PROLOGUE. WHAT had been in the cool gray of that summer morning...

For the last half hour, also, the desolated track had stretched empty and deserted. While there was no cessation of the rattling, crackling and explosions on the fateful slope beyond...

A SINGLE RIDER WAS SEEN GALLOPING FURIOUSLY. driver glanced back on the tense chain and hesitated. "Go on," yelled the prostrate man...

leaves and twigs from the lower branches of a chestnut tree near the broken hedge. As the smoke thinned again a rising and falling melody of flapping hats, tossing horses' heads and shining steel appeared for an instant, advancing tumultuously up the slope.

The red-capped young officer rode forward and knocked upward the gunner's weapon with his sword. For in that rapid glance he had seen that the rider's reins were hanging loosely on the neck of his horse, who was still dashing forward with the acquired impetus of the charge...

tered the hand of the gunner who still mechanically served the vent. As they lifted the dead body down, the order came to cease firing. For the yells from below had ceased too; the rattling and grinding was receding with the smoke further to the left. The ominous central cloud parted for a brief moment and showed the unexpected sun glittering down the slope upon a near and powerful river.

Meantime the lane and woods beyond, and even the slope itself, were crowding with reserves and waiting troops. His own battery was still unlimbered awaiting orders. There was a slight commotion in the lane. "Very well done, captain. Smartly taken and gallantly held." It was the voice of a general officer passing with his staff. There was a note of pleasant relief in its tone and the middle-aged, care-drawn face of its owner was relaxed in a paternal smile.

"And you seem to have had close work, too," added the general, pointing to the dead man. The young officer hurriedly explained. The general nodded, saluted and passed on. But a youthful aid airily lingered. "The old man's feeling good, Courtland," he said. "We've rolled 'em up all along the line. It's all over now. In point of fact I reckon you've fired the last gun in this particular fratricidal engagement."

letter and hunt her up when this cruel war is over. Say you're 'fulfilling a sacred trust'! See? Good idea, old man! Ta-ta," and he trotted quickly after his superior.

Courtland remained with the letter and photograph in his hand, gazing abstractedly after him. The smoke had rolled quite away from the fields on the left, but still hung heavily down the south on the heels of the flying cavalry. A long bugle call swelled up musically from below. The freed sun caught the white flags of two field hospitals on the woods and glanced tranquilly on the broad, cypress-fringed, lazy-flowing and cruel but beautiful Southern river, which had all unseemly crept so smilingly that morning through the very heart of the battle.

The Children's Enemy. Scrofula often shows itself in early life and is characterized by swellings, abscesses, hip disease, etc. Consumption is scrofula of the lungs. In this class of disease Scott's Emulsion is unquestionably the most reliable medicine.

He—That's the way it is with me at my working hours; but atrophie has nothing to do with it.

The Telephone Company

P. E. ISLAND. PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:— 1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter. 2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud and distinctly. 3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the ear. It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you speak loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice. ROB ANGLER, Manager.

IT REACHES THE AGED SUFFERER. MR. THOMAS PETERS, A Veteran of the Civil War Hale, hearty and happy at three-score and ten. GRODER'S SYRUP. HIS FAMILY MEDICINE. THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO. GENTLEMEN:—I am now seventy years of age, and have been out of health the past fifteen years. My suffering has been greatest during the last five years, when I have been in constant pain from weakness and distress of stomach. At different times I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, and sharp pleurisy KIND pains, distress from eating any kind of food, and became so bloated from wind on the stomach that breathing was difficult. Nervousness kept me awake night after night. My physicians could not give me any temporary relief, and my troubles returned again and again until I learned of your medicine and began to use it regularly. From the first there was a marked change in my condition, and to-day I eat heartily and with good digestion. I am free from constipation, my health is better than at any time since the war. I firmly believe in Groder's Syrup, for it has made my old age a painless one. My wife too has used your medicine with entire satisfaction. Yours truly, THOMAS PETERS, WINSLOW, MAINE.
