WINTER CARNIVAL HASSLE

The budget granted to the Winter Carnival Committee is $10,000, but they have to return $7,000. Dave Campbell, Chairman of the Carnival Committee feels that it will not be possible to get good entertainment for this kind of money. He is pissed off and perhaps the students will be also.

BIRTH CONTROL HANDBOOK OUT

The Birth Control Handbooks ordered by the Union have arrived and are being distributed by the Education Committee (Another Commie plot). These booklets are recognized by doctors as one of the finest publications of their kind. Remember, "Better (a) safe than sorry."

FATHER SIMPSON HAS PRAISE FOR STUDENTS

Speaking at a meeting of the Tenant's Union on Monday night, Father Simpson, Rector at St. Dunstan's Basilica said he was glad to see students present. "I have always considered myself a bit of a revolutionary and I am glad that there are some students who have not sold out to the establishment. He went on to explain how 95% of the students who graduate from university go on to join the establishment and perpetuate oppression.

C.U.S. PRESS ARRIVES

The printing press which the Student Union purchased from the Canadian Union of Students has arrived on the Campus. Keaveny, President of the Union said, "The press will start operating as soon as we can get someone to operate it and we get something to print."

Proposals submitted for grants program

by Dennis MacKay

The following are excerpts from a proposal drawn up by James Griffith (Director of Student Services) and Ian MacDonald (Acting Financial Aids officer). The proposal concerns the Canada students loan plan and the possibility of setting up a Grants program. The proposal was submitted to President Baker and forwarded to the Post-Secondary Commission.

"It is proposed that the government of P.E.I. initiate for 1970-1971 academic year, a program of provincial grants . . . the P.E.I. government Grants program will be administered in conjunction with, and correlated to the existing Canadian Students Loan plan . . . Prince Edward Island students who are in full-time attendance at approved post-secondary educational institutions either inside or outside Prince Edward Island will be eligible to receive financial aid in accordance with the needs, status, and intent to live in Canada after graduation from the post-secondary institution.

3. Residency—students must be residents of Prince Edward Island at the time of application and have maintained residence for a minimum of 12 months before this date.

4. Scholastic Requirement — Written proof of acceptance by the institution that they will attend is sufficient . . . Students that are repeating their year will not be eligible for assistance for both years of study . . . Projected student need 1970-1971 — $1.178.

The total cost of the program for the P.E.I. government for year 1970-71 will be $398,260. The proposal appears to have been based on very similar plans in force in N.S. and N.B.

Rift Grows In Psych Dept.

There seems to be a growing split within the Psychology department over approaches to psych. Dr. Shar-

SJC set up

The Student Judicial Committee recently passed a fine scale for use in dealing with student offenses coming under its jurisdiction.

The SJC will be dealing with students charged with offenses outside residences, and with appeals from students who have been dealt with by residence committees.

The following scale of fines will be upheld:

- a) striking a student policeman: $50.00 (minimum)
- b) drunk and disorderly: $10.00 (minimum)
- c) illegal possession of alcohol: $5.00 (minimum)
- d) property damage:
 - i. damage estimated under $50.00 — cost plus $5.00 (minimum)
 - ii. damage estimated over $50.00 — cost plus further action
- e) disorderly conduct: $5.00 (minimum)
- f) assault: $25.00 (minimum)
- g) theft:
 - i. under $50.00 — replacement plus $5.00 (minimum)
 - ii. over $50.00 — replacement plus further action.

All fines quoted are the minimum that will be levied in each case.

The SJC is empowered to suspend the privileges given by the Student Union card, and to impose fines of not more than $100.00, and any costs that may have occurred in the commitment of an offense.

Subject to administration approval, the Committee can suspend a student from the University.

Appeals to SJC decisions must be lodged within 72 hours. Fines are to be paid to SJC chairman Stephen Foster within 7 days of the judgment.

Besides chairman Foster, the Committee consists of Maureen Croken, John Lacey, Mary-Jane Connick, Vimy Gregory, Ann Shirley Sutherland and Bill LeClair.

key is pushing a more traditional approach to psych, stressing the environment and man the machine. While no decision has been made by the department many students feel that what they call a "humanistic" approach to psych is doomed at UPEI. Dr. Chiang takes what he feels to be a more open approach. He said "Humanism is a vital part of Psych, but not the only part." He went on to explain how Humanistic psych stresses man the "human being" instead of "man the machine." He said a "basic characteristic of behavioristic psych is the pre-assumption that man is basically a machine.

Dr. Sharkey is rumored to have told students and faculty that Humanism is not psych. Dr. Chiang said this statement was correct. Asked to comment on the situation, Dr. Sharkey said that there was some discussion in the department, but no decision had been made. He did not know whether or not "humanistic" Psych would remain in the Psych department at UPEI.

Dan Weiner, faculty member in the Psych department said that "to say it is merely a question of different approaches to psych is misleading. It is also a question of differences in philosophies of Education. It is a question of how we teach. He feels that Education should motivate the student to pursue the type of learning he feels he wants. He feels that Dr. Sharkey takes a more traditional approach stressing lectures and looking at Psych as a science in a strict sense.

It looks like the question is far from settled, and whatever the outcome should be interest of students.

Keaveny delivers union address

UPEI Student Union President John Keaveny called for student involvement on a community, national and global scale in a "direction of the union" address last week at Duffy Ampitheatre.

At the community level, Keaveny wants to dispel the popular image that students are "drug-taking, longhaired, bearded ingrates who do nothing but protest and decry society and who make no real contribution".

He spoke of council plans for communication and assistance to high schools, penal institutions, the underprivileged, welfare cases, and the aged, other students, and interested groups.

He revealed that the student union would seek the appointment of a provincial Ombudsman similar to those appointed in other provinces. He said "It is important to note that we will begin to accept the responsibility to seek reform, not merely within the university, but within our community as well."

The internal plans for the union include a weekly council news bulletin, a radio station by march, and a student union building to be completed by next December.

CADRE to fold?

Jim Hornby, Editor-in-chief of The CADRE, recently announced that the paper might soon either have to fold or alter its frequency to "Whenever we feel like getting it out."

The decision was reached, said Hornby, after a meeting of all staff present last Sunday evening. Reasons given for this position were: lack of typists, columnists, reporters, sports writers, a business manager, ad people, typewriters and like that.

"The face that we may be evicted from our present offices and moved to a broom closet off the campus police office on the Malpeque campus, merely hastened our decision," said Hornby.

He did reveal, however, that the final decision on the fate of the paper would not be made until early in the new year.
