power before it can be used in Korea. The U. S. air might will not be hurled against Manchuria until the Reds make the first move.

Large Red Air Force - The Reds are reported to have built up an air force in Manchuria which is about equal to U. S. air power in Korea. And responsible officials expect no quick victory if the Reds use this power.

One source made a guess that "it will take at least two weeks before we could control the air." The air force in Korea has had ample warning against a sneak attack and planes and equipment are being dispersed at airfields to minimize losses in case an attack comes.

One big advantage on the U. N. side would be the long distance which Red planes would be forced to fly to reach the combat zone. Top officials anticipate no political difficulties with other U. N. countries in retaliating against enemy air strikes from Manchuria.

Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., predicted today in an address to the Canadian Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations.

"The current lull in sales," he said, "is temporary and does not reflect any fundamental weakness in the Canadian automobile market. It stems very largely from such artificial curbs as discriminatory credit and savage taxation. If these are corrected, there should be an early stabilization of the market ..."

We're a little pessimistic about the chances of our juniors, but we believe that with Alan Stewart on the mound our intermedates can wallop the Abbie rivals in Charlottetown Sunday. There's a lot of batting power in that Holman outfit, enough, we think, to give Stewart a big enough lead to come out on top. Ryan will be tough, but Stewart will be tougher.

Shield hospital plan as a voluntary approach to the problem of medical care for the many, Dr. A. D. Kelly, Toronto, Deputy General Secretary of the Canadian Medical Association, stated he was not in favor of the nationalization of medicine as it now exists in Great Britain.

Dr. Kelly spent some time in England studying the working of the plan and was not favorably impressed with it. He stated it put too great a strain on the general as many as 150 patients a day. Many of them simply wanted to "get something for nothing."

In relating his experience with the system to the annual meeting of the P. E. I. Medical Association at the Charlottetown Hospital yesterday the speaker criticized it as giving the practitioner no opportunity to follow up an interesting case because he is denied the use of the hospital.

There can be little personal element entering into the normal relationship between doctor and patient and as a result the people of Britain are currently getting a great deal of medical service of a low quality.

It was his feeling that the method employed in England have very little application in Canada for several reasons. Here the staffs of hospitals are general practitioners capable of doing a wide variety of work. There the hospitals are for specialists only and the practitioner is confined to the facilities afforded by his own surgery only.

While in Britain the Government has a hand in everyone's daily life and the people depend on the Government for everything, Dr. Kelly said he would oppose the institution of the same system here. It has degraded the position of the general practitioner to the post almost of an issuer of permits to obtain anything from false teeth to eye glasses.

He also spoke of the enormous cost of the supposedly "free" service. When it was mooted in 1946 its estimated cost was 165 million pounds per year. However, last year the cost was over 400 million pounds.

Dr. Kelly felt that the medical service was not for nationalized service but the establishment of some method of insuring protection, especially for the poorer people, in the matter of high priced medical care.

moves as told by the speaker in affiliation with the nursing schools at the P. E. I. Hospital, Charlottetown Hospital and the Prince County Hospital. This is proposed in order to make psychiatric training available to undergraduate nurses. It is also hoped eventually to train the Falconwood nurses to the registered nurse level.

Plans are nearly completed for affiliation with Dalhousie University in order to have visiting psychiatrists from the University available for consultation in special cases. In this class jobotomy ranks first. If this is successful it will enable the program to get recognition from the College of Physicians and Surgeons and thus open the way to have a Resident in training as well as an interne.

Dr. Theriault emphasized that much of the word accomplished or contemplated is designed to offer real aid to the general practitioner in dealing with his patients. He said they wanted the practitioners to be active, interested members of a phase of medical practice too long neglected.

The proposed clinics here and in Summerside as well as a suggested Child Guidance Clinic and an "Out Patient" department at Falconwood with shock treatment available should enable practitioners to take advantage of the opportunities offered by the program.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

A salute to J. K. Curran and Harold Gaudet, two Summerside sportsmen! We were looking forward to the grimmest winter from the standpoint of hockey, and skating probably in the town's history. Messrs. Curran and Gaudet have come forward with a proposition that should help our deplorable state somewhat. They will erect, if they obtain certain concessions from the town which we understand, will be granted, two open-air rink surfaces, complete with dressing rooms, toilet facilities and canteen. If we don't get too much snow over too many thaws, this new sports centre should help to keep the Summerside children and sports-minded adults happy, until an edifice worthy of "the most progressive town in Canada" can be erected.

