

Giants Back In Top Spot; Yanks Swamp Red Sox

Smarting from three straight setbacks, San Francisco Giants regained first place in the National League Sunday, stopping St. Louis Cardinals 7-2 with an 11-hit attack. Saturday, the Giants lost to the Cards, 10-9 in a 12-inning marathon.

Daryl Spencer's sixth inning triple scoring Danny O'Connell was the clincher for the Giants Sunday.

Wally Moon of the Cards escaped with a severe bruise when he collided with teammate Joe Cunningham while chasing a fly in Saturday's game. It was first feared he had fractured his left arm.

Pittsburgh Pirates aided the Giant cause by knocking Milwaukee Braves out of the league's top spot Sunday with a 5-1 win. The game was twice delayed by rain, and finally called at the end of seven innings.

Bob Friend yielded five hits in coasting to his eighth victory.

Saturday, the Pirates lost 2-3 to the Braves.

LONE TWIN-BILL

At Philadelphia Sunday, Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Phillies 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader on Bob Purkey's tight pitching. The nightcap was suspended by a state curfew with the score tied 11-11 in the top of the ninth. It will be continued at a later date.

The suspended game was turned into a pitcher's nightmare as 11 hurlers paraded to the mound, six for the Reds and five for the Phils.

Johnny Temple provided the big blow and pushed the Reds to a 10-3 lead with a bases-loaded homer in the sixth.

Solly Hemus homered for the Phils' lone run in the opener.

Saturday, the Phils topped the Reds 5-4.

In the other Sunday game in the National League, Stan Williams, hard-throwing right-hander, turned his first major league start into a two-hit 1-0 shutout of Chicago Cubs for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Saturday, the Dodgers whipped the Cubs 9-4.

Williams yielded just two singles. He walked two, fanned three and hit one batsman.

During one stretch from the third inning into the eighth, the Los Angeles newcomer retired 16 Cubs in a row.

LOES LOSES TEMPER

In the American League, Washington Senators scored three runs in a fifth-inning rally that featured another temperamental outburst by Baltimore pitcher Billy Loes and defeated the Orioles 5-2 Sunday.

Saturday, the Orioles won over the Senators 4-3.

Loes, who lost his fifth straight game of the season, was ejected from the game during the wild inning when he charged umpire Larry Napp after a disputed call at the plate in a rundown play.

Ken Aspromonte, who figured in all of Washington's scoring innings, and Julio Becquer opened the fifth with singles to put men on first and third.

Camillo Pascual, Washington pitcher, then topped a roller to the right of the mound. Loes backhanded the ball and threw home, trapping Aspromonte. In the rundown, Loes elected to chase Aspromonte for the tag, but the Washington runner dove safely across the plate.

