

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 3, 1881.

WATER.

YESTERDAY, the Mayor, the Recorder, and Councillors Murphy, Byrne, Smith, Lawson and McLean, and the Chief Engineer, left town about 11 a. m., in company with Mr. Weasel, the Engineer sent here by Mr. Gamble, to ascertain what the probabilities are in regard to supplying the city with water.

Mr. Murdoch's water gauge kept on this stream for a whole summer, proves that it keeps its volume of water unabated. In the spring of the year it, of course, is much fuller, and in the dry seasons its diminution is comparatively slight.

Some time was spent here examining the stream for a short distance up and down, and then the party proceeded to Curtis's Dam, on the Winslow Road. This is a fine single stream, and now shows a large volume of water. But the water gauge and the testimony of the inhabitants show that in dry seasons the water becomes greatly diminished. There are good natural facilities here for damming; and were the water supply permanent, the quality is all that could be desired.

"Gates' stream" and its sources were next visited. This stream now shows plenty of water running rapidly over a solid clean bed, not so full as the Curtis stream, but in the opinion of the engineer amply sufficient for our town. But its supply is not permanent, and during last fall's drought it was nearly dry.

Some time was spent in carefully examining all these streams, following them to their sources and examining the largest spring heads. The party returned to town in the afternoon.

The Winter River supply is certainly the best. We know from actual analysis that it is the purest water in or near the city. Its supply is abundant; and if Mr. Murdoch's report is to be believed, it is the least costly. True the Curtis and Gates streams, if connected as suggested by Mr. Murdoch, will give a full supply, but this will evidently be more costly.

We do not know what offer Mr. Gamble will make the City, or on what terms he will bring this water into our town, but we hope that an arrangement may be made, by which, without overburdening taxpayers, the great advantage of an abundant supply of pure water may be secured.

The Pictou Election.

AGAIN the Grit newspapers are wrong. They have been stating confidently that Mr. Holmes was to be the Government candidate in the Pictou election contest. It does not appear that they ever had any authority whatever for the statement; and being a Conservative, it was not likely that Mr. Holmes was going to desert his post and duty at the head of the Local Government, even for the sake of representing such a fine County as Pictou in the House of Commons.

Mr. McDougall is a young man, never before a candidate; and the feeling of confidence in their strength pervading the Government ranks is evidenced by the fact that he has been selected to cope with one of the ripest and strongest Grits in Nova Scotia—the man who headed the poll in 1874—Mr. Carmichael. Success to Mr. McDougall, for in his success and the triumph of the Government lies the hope of the miners of Pictou.

German Export Trade.

German advices state that Prince Bismarck has submitted to the Reichstag a memorial recommending the adoption of measures for maintaining and extending German export trade to Eastern Asia, Australia, and the South Sea Islands. The memorial complains that Germany is outstripped in these regions by England, France and America; proposes the establishment of commission houses for the export trade, a bank to facilitate pecuniary remittances, and a line of steamers to China, Australia, and the South Sea Islands, and urges the grant of a State subvention to the projected steamer line.

CRICKET.—The match to be played to-morrow will be the return between "Rights" and "Lefts" of the Phoenix Cricket Club. The members of the Club are requested to be on the ground, as matters of importance will be brought before them during the afternoon.

The Fortune Bay Affair.

It is announced that Secretary Blaine and Sir Edward Thornton, British Minister, have concluded and prolonged negotiations relative to the outrages upon American fishermen at Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, in January, 1878, and at a later date at Cape Breton. The American claims for losses by fishermen aggregated $103,000. The agreement between Blaine and Sir Edward Thornton is that the British Government shall pay £15,000 sterling, and that their Government will give a receipt in full.

Enlargement of the "Little Daily."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

OUR thanks are due those of our contemporaries who have kindly noticed the enlargement and improvement of the DAILY EXAMINER. We clip the following paragraphs:—

(From the Patriot, Charlottetown.)

The EXAMINER appeared on Monday, enlarged and improved in many ways. It looks very well. The Company are evidently prospering.

(From the Mail, Toronto.)

Newspapers reflect pretty accurately the enterprise and prosperity of a community. Canadian journalism has within the last year taken an unexpected bound forward. The cause, of course, is the general improvement in business and the excellent outlook for the future. Some people are led to discredit the sincerity of newspapers in the statements they make; but when Conservative journals announce that business is improving, they couple their announcement with an indisputable proof of their statement in the shape of an enlarged paper, a new dress of type, or a better supply of news. The Reform papers, which daily predict disaster and decay, also give evidences of their sincerity. One of the latest newspaper enlargements is that of the Charlottetown DAILY EXAMINER. The people of Prince Edward Island evidently know how to appreciate a live, newsy sheet.

(From the Times, London.)

The Charlottetown DAILY EXAMINER, in its enlarged form, makes an excellent appearance. It gives evidences of a long life of increased usefulness. The EXAMINER is now about the size of this paper.

(From the Capital, Fred. Victoria.)

The DAILY EXAMINER comes to us enlarged and improved. We congratulate our contemporary on its good prospects.

(From the Journal, Summerside.)

