Consistent Inconsistency.

Mr. McKenzie found fault with Sir John McDonald for drawing $5,000 a year for each of the thirteen Ministers, or $65,000 a year for all; and on the 20th May, 1873, when Sir John proposed to increase his own salary as Prime Minister to $8,000, and to give each of his twelve colleagues $7,000, Mr. McKenzie moved a resolution to the effect that the salaries of the Cabinet should not exceed $75,000 in all. This was in the good times when the revenue was flush and every thirtieth of June brought its surplus. Yet since the hard times set in five years ago, bringing enormous deficits and sorely pinching the taxpayer, Mr. McKenzie has not scrupled to draw his $8,000 and to give each of his twelve colleagues his $7,000, making the Cabinet salaries $92,000, or $17,000 a year more than he considered necessary at a time when the country was much better off than it is to-day.

Tea Duties.

Montreal Gazette:—"When Sir Francis Hincks took the duty off tea, he accompanied the concession by such legislation—the ten per cent. differential duty—as tended to the encouragement of the long voyage and to the building up of a foreign trade for Canada. Mr. Cartwright put a duty on tea, but he repealed the ten per cent. law, and as a consequence that foreign trade which was becoming a most important factor in the country's prosperity, was destroyed, and with it the grocery business was transferred to New York instead of being as formerly, done in Montreal. The duty under Mr. Cartwright's tariff is higher than under that of Sir Francis Hincks, but the protection has been removed and the trade destroyed. This is simply an illustration of the essential difference between the two parties. The Conservatives considered it their duty to have regard to the fostering of the trade of the country in the arrangement of the tariff; the Clear Grits held that they have nothing to do with such considerations, that Governments should not attempt to build up trade and commerce by means of a fiscal policy, that their only duty is to collect revenue."

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 19 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the Western Continent.

"Public opinion is going overwhelmingly with the Government," cried the organ yesterday. "The fight goes bravely on," wrote Mr. Brown to Senator Simpson in the contest of 1872, "things look well over the Province," and "things look bright in Quebec." Big Push was astray then and he is wrong now.—Mail.

THE McCAETHY MURDER.

DORCHESTER, Aug. 15.
Dr. Scott, of Moncton, was recalled. He identified the boards of the wagon as the ones examined by him. They were not changed in his possession, yet there is a stain comparatively fresh on the board he did not discover until brought here. He found one suspicious stain, and on examining it he found it was not a blood stain. A bad body remaining some time clothed the blood would transfigure through the skin.
To Hon. Mr. Hannington—The blood on McCarthy's shirt was not caused by such transfusion. He would not swear the stain was not on when examined before. On cutting a sliver of the Doctor said it was stained, not saturated. He made no chemical analysis of the wagon boards during this court. (Here a bristling of feathers with a timely interposition took place. The stone found in the Sealoue was produced. He examined the spots on the stone and found them to be lime or caused by lime. The cross-examination took nearly two hours.
Re-examined by Mr. Palmer—The blood running along the crack must necessarily stain both boards. After some minor questions the shirt collar and bosom were produced, and witness said he found no blood clot upon it.
Hon. Mr. Hannington was allowed to cross-examine again, Mr. Palmer objecting and arguing against it as an advantage not usually accorded in Court. In this case His Honor allowed it in order to enquire all the information obtainable. Witness said blood would not flow after death. The jury examined the wagon boards.
To the Court.—He thinks if the stone had been examined when found the lime spots would have been discovered if there. Lime spots would turn color when dry. This witness occupied the whole forenoon, and did not produce anything specially interesting to the public. The prosecution will not produce many rebutting witnesses.
Stephen McCarthy recalled: I was boarding at Warman's about October last. I left my overcoat at Osborne's for safety, as I had no trunk at my boarding house. I left it there for about six weeks. Osborne told me he had worn my coat once; it was light brown. I might have told Osborne that he could wear it. It was the 14th October when I left the coat.
Cross-examined by Dr. Tuck—I got the coat back in December last. I wore it occasionally until it was there.

W. J. Croasdale, civil engineer, Moncton, sworn: I knew Timothy McCarthy. He was in my employ some years ago, while locating the Intercolonial; he walked as much as any of us every day. Witness examined the spots on the stone and pronounced them to be lime and sand. The effect of the salt water would be to dissolve and remove them. The coloring matter appears to be on the outside of the stone.
Cross-examined by Mr. Hannington—This stone appears to have been taken from a bog where one part was exposed to the air. Clay would produce this discoloration. The lime on the stone appears to have been subjected to pressure.
To Mr. Palmer—Salt water corrodes lime. If this stone was in the water six months I would not expect to find any lime on it. A stone taken from salt water and put under cover for some time will show salt on the outside.
W. W. Wells recalled:—I came from Shediac to Dorchester, on the 13th October last. I know Pen Allan. I did not see him on the train; think I would have seen him if he had been there.
Agnes Buchanan. Cross-examined by Dr. Tuck.—I have drunk no strong liquor during the last 45 hours. I was at Cook's Brook in September last; had no drinks there that day. I stopped at one house on the way, but had no gin. I told my story about the Parker girl, excepting the Cook Brook portion, to Mr. Adam Tait and others. The reason I did not tell the Cook Brook story was I thought it of no consequence when I learned that Mrs. McCarthy was tamper with Mrs. Johnson, Osborne's servant. I did not tell it then because I expected to tell it in Court. I saw the Osborne's often, but did not tell them or any one else what I was going to swear. I did not tell about the rope at the examination at Shediac because I could not produce it. I have seen this bed cord for the last eighteen months. There was no one present when I met Annie Parker at Cook's Brook. I met her on the road; I was going to Shediac and she to Moncton.
To Mr. Palmer—I never heard of any charge against me for making away with a child till I heard it in the Court the other day.
Court adjourned.

How One-Sided Free Trade Works

Oswego (U. S.) Palladium of the 8th: "In 1873 was exported only 12,000,000 yards of cotton goods while for the year ended the 30th June last, we exported no less than 111,000,000 yards." Cobourg (Ont.) Sentinel: "The Norval cotton mills, of this town, will be permanently closed, for want of orders, on the 7th August. The hands must seek employment in other places and the town will lose these men and their families."
THE utter helplessness of the Grit party in Montreal is the best answer to their boastfulness as to the result of the elections in the Province of Quebec. Never was a party more utterly demoralized. Its wildest stoutest supporters are coming out "Independent."
