CANADIAN EGGS IN ENGLAND.—It will be seen by a perusal of our special correspondence from London, England, that Canadian eggs are beginning to attract the attention which their quality and style of package merits in the British markets. During the month of May last over 500,000 great hundreds, or 5,000 dozen Canadian eggs were received into Great Britain, which, as our correspondent remarks, looks as if the trade had been established on a firm basis for our eggs on the other side.
