to get anyone out. He gave up 3 hits and a walk before Richard Perry took his place. Perry pitched 4 innings, allowed 6 hits, struck out one batter and hit one. Terry Carrier, came in to pitch the last two innings. He was tagged for 3 hits, walked 5, sent one batter down via the strikeout and hit one.

Hugh Spicer led the airforce attack, getting a home run just inside the right field foul line, and two singles in 4 trips two two-baggers in 5 at bats.

Donnie "Turk" Arsenault led the Legionaires with 3 singles but really placed just over the infield, in 5 attempts. Malcolm Matheson had a triple and single in 4 official trips. Lloyd 'Toy Toy' Gallant also hit 2 for 4.

Spider Crawford made a spectacular pick of Shewchuk's grounder to short in the last inning and MacDonald, RCAF centrefielder, faded back nicely to grab Lloyd Gallant's deep fly to centre in the second inning.
