Riot for Six Hours!

Sixteen Shots Fired!

Dead and Wounded.

[Special Dispatch to Daily Examiner.]

MONTREAL, July 3.

A man named Hackett was shot dead yesterday. He was quietly returning from service, and was set upon by the mob.

Three others were badly wounded, but not fatally. In all sixteen shots were fired.

No attempt was made by the Civic Authorities to quell the riot; and for six hours the city was in the hands of the mob.

The Mayor is severely blamed for not calling out the Military, or ordering a body of Police to quell the disturbance.

Volunteers were under arms, from three to twelve o'clock.

There was no disturbance after the shooting of the Orangemen.

On returning from their Excursion the Orangemen were landed outside the city limits.

To-day everything is quiet, but an uneasy feeling exists; and it is feared that trouble may occur at the funeral of Hackett the murdered man.

No arrests were made.

Out side of Montreal the day was quietly observed by Orangemen.

Edward Sayers of Kingston has been arrested by his wife, for attempting to murder her. Her throat was cut open at night.

THE RIOT.

Editor of Daily Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—You will, no doubt, be troubled with a great many communications about the "riot" of Thursday night, but I crave your indulgence this time on the ground that I very seldom intrude my views upon the press.

First, I would say that if the policemen who witnessed the first disturbance (in which a half dozen were engaged) had done their duty and dispersed the crowd (?) I believe that all the subsequent trouble would have been abated; but not till they were spurred on by the taunts of some of the bystanders did they show any signs of interference, and after they moved off they mixed with the crowd, and that was the last of their endeavors to suppress the "row." Not one arrest was made. I myself was standing side by side with a policeman, and was equally amused and disgusted with his conduct. While the cowardly mob threw stone after stone into the building a broad grin actually spread over his face, and when some of the females (of whom there were not a few present) frightened at the crashing of glass, ran away, he ran with them. It may be asked, but what could so few policemen do? Sir, there was a moment of quietude when a dozen determined men could have cleared the street. The police had nothing to fear. Their position protected them from assault by any class of bigots.

But, Sir, my principal reason for troubling you is to protest against "mob rule" in Charlottetown. Why were the people allowed to congregate in the vicinity of the Orange Lodge room before the Orangemen arrived there? Why were the authorities not prepared for the emergency by having additional policemen sworn in? It may be said that they had no idea that such an event would happen. But, Sir, who will admit such an excuse? Have not such things occurred so often that we ought to be prepared? How many more warnings are needed before the authorities will take those steps which are necessary for the peace and welfare of the country? It seemed last night, when the "row" was at its height, that there was no one willing to take the lead in any step to prevent the mob from carrying on their nefarious work. To use the sentiment expressed by one of the mob—"I guess we done it this time," and they certainly did do it, pretty effectually. How a crowd of roughs, in broad day-light, in the face of policemen and magistrates, could thus devastate a building without one arrest being made, surpasses my comprehension. However, one good effect which will result from this little "coincidence," as Artemus Ward would say, will be that the citizens will know what protection is offered them in the event of their property and lives being endangered by a mob who may at any moment take it into their heads to "rule the roost."

Another thing, Mr. Editor, that I wish to call attention to is the conduct of some of our public men, who palavered with the mob, calling them, "My good fellows, now do go away." They'll haul the flag down, if you go away," &c. It was enough to make one ashamed of the land that gave such men birth.

And lastly, but not least, I shall mention part of the conduct of the chief and his policemen. When the flag was hauled down the mob started off, shouting out "Let us go home now, boys," and off they went with a cheer. The policemen and their chief then went round among respectable citizens, and in loud, impudent, domineering tones commanded them to "move on." These men, who were not to be heard while the row was progressing, were now "themselves again," equal to driving cows and arresting drunken men.

Completely disgusted with the night's proceedings, as a whole, I slowly wended my way home, firmly impressed with the feeling that, although Charlottetown presents many attractive features to the stranger resident in the city, a well-organized police force, which can be depended on in any emergency, is not one of them.

HORNE, PIERCE & CO.,

AGENTS FOR P. E. ISLAND.

WE, the undersigned Farmers of P. E. Island, purchased in the summer of 1876, of Messrs. Horne, Pierce & Co., of Charlottetown, a Walter A. Wood Reaper and Mower Attachment, manufactured at Hoosick Falls, N. Y. Two complete Machines, except the ground wheel, pole, and seat, are used for each Machine,—for the price of one ordinary Combined Machine, giving us nearly the wear of two machines for one. We pronounce these Machines by far the best we have ever seen, and recommend them to our brother farmers of the Island. It is capable of picking up broken down grain, equally if not better than any other Machine that we have ever seen at work; is equally light in draught, and not liable to breakage.