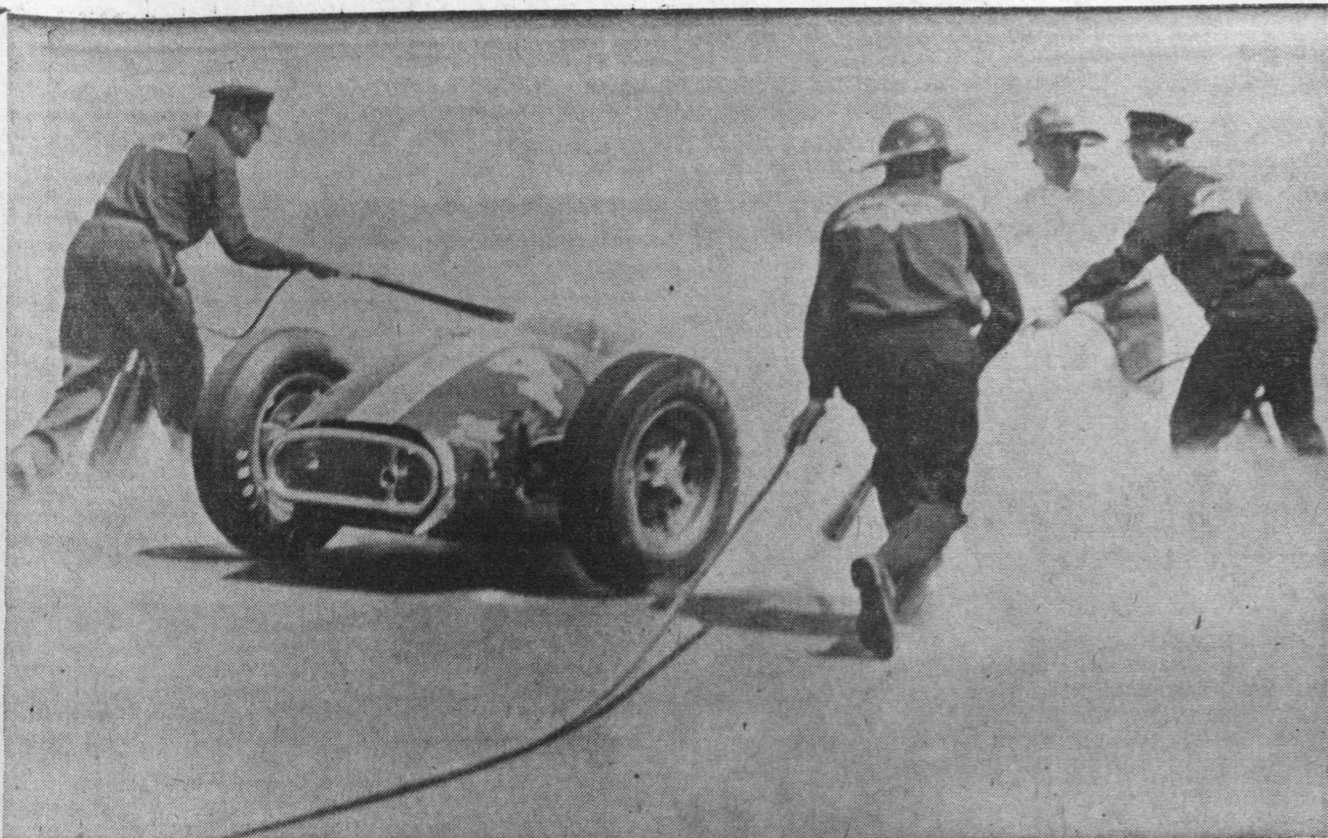

Loes slammed the ball to the ground and went after Napp. The ball rolled away and the other base runners continued on their way, Becquer scoring and Pascual reaching third.

Oriole manager Paul Richards announced after the game that Loes had been fined $100 and suspended indefinitely by the club.

In other American League action, New York's Bob Turley dazzled Boston for his eighth victory

CONCEDE ELECTION

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—The opposition Labor party Saturday night conceded victory to the governing Liberal-Country party in the election for a new Victoria State legislative assembly. Premier Henry Bolte would not estimate how many seats his coalition would hold in the new legislative assembly, but observers expected it to increase its representation by two to 36 seats in a house of 66.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

We certainly have not spared our comments on the Chavez Ravine referendum which comes tomorrow. But with the vote so near at hand we'll leave further comment until we learn how Los Angeles citizens feel about the Dodgers acquiring the controversial piece of land.

While Dodgers' president Walter O'Malley waits hopefully for the result of the referendum, a look at what Mr. O'Malley is paying out at present might be a bit interesting.

Besides the Coliseum he has three other parks on which he is paying rent, taxes or maintenance. Here's how it breaks down. At Ebbefts Field which he deserted for the west coast, he must pay $30,000 in rent, $40,000 for maintenance and $50,000 in real estate taxes. At Jersey City, where the Dodgers played seven of their games last year under a two year contract, he must pay $12,000 in rent and $6,000 in maintenance. And in Los Angeles, where he refused to use old Wrigley Field which he acquired from the Cubs, he must pay $27,000 in taxes and $29,000 in maintenance.

On his fourth park, the much-abused Coliseum, he is paying $200,000 in rent.

All in all, that's quite an outlay.

There still are some bargains to be had these days despite the high cost of living.

Professional football in Philadelphia is proving this point at the present time. The Eagles are selling two season tickets (six games) for the price of one—$15.30. They restrict the sale however to father and son, mother and daughter and to all students.

But the Eagles have a method in their madness. For the first time they have a large stadium available this year—60,000 can be accommodated—instead of old Shibe Park. They are using the bargain prices to win new fans and create good will. Their attitude seems business-like indeed. What good are empty seats? They figure the club can't help but reap future rewards with what it is doing.

It's a pity more persons associated with sport couldn't see things in this sensible light.

