Montague Town Council Has Busy Session

At the Montague Town Council meeting Monday night, it was decided that in view of the fact that the duties of the town policeman were quite heavy on Saturday night, it was moved that he be provided with an assistant on that night at the rate of $2.00 per night.

A letter was read from the Red Cross Society indicating that a special meeting was to be held in Charlottetown on Aug. 24 for the purpose of organizing the island for the disaster occasion.

A letter was read from the Imperial Oil Company that they intended to erect another oil tank at their plant in Montague, and requested permission from the Council to do so.

A petition from the residents of the north portion of the town was read requesting more improved fire protection in the way of providing a better water supply.

It was proposed that a small dam be built at the MacGregor Bridge, which would provide a pond of water, and permit the pump to operate from that point allowing the hose to service the more remote houses.

Discuss Fire Equipment

Considerable discussion then ensued regarding the fire equipment as to whether or not it was ready for use. It was felt that it was not obtaining the proper care, and might not be ready in time of emergency.

The building committee reported that three tenders had been received for the painting of the Town Building, but that the work could not be done until some future date.

Councillor Hessian read the financial statement ending June 30, which showed a substantial balance in both the general account and the building account.

The assessment sheets were presented to the Town Council by the assessors, and it was moved that the notice for 1951 be sent out as soon as possible.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the parking in front of the skating rink. It was pointed out that this property had been leased from the Community Welfare League by the Irving Oil Company, and that the Island Motor Transport was intending to use this area as a bus stop.

They requested the town to provide some protection from other parking autos, and it was moved by the Council that this area is to be used exclusively by the buses during the season, and no other autos will be permitted to park there; those during so to receive a ticket from the town policeman.

The chairman of the police committee stated that the town camp would have to be removed from its present position as it was a health menace to the residents of the adjacent area. It was proposed that a location be found some distance from the town, and that a garbage collector be appointed to collect the garbage and transport it to the location, the residents of the town paying part of the cost of the maintenance. It was then decided to leave the matter in the hands of the street committee who would look into the question and present its findings at a later meeting.

"A LADY WITHOUT PASSPORT" AT THE CAPITOL

"A Lady Without Passport" brings Hedy Lamarr and John Hodiak to the Capitol screen in a story of love, adventure and pulsating action which starts in New York City, shifts to Havana, Cuba, and culminates in an electrifying chase climax in the deserts of the Florida Everglades.

Taking as its fictional premise the drama behind the smuggling into the United States of illegal immigrants, the story presents Miss Lamarr as the lovely European Marianne Lorress, desperately trying to gain entry into this country from Cuba, with Hodiak cast as Pete Karzar, the immigration inspector who first pursues the girl in line of duty, then becomes entangled for more personal reasons. Their first encounter at the Gulfstream Cafe in Havana, headquarters of the smuggling ring, Pete's wily impersonation of a Hungarian refugee, his subsequent exposure and gun fight with the nefarious Palinow, leader of the racketeers, leading up to the tensely gripping chase climax, which takes place in the depths of the Florida Everglades, makes for a romantic adventure drama of unflagging interest.

Displays Hooked Rugs At Montague

A very pleasant evening was spent at the A.D. MacKenzie United Church Hall on Monday evening when Mrs. George Hadlock of Whitman, Mass., nee Miss Mary Aiken of Lower Montague, displayed a large number of very beautiful hooked rugs, and gave a short talk on her methods of working, coloring, etc., which she had learned in the United States.

Correspondence was read, which included a letter to Hon. Douglas MacKinnon, thanking his Public Works Department for the provision of detour signs for the purpose of detouring loaded trucks from the roads leading into the centre of the town.

A letter was read from the Red Cross Society indicating that a special meeting was to be held in Charlottetown on Aug. 24 for the purpose of organizing the island for the disaster occasion.

A letter was read from the Imperial Oil Company that they intended to erect another oil tank at their plant in Montague, and requested permission from the Council to do so.

Keen Interest In Art Section

The art section of the handicraft display in the Women's Institute Building at the Provincial Exhibition was again receiving its full share of attention from the visiting public when the doors opened last evening.

Larger than ever, this section of work demonstrates a definite step forward in the progress being made in art in many media in this Province. Outstanding in the display are two pieces of woodwork by S. A. MacLeod of Kinross which show an attention to minute detail, beautiful to see.

One of these, a small table, has the top inlaid with pieces of wood no larger than the ordinary matchstick.

Judges again found their task very difficult as they went from class to class, examining each entry for perfection and originality. The two judges, Miss Frances Johnston and Mr. George D. Carlo, were performing this task for the second year in succession. Results of their judging in this class were as follows:

Dorothy Dix Says—

old baby. My husband, aged 19, has been going out with another girl for several months, and bragging about it to his boy friends. At an age when you, too, should be having fun with the gang, you must be mother not only to a 4-month-old son but to a 19-year-old husband. Since his boy friends are apparently on your side, perhaps they could talk some sense into your husband. Otherwise patience is all I can recommend until he becomes adult.

ANSWER: The only trouble with your husband is that he hasn't grown up yet. He's far from ready for the responsibilities of parenthood and hasn't the vaguest idea how to cope with them. At an age when you, too, should be having fun with the gang, you must be mother not only to a 4-month-old son but to a 19-year-old husband. Since his boy friends are apparently on your side, perhaps they could talk some sense into your husband. Otherwise patience is all I can recommend until he becomes adult.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.
