Odds and Ends.

Not long since a green-looking Vermonter walked into the office of Dr. C. T. Jackson, the chemist.

"Dr. Jackson, I presume?" said he.

"Yes, sir."

"Are you alone?"

"Yes, sir."

"May I lock the door?" and he did so, and having looked behind the sofa and satisfied himself that no one else was in the room, he placed a large bundle, done up in a yellow bandanna, on the table, and opened it.

"There, Doctor, look at that."

"Well," said the Doctor, "I see it."

"What do you call that, Doctor?"

"I call it iron pyrites."

"What!" said the man, "isn't that stuff gold?"

"No." said the Doctor, "its good for nothing; it's pyrites;" and putting some over the fire in a shovel it evaporated up the chimney.

"Wal," said the poor fellow, with a woe-begone look, "there's a widder woman up our town has a whole hill full of that, and I've been and married her!"

How She Knew.—The young misses discussing the qualities of some young gentlemen, were overheard thus:

"Well, I like Charley, but he is a little girlish; he hasan't got the least bit of a beard.

"I say Charley has got a beard, but he shaves it off."

"No he hasn't either, any more than I have."

"I say he has, too, and I know it, for it pricked my cheek."

That's how she knew.

"Ma," said an affected young lady, "here is a grammatical error in the Bible." "Kill it," exclaimed the old lady; "kill the pesky thing; it's what's been eatin' the leaves and the book marks?"

When autumn is married to winter, the wedding-cake is always frosted.

"The Curse of Scotland,"—"The deil take' ye!"

The latest name for matrimony is—committing twoicide.

In Milwaukee they call a harness-maker a "horse milliner."

Why is a married man like a tallow candle? Because he often goes out at night when he ought not to.

It is true that bullets can sing and whistle, but they are not by any means agreeable companions.

An unsuccessful politician says that the most difficult vacancies for him to fill are the vacancies in his own and his family's stomachs.

When a boy passes through a churchyard in the night, does he whistle to keep his own spirits up, or to keep the spirits of other people down?

A boarding-house keeper in Springfield is in the habit, when her boarders neglect to pay up promptly, of placing an extra fork by their plate as a silent admonition to "fork over."

A "Shopping" Secret for Husbands.—Archdeacon Paley, in one of his familiar discourses, touching upon the expense brought upon husbands and fathers, in the way of cambrics and satins, says, "I never let my women (speaking of Mrs. Archdeacon Paley and the Misses Paley) when they shop take credit, I always make them pay ready money, sir; ready money is such a check upon the imagination."

MORAL GEMS.

You men that lie in your business, do you ever think while telling a lie that you might drop into Hell?

All troubles have their commisssion and instructions from God.

If Christians lived near to God, they would have no difficult in loving one another.

Men will cheerfully give up their property to save the life of the body, and yet, for the sake of property, they will sacrifice the life of their souls.

Deliberate with caution, but act with decision; and yield with graciousness, or oppose with firmness.

Better to be despised for too anxious an apprehension than ruined by too confident a security.

The safe and reliable man is the Christian, the man that really loves God. Not the professor, but the possessor of religion.

It is safer to affront some people than to oblige them; for the better a man deserves, the worse they will speak of him.

"I can forgive," says some, "but I cannot forget." Woe to us should God make the same distinction. But forgiving and a disposition to forget, are the same. If the memory of an injury is cherished, it is not forgiven.

Adversity has ever been considered as the state in which a man most easly becomes acquainted with himself—particularly being free from flatters.

The more you do for God in this world, the more he will do for you in the world to come.

Death to God's people is but a ferry-boat. Every day and every hour the boat pushes off with some of the saints, and returns for more.

Let Jesus Christ be all in all; study Christ, preach Christ, live Christ.

One soul converted to God is better than thousands merely moralized, and still sleeping in their sins.

The liar is the greatest fool; but the next greatest is he that tells all he knows. A prudent reticence is the highest practical wisdom. Silence has made more fortune than the most gifted eloquence.

Transact busines with men of the world like a person in a shower of rain, staying no longer than is indispensable necessary.

"There are no fragments so precious as those of time, and none are so heedlessly lost by people who cannot make a moment, and yet can waste years."

The most glittering services of unregenrate persons are but dead works, because they proceed not from a principle of life.

CARTER'S

Combined Writing & Copying

INK!

THIS COMBINATION INK has been awarded the highest premiums over all others in the United States, and pronounced by the most celebrated Chemists the best ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest commercial houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations, and gives perfect satisfaction.

The Advantages of this over other Inks, are:

First.—It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.

Second.—It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.

Third—It will not mould.

Fourth—Being equally as good for copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of ink.

Fifth—It is more permanent than common Inks.

Sixth—The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a brilliant jet black—not a brownish black.

Seventh—It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and always 'makes its mark.'

The Ink is warranted to flow as freely as any other writing fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any copying Ink; and not to mould.

This Ink is for sale at
