A QUEBEC CONCERN WHICH IS VERY MUCH ALIVE.

The Dominion Corset Company Open up Their New Factory in Quebec.

About one hundred of the leading merchants of Quebec City were present on October 13th to see the Hon. P. Garneau start the machinery in the new works of the Dominion Corset Co., on Dorchester Street.

Mr. George Amyot, the President and manager, at whose invitation the company had met, then headed an inspection of the handsome premises and finally in his office a champagne lunch was served and after some speeches and many congratulations to Mr. Amyot on his new works, the company dispersed.

The factory is a building 40 feet by 200, and four stories high, a model of cleanliness and brightness, and replete with every device to facilitate good work, both in office and factory and assure the greatest comfort to the three hundred odd people who are employed in it. A Corliss engine of 80 horse power, and a dynamo with a capacity of 200 lamps of 16-candle power, supply power and artificial light. This corset factory is the largest by far of any in Canada, yet it is taxed to its utmost to turn out the orders which the nine travellers kept all the time on the road have no trouble in securing for the "D & A" Corsets, as the product of these works are known. A box factory employing 75 hands, is also run in connection with the Corset works.

This factory is a great addition to the already numerous large industrial works in the old capital and it would be hard to find in all America a corset factory as well equipped as these new works of the Dominion Corset Company.

Mr. Amyot, the proprietor must be a pretty busy man, as he is also proprietor of the "Rock Spring Brewery," whose product has more than a local fame, and is one of the directors of the Canadian Electric Light Co., Ltd.

Bismarck's Intense Hate.

That Prince Bismarck was a good hater is shown in the reminiscences of Herr von Tiedemann, formerly chief of the imperial chancellery. During the first dinner at which Herr von Tiedemann was present with the prince Bismarck said he thought Goethe was wrong in saying that only love beautified life. Hate did the same service and was quite as great a vivifier as love. "To me," added the prince, "are indispensable love for my wife and hate for Windhorst." One morning Bismarck said to Herr von Tiedemann, "I have not been able to sleep, I have hated the whole night."

Domestic Science.

"What do you understand by the department of domestic science?"

"It's where they teach women how to keep their husbands away from the clubs."

Of course the answer was wrong, but they all felt that she ought to go to the head of the class just the same.—Chicago Post.

As late as 1682 squirts or syringes were used for extinguishing fire in England, and their length did not exceed two or three feet, with pipes of leather. Water tight seamless hose was first made in Bethnal Green in 1720.

SMILE TEMPTERS.

After a Bargain.

"One dollar a yard!" she exclaimed when the shop assistant had told her the price. "Why, that's exorbitant."

"We can't afford to sell it for any less," replied the young man.

"Well, I know where I can get it for less," she replied, "and I am too good a business woman to pay more than a thing is worth."

And then she marched out of the shop and paid 50 cents for a hansom to go to a place where she could get the same thing for 98 cents.—Metropolitan.

The Ruling Attraction.

The Proprietor—Did you put up the biggest "Friday Bargain Sale" card?

The Clerk—Yes, sir.

The Proprietor—And the "Less Than Cost" banner, and the "For Two Hours Only" placard, and the "But One to Each Purchaser" sign?

The Clerk—Yes, sir, all of them.

The Proprietor—Then what in Tophet caused all those women to run out of the store?

The Clerk—A passing soldier, sir.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Agoinado.

I've no Wagnerian outfit.

No horns nor big bassoon.

But just the same, I'm happy

To sound my little tune.

I am my own director.

And when I'd have my way

No bilious solo player

Steps forth to say me nay.

They sneered at my ambitions,

But my music is endured

By an audience of patrons

Whose attention I've secured.

My heart is full of rapture,

My mood is ever bland,

For when I blow my whistle

I'm the leader of the band.

—Washington Star.

Limitations.

The young man with the military uniform had been telling of his hardships and dwelt with particular emphasis on the rations. He was eloquently indignant, when his mother interrupted.

"Ronald, people who hear you might think you do not love your country."

"Yes, I do love my country," he answered, "and I'm willing to overlook faults, but I'm blessed if I can go so far as to praise its cooking."—Washington Star.

Through Thick and Thin.

They are with us again, the brave laddies in blue.

And we welcome them all with a will.

And we'll help them forget all the woes they went through.

Where the battle notes echo and thrill.

And it's thankful we are there's no greater dismay

As we gaze on each conquering troop;

They are with us again from the thick of the fray

And the thin of the coffee and soup.

—New York Truth.

Evidence of Ability.

"Skidley always seems industrious," remarked the gossip. "And yet he never accomplishes much."

"Yes," replied the eager listener, "he's one of these people who whenever they do anything make you think they'd be first rate hands at something else."—Washington Star.

Fitting Punishment.

The playwright half his play had stolen.

Yet when first nighters mocked it madly

That author's cheeks with rage were swollen—

He thought his audience used him badly!

But, though the "gods" so fiercely roared,

We can't about unfairness quiz 'em;

It strikes us that the right reward

For plagiarism is play-jeer-ism!

—A. H. Sloper.

Digestibility of Cold Food.

It is impossible to digest articles of food until they are raised to a moderately high temperature. Much of the illness prevalent in summer would be avoided if people ate warm food, as they do in winter. Delicate persons especially should avoid cold dishes and drinks. They are extremely taxing to the digestive powers and a great draft on the vitality. The human system has just so much power in reserve, and if this is exhausted in warming up the large amount of cold food that is taken into the stomach there is but little left to carry on the other processes of existence.

A physician of wide experience says that for 45 years he has scarcely had a day's illness or an hour's pain, and this exemption from suffering he attributes to an unvarying practice of taking a plate of hot soup three or four times a day, winter and summer. His practice is largely metropolitan, and if he is tired or overtaxed he makes it his imperative duty to visit the nearest first class hotel and get a dish of the best soup he can find. He frequently takes it without accompaniment of any sort. Occasionally a cracker or roll is eaten at the same time.

This man declares that, all things being equal, he will stake his reputation on the theory that nine-tenths of the intestinal troubles of the summer season could be avoided by the systematic and frequent use of hot beverages, or, what is better, dishes of soup eaten as hot as they can be relished.—New York Ledger.

Coughs and colds need not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.