[This we reproduce as a curiosity in its way, merely remarking that it lacks, to a certain extent, the essential element.]

The EXAMINER has, beginning with its issue of Monday (23rd) last, been enlarged to the size of the Montreal Times. We should be pleased to be enabled to state it was improved, but we are not. Except to give it more room for unscrupulous puffing of its mutual admiration-requiring clique, and denunciation of those who will not bow down before them, the enlargement is of no earthly advantage to anybody. What a condition of wretchedness, to be sure, the self-styled editor and manager of that daily sheet finds himself in! If he leaves his office for two or three days to go see his friends in the West of the Province, his "wicked partners," with Lewis or Donald at the top, immediately fill the paper with exceptional matter, and which he has to spend the whole of the next week or two, crying piteously, and telling twenty falsehoods to make people believe that he wrote those utterances himself! For a good high churchman, we are really sorry for brother Cotton, as his case is much like that of our good Deacon Smith of Cincinnati, a truly good man; but who is cursed every day and all the time by wicked partners, and his life made a burden by having constantly to forewear himself, as it were, for their protection. Oh! the hard trials and tribulation of the producer of "an organ!"

A COWARDLY ATTACK.—Last night shortly before midnight, as Messrs. J. P. Montgomery, J. C. Dull and W. C. DesBrisay were walking slowly up Pownal Street after passing Murray's Corner, they observed a person standing at Hazard's old corner opposite. They were engaged in conversation at the time, but noticed that he moved along slightly. Suddenly, when in the range of the gas-lamp and a light in the window of Mrs. J. S. Macdonald, adjoining the Wagstaff Hotel, Mr. DesBrisay, who was in advance, heard something strike the platform in front of him heavily, rebounding into Mrs. Macdonald's window, breaking a large pane of glass in a room where two ladies were sitting. Hearing a scream of course these gentlemen's first attention was for the ladies whom they knew to be in the house. A policeman was sent for, and admission being obtained, it was found that providentially no injury had been done to the ladies, but there had been a narrow escape. If Mr. DesBrisay had been a step farther in advance, he would have received the full force of the missile which proved to be a piece of granite, subsequently found in Mrs. Macdonald's room, weighing several pounds. It was evidently thrown out of pure malice, for these gentlemen had not been on the street before, and had not observed any person except this man, who evidently aimed for either Mr. DesBrisay's silk hat, or Mr. Montgomery's number helmet. There are some desperate holes around the lower part of Pownal street, and we advise the attention of the police to them, else pedestrians will be forced to avoid that street, and persons residing thereon will never know when they are free from such brutal and cowardly attacks.

Good fen land in Huntingdonshire, which let five or seven years ago at 32s to 40s per acre, is now difficult to let at 15s to 20s to 25s. Weak fen land with little or no clay under it will hardly let at all. In Oxfordshire a great deal of light poor land cannot be let at any price whatever. On an estate of 2,600 acres, 1,500 are uncultivated. In another district 21 farms are vacant or let at nominal rents, and in many cases over B-rks and Oxon half rents are being taken to keep tenants.

REPORT has it that Mr. Childers, British Secretary of War, will shortly take the portfolio of Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Local and Other Items.

THE market to-day was large and active. Prices unchanged.

New York, June 3.—Arrived Kitty Clyde, May, from P. E. Island.

COL. J. HUNTER DUVAR, Inspector of Fisheries, is in the city. He is at the Osborne.

COLLINGWOOD SCHREIBER, C. E., Inspector of Government Railways, is expected to arrive here to-morrow evening.

On the evening of the 1st instant, Dr. Schurman, of this Island re-delivered his fine lecture on Carlyle before the alumni of Acadia College.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Johnston and Darrach and Mark Butcher, Esq., took passage in the "Carroll" for Boston yesterday evening. We wish them a pleasant trip.

A KWS, belonging to Mr. William Acorn, of Lot 43 recently gave birth to a lamb which had four eyes in the centre of its forehead and two tails. Otherwise it was as well formed as any lamb need be. This is also a fact.

CRICKET.—A very interesting game of cricket will be played at Victoria Park to-morrow, by the members of the Crescent Cricket Club—Law Student vs. All Comers Band of 62nd Battalion.

The Queen has taken possession of the pet peacocks which Lord Beaconsfield kept at Hughenden. When the gorgeous birds arrived at Windsor, the Queen, her daughter Beatrice, and her son Leopold, drove to the aviary to give them courteous welcome.

The steamer "Edgar Stuart" sailed for Halifax yesterday evening with a quantity of pork shipped by Robert Bridges; lady, shipped by W. B. Wilson Higgs and Captain Dean, and lobster on through freight to Liverpool, G. B., by Longworth & Co. Mr. B. Wilson Higgs was a passenger by her.

The Anchor Line steamship Macedonia, from New York for Glasgow, is ashore on the Mull of Cantyre. An African liner has been sunk by a collision at Forbury, on the Lancashire coast, and a South American liner has been towed into Havre in a sinking condition, after running ashore five miles north of that point.

