IN MEMORIAM

HORTON — In loving memory of our darling baby Ethel Alberta, infant daughter of Marjion and Harry Horton, Mt. Albion who passed away January 8th, 1945.
Jesus has taken a beautiful bud. Out of our garden of love
When he took our dear little baby home to the angels above.
Sadly missed by mother and dad.

HORTON — In loving memory of our darling little granddaughter and niece Ethel Alberta Horton who died January 8th, 1945, aged three weeks.
"Is sweet to know we'll meet again"
Where partings are no more. And that the ones we loved so well
Have only gone before.
Sadly missed by grandma Horton and Aunt Olive.

HENRY — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Stewart Henry, Keppoch who passed away on January 8th, 1957.
God gave us strength to take it. And courage to bear the blow. But what it meant to lose him. No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

MacRAE — In fond and loving memory of our baby Duncan William MacRae who departed from this life Jan. 2nd, 1956.
Sadly missed and always remembered by Daddy, Mamma, sisters and brothers.

Mrs. C. C. Baker, Kensington.

No Arrangement For Convention

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday no arrangement has been made yet for recessing the Commons for all or part of the Jan. 14-16 sessions of the national Liberal leadership convention here.
Earlier, a spokesman at Liberal headquarters had said the House would stand adjourned Wednesday night, Jan. 15, and all day Thursday, Jan. 16 — leadership balloting day.
Works Minister Green, government floor leader in the Commons, also denied there has been any arrangement made.
Mr. Diefenbaker said the Commons will be notified when consideration has been given to the question.
One highly-placed government informant said it might seem reasonable that the House take Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon off.
Senate plans were not known. Senator J. T. Haig, government leader, was not in the capital.

Maybe Next Year - Says

Tiny R. R. Annual Report

TIOGA, W.Va. (AP) — It's only natural that a railway named the Stroud's Creek and Muddlety would be an unusual enterprise.

It's only 21 miles long, for one thing, putting it among the few remaining short lines. That's one reason why it's the pet of the parent Baltimore and Ohio system.

But maybe most important, the S.C. and M. has a sense of humor. As witness its annual report:

"The fence post factory which constitutes Muddlety's principal industry and which manufactures a high grade of wooden, slotted fence posts has decreased production. This had led some observers and analysts to presuppose an adverse effect on S.C. and M. loadings.

"The plain fact is that the S.C. and M. never did haul many fence posts, even in the great bull market of 1923. The way most fence posts get into fences in the Muddlety marketing area is that farmers bring their wagons right to the factory and haul the fence posts away. The export market has always been extremely limited, and in the present era of do-it-yourself, many farmers are making their own fence posts.

COAL HOLDS UP
"Coal traffic, on the other hand, held up better than most things throughout the 12-month period under survey. It is just about impossible to prepare do-it-yourself coal, and the export market is making things hum. This is something people who are contemplating the fence post business as a career field might do well to ponder.

U. S. Plans For Science Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may send perhaps a dozen science diplomats to posts around the world to help keep closer tabs on foreign scientific advances and promote the flow of information.

State department officials said the science attaché program, lifeless from lack of funds and personnel since 1955, would be revived with a $200,000 appropriation under a proposed new budget.

They plan to send science attaches to London, Paris, Bonn, Stockholm and Tokyo, where such experts once were located under the program originally started late in the Truman administration.

Mafia Is Nothing But A Fairy Tale - Or Is It?

By JACK H. AND
NEW YORK (AP)—Who rubbed out Albert Anastasia? Who shot Frank Costello?

Is America on the brink of a gory crime war? Who is No. 1 in the crime hierarchy? Who wants to be?

Is the Mafia ominously real? Or is it a storybook word to catch the headlines?

These are problems occupying law enforcement agencies while a disturbed public awaits the next move.

Hints of a possible new blood bath are to be found in Costello's brush with death, Anastasia's gangland-style killing in a hotel barber shop in midtown New York and the recent mysterious "summit conference" on a wooded hilltop in Apalachin, N.Y.

PROOF COMES HARD
Crime is a shadowy substance. It's much easier to suspect than to prove. Most authorities believe it operates at a national level. Some think there is an organized international group.

For years many have scoffed at the existence of a powerful Mafia. They tell you the old Sicilian-based society was wiped out by Benito Mussolini years ago. Some say the real leadership rests in the United States. Others insist the Mafia, the old Neapolitan Camorra and the Uione are interchangeable parts of the same organization. Even the authorities disagree.

The Mafia, once known in the United States as the Black Hand, is a Sicilian protective and benefit organization at home, called "the Honorable Society" by Sicilians.

It was formed centuries ago as a secret underground to protect Sicilians against their foreign rulers. Mafia became a virtually a state within a state, enforcing its own law for the benefit of those under its protection.

HAS LONG ARM
Mafia still collects "taxes" to finance its "benefit" in Sicily. Its driving force is the vendetta, or