The R.C.A.F. Better-Halves won the first game of the finals in the Summerside A.A.A. ladies' softball league by downing Lippy Gaudet's C. & B. Gals 22 to 11 at the Recreation Grounds on Wednesday. The win was somewhat of an upset as Lippy's Larry Ruppert has beaten the Airforce team the last two times they met in a game previous to this last victory the Better-Halves defeated the Summerside Royals 24-14 largely because the Royals coach left the pitcher in throughout the game though the Airforce hit her with everything but the backstop. The exact moment when a pitcher should be lifted is something which bothers the best managers in the game, but certainly a "finger shouldn't be left on the mound if his pitcher are being served up to the batters "on a platter with salad dressing." It is no reflection on a pitcher to be yanked as the very best in the game get the heave-ho sometime or other. Sometimes a pitcher has it, sometimes he hasn't, that's all there is to it. This 24-14 game reminded us of our back-log games as a kid. The pitcher stayed in there even if every hit off him was over the fence. The situation was different, however. He was the guy who owned the ball!

The games between the Charlottetown and Summerside Intermediates and Juniors at the Recreation Grounds Wednesday afternoon had a little bit of most everything. Some of the smartest and some of the dumbest fielding plays seen this year were executed and perpetrated. We saw adroitly headed base-running and chuckle-headed base-impiring. Two calls smelled so high that an airplane pilot caught a whiff of them as he was going over. Before any hot-headed fans start rolling up their sleeves, let me look for their fountain pens let us make it clear that the calls were evenly divided between the two centres concerned.

We're a little pessimistic about the chances of our juniors, but we believe that with Alan Stewart on the mound our intermedates can wallop the Abbie rivals in Charlottetown Sunday. There's a lot of batting power in that Holman outfit, enough, we think, to give Stewart a big enough lead to come out on top. Ryan will be tough, but Stewart will be tougher.

Gallant - MacDonald Wedding

The United Church, Wellington, was the scene of a pretty wedding of wide interest at seven o'clock, Wednesday evening, Sept. 12th, when Phyllis Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin MacDonald became the bride of Vernon Lawrence Gallant, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gallant.

Rev. Dr. Stanley R. Prince officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with pink and white gladioli, autumn flowers and ferns, and the guest pews were marked with multi-colored flowers tied with white satin bows. Mrs. Howard Barlow was organist and Mr. Waldron sang "I'll Hail Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride was attired in a gown of nylon tulle over nylon taffeta with Peter Pan collar and fastened with pearl buttons. She wore matching mitts. She carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and baby breath. Her only ornament was a single strand of rhinestones, the gift of the groom. The bride's gift to the groom was a set of initialled cuff links.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Joan Brooks as maid of honor, who was attired in a floor-length gown of Golden Gate brocade taffeta with matching headpiece and mitts. Her bouquet was of mauve "mums."

Miss Bertha Barlow was bridesmaid and she wore a floor-length gown of aqua net over taffeta with matching headpiece and mitts. She carried a bouquet of mauve "mums."

The flower girl, Margot Barlow, was dressed in yellow organdie, matching bonnet, and she carried a nosegay of mixed colored sweet peas.

The bride's mother chose grey gabardine and black accessories and her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

The groomsmen were Edson Cameron and the ushers were Cyril Barlow and Clare Brooks.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barlow, the toast to the bride was proposed by Dr. Prince and responded to by the groom.

For travelling the bride wore a medium brown suit with winter white accessories trimmed with brown velvet and a corsage of American Beauty roses. They left by car for Saint John, N. B., and their return they will reside in Wellington where the groom operates a garage.

Purina Farm Buys P.E. Island Boar - The Purina Demonstration Farm, Missouri, have purchased an Island raised and bred breeding age boar from S. C. Stewart and Sons, Dunstonsforge. It was learned yesterday from Mr. H. W. Clay, Senior Livestock Fieldman with the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The selection was made by Mr. Mike Chepesuik, Senior Livestock Produce Grader, Moncton, and he made it on the recommendation of Mr. Ralph Bennett, Assistant Chief of the Marketing Service, Ottawa. Mr. Bennett has previously stated that Prince Edward Island bacon hogs are the best in the world.

The Purina Demonstration Farm have quite a herd of Canadian Yorkshires but want to get more length and leanness in their animals so they came to this Province for the breeding age boar. "I think it is one of the best instances of recognition that the Province got for a long time," stated Mr. Clay.