A HORSE belonging to Mr. Francis Finnigan, of Vernon River died last week—at least, he was supposed to have died—and was hauled to a neighboring marsh as food for the crows. Two days afterwards the horse was found in his owner's barnyard, but not kicking, though he was smart and lively. The horse is now at work on Mr. Finnigan's farm. This is a fact, vouched for by an eye-witness.

HON. JAMES McDONALD has commenced work as Chief Justice of Nova Scotia. On doing so he received, through Hon. S. L. Thomson, Q. C., the congratulations of the Bar. His Lordship, it is reported, repaid very feelingly. He adverted to his long connection with the Bar, and stated that though he had not been engaged in warm controversies while discharging the duties of his profession, he had always met with the uniform courtesy of his professional brethren while thus employed. He trusted he carried with him to the Bench the same good feelings on the part of the Bar, which were fully reciprocated on his part.

At the examination of the College yesterday, the Principal mentioned the names of the following young gentlemen, former students of the College, who had distinguished themselves during the past year. At McGill College, Montreal, Messrs. Wm. Weeks, Hector McDonald and Archibald McLeod had taken their B. A. degree with distinction; Mr. Leigh Greer had gained a scholarship at the beginning of the third year of his course, and Mr. Wellington Dixon had come out second man of the second year. In Dalhousie College, Halifax, Mr. John P. McLeod, who had distanced all competitors in the "Munro" Scholarship examination, last October, was first student of his year and Mr. Humphrey Mellish took a high place among the students of the 3rd year.

We are pleased to learn that our talented young friend, Dr. John A. Macdonald, of Pannure Island, has been elevated to the position of Surgeon to the General Hospital of Montreal. Dr. Macdonald's brilliant success as a student of medicine at McGill College, where he carried off the highest honors, his energy and ability as a practitioner in Montreal, as well as his praiseworthy ambition, have earned for him this important position. It is gratifying to see so many Islanders successfully fighting their way upwards in nearly every profession in life. We congratulate the Dr. upon his latest achievement, and trust that it is only the forerunner of higher honors.—Advertiser

The steamer "Carroll" sailed for Boston Thursday evening, with a cargo of produce and the following passengers: Mr. J. McMillan, Mr. A. McMillan; Dr. Johnston, wife and two children; Dr. Darrach, Miss M. J. Mettee, Mr. Wm. Major, Mr. James Yates, C. E. Burns, wife and two children, Mr. B. McPherson, W. O'Leach, A. McEwen, Miss Barber, Mr. Charles A. Hogg, Miss Murphy, Mr. John McKenzie, Andrew McLeod, J. Washburn, J. McDonald, M. McPherson, Mrs. White, Miss Smith, M. D. Livingston, Miss McDonald, Mr. A. Carroll, Mrs. Hughes and three children, William Merry, Miss White, Miss McDonald, Miss M. Gallagher, Mr. J. L. McKenzie, Mr. J. Curran, Mrs. A. G. G. M. D. McDonald, Miss Bohman, Miss B. Bohman, Miss Crab, Miss Shea, Miss McLeod, Mr. M. Butcher.

The fifty miles go-as-you-please in the Citizens skating rink, yesterday, resulted in a victory for an amateur colored pedestrian named William Byers, with Daniel Ryan—another amateur pedestrian second. The race was for a purse of seventy dollars—$40 to the first; $20 to the second, and $10 to the third. The following contestants started at 7 o'clock: Leggett, Byers, Ryan, Cormick and Archibald McKinnon. Cormick, after completing seventy-seven miles, suffered much from sore feet and retired from the track, and McKinnon followed suit after a mile or two. Leggett, Ryan and Byers were, therefore, left to compete for first position. The two amateurs tackled to the professional in grand style. They worked like trojans while he opposed them, and finally compelled him to retire from the track in a fainting condition, after completing forty miles and four laps. The race was finished at midnight, with Byers first and Ryan second, as before stated. Leggett did not get third money, as a provision was made to the effect that a pedestrian is not entitled to a prize unless he completes the full distance of the race.

A CABLE despatch received at the capital announces the safe arrival of Sir John and Lady Macdonald in England, and also conveys the gratifying intelligence that the Princess's health is much improved.

NUMEROUS outrages have been committed by the Boers since the establishment of peace, and the loyalists in the Transvaal are much disturbed. In one instance a party of Boers attacked a number of natives on account of their loyalty to the Queen, and killed ten. The native tribes are all preparing for resistance to the Dutchmen.

The Derby has this year been won by an American horse—Iroquois—bred by Mr. Welch of Philadelphia, and owned by Mr. Lorillard of New York. This victory will be considered a good triumph for America. It was a rival in England was much fancied, and the betting between him and Perigrine, the English favorite, was nearly equal, being 5 to 4 against Perigrine, and 6 to 4 against Iroquois. Iroquois was ridden by Archer, who is without doubt, the best jockey in England.

The Prince of Wales has become very popular during his visit to Perth. Count Andrássy told him at a public dinner that he had, by his frank and amiable manner, taken every Hungarian heart by storm. He predicted that the Prince would make as excellent a sovereign as he was now charming as a man. The Prince bought, during his visit, four magnificent Hungarian horses and sets of the gorgeous national costume of the Magyars, adorned with remarkable jewels and native gems of great value.
