

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS RUSSELL JOHNSON

Reception At Summerside Follows Malpeque Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Clark of Malpeque was a scene of a pretty wedding when their youngest daughter Judith Ann became the bride of Douglas Russell Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnston, Margate.

The afternoon marriage, a double ring ceremony, was performed by Rev. W.A. Patterson assisted by Rev. Frederick Lloyd. An arch of evergreens and poinsettias made a very attractive setting.

Kilt - Edged Tasty Foods Include Canned Game

THREE years ago, in late fall, the Chef and I visited Scotland. Our object: to learn more about the Scottish people and their foods, and especially to study the ever-growing, unique and tasty foods, both canned and glassed, processed in the plants of W. A. Baxter and Sons, Ltd., in Fochabers, a village in the north of Scotland, not far from Balmoral Castle.

These foods include game canned in aspic; fine soups, such as Royal Game Broth and Coch - a - Leekie; beets in jelly; beautiful vegetables processed at the peak of excellence; tasty stews; and many jams and jellies put up during the short north - growing season in the north of Scotland.

They are all so good, that this Scottish firm has attained the honor of purveyor to Her Majesty, the Queen.

We saw integrity and honesty in action; patience and accuracy exercised; food flavors captured and retained; people from company officials through the entire working staff, enthusiastic and tireless in effort.

With such a setting, it is not strange that now, a short three years after our visit, these foods from north Scotland are sold and appreciated around the world.

World Tourists Our young friends, Gordon and Ena Baxter, have just completed a world tour, during which they spent four weeks in Australia organizing and personally superintending a stand (a showing and test - tasting of their foods) at the British International Exhibition in Sydney. And what a success!

Gordon Baxter wore his kilt of Gordon plaid; and at the "stand" Ena wore her skirt of plaid and a tailored white silk blouse. Bagpipes were often heard. And Ena personally received thousands of visitors at the stand and graciously served many a "taste."

"I love to talk with people," she said. "It's very helpful."

WI Plans To Hold Mystery Auction

At the January meeting of the New London WI, Mrs. Stanley Brown spoke on Health Rules, first aid, etc., and conducted a question and answer period which proved to be of keen interest to all.

The meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Marion Cole, who presided. Eighteen members answered to roll call with a "health rule".

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ellis Burgoyne. Correspondence included a questionnaire on the annual convention which was filled in.

It was announced that the United Fund annual meeting is to be held soon in Charlottetown, also that subscriptions to the Kensington Fire Truck Assistance Fund are now due.

A card party was planned for January 26 in the hall. Several articles are to be purchased for the school and hall. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Campbell, when a mystery auction will be held.

A paper on "Health" was read by the president, Mrs. Cole, and a "plus" contest was conducted by Mrs. Eric MacEwen, after which the meeting closed with the Queen, followed by refreshments.

Long River YPU Planning Concert

The regular meeting of the Long River YPU, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doughart. The meeting opened with a hymn followed by the pledge and thirteen members answered roll call with the theme word "Friend".

The scripture was read by Elizabeth Cousins and Barbara Doughart led in prayer. A dedication on the reading was led by Rev. Mr. Peterson.

Mr. Peterson, George Doughart, and Elizabeth Cousins were appointed as a committee to plan for a concert service to be held on January 24. The executive and the ex - presidents were appointed to a committee to make plans for the concert to be held in May.

The meeting closed by singing a hymn followed by the benediction by the minister. Let's and Myra MacLeod were in charge of the program.