Milwaukee Braves have signed 20-year-old Edwin Lawrence, a left-handed pitcher from Malvern, Pa. to a contract with Jacksonville in the class A Sally League.

The 6 ft. 3 in., 190 pounder will be optioned to Salinas in the Class C California league.

Orville Pitts seems to be getting an unusual chance when he goes against Tony Anthony on Thursday of next week.

Anthony is the young man who has the distinction of being the second ranked light heavyweight contender while young Mr. Pitts has only six professional scraps behind him.

Those who try to justify the match claim that Pitts will be no kitten thrown into a tiger cage. They insist his long amateur experience will be quite a benefit to him and they point out that the Milwaukee fighter has a real wallop.

They argue that since Pitts has had 70 amateur fights a couple more professional bouts would not have meant much to him before meeting up with the capable Mr. Anthony.

Those who claim that a knockout of Pitts would ruin his career don't find much agreement among Pitts supporters. They quickly counter with statistics showing that fellows like Jack Dempsey, Bob Fitzsimmons, Tony Zale, Fritzie Zivic, Benny Leonard—to name a few—were stopped early in their careers but that didn't interfere with them becoming greats.

Many writers have likened this coming fight to the Patterson-Rademacher title fight. But again the Pitts populace point out the differences. First, Pitts has fought professionals; Rademacher had not. Second Anthony is not a champion and is by no means another Patterson. Thirdly Pitts has a great deal more speed than did Rademacher.

June 12 will tell the tale and the Pitts supporters will know then just how good their boy really is.

One Canadian City will be watching with keenest interest the vote result of tomorrow's referendum in Los Angeles. And that is the Queen City—Toronto.

National League president Warren Giles pointed out that it wasn't his job to tell the Dodgers where to move if the Revine vote goes against them but baseball men agreed that the best bet would be a return to Brooklyn or a shift to Minneapolis or Toronto.

Toronto has been hot on the trail of a big league franchise for quite a while. They would welcome the opportunity to get in with the real big time and give Canada a greater interest than ever in the affairs of the major leagues.

Los Angeles Dodgers' manager still has his pitching problems and his supposedly good hurlers are letting him down badly.

Up till Memorial Day Don Drysdale had won only two while losing eight and big Don Newcombe had amassed the grand total of no victories. On the holiday in the second game of the twin bill with Chicago Cubs, the Dodgers gave Newcombe a handsome 6-0 lead. That was the score when the temperamental moundsman took the hill against Chicago in the last of that inning. The Cubs started picking at him and got one run back in that frame.

Then came the fourth and Drysdale was called in to halt the ambitious Cubs. Alston must have figured that Newcombe and Drysdale between them might be able to win a ball game. If he did he figured wrong. Drysdale couldn't get by the sixth and the Cubs went on to grab the ball game that the Dodgers had apparently wrapped up in the very first inning when they presented Big Newk with four runs.

And so it appears that Drysdale and Newcombe combined wouldn't make one good pitcher this 1958 season. That's what the records prove anyway.

Barry's lions have served notice in the very first week of the City Softball League schedule that they, as defending provincial champions, are the team to beat in this year's five-team City League loop.

The Lions took on the three Charlottetown teams last week and capably disposed of all of them. Rollaway Aces, BIS Shamrocks and Junior Basilica Youth Club fell in that order to the Father Clarence Roche who held them to four hits. However one of was Lorne Israel's homer with a mate aboard and that was enough the way that Israel was pitching.

And by the way the boys certainly didn't get any breaks as far as weather was concerned. Monday, Wednesday and Friday showers came while the games were in progress to make it mighty disagreeable.

If a dry spell comes this summer and the farmers are wishing for rain it would seem like a safe bet to call a City Softball League game and solve the problem.

But joking aside, let's hope the league gets better weather so larger crowds may view the fine brand of softball that is being served up.

Akins, Martinez Set For Battle

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hard-punching Virgil Akins faces shifty Vince Martinez for the world welterweight boxing title Friday in a fight that has revived the ancient argument of which is better—the boxer or the slugger.

The clever Martinez is the underdog against Akins, a native St. Louisian who used his knockout punch to battle into contention for the title vacated by Carmen Basilio.

Akins is conceded to have the stiffer punch, although Martinez owns the better knockout record. The big question is, will Martinez ride the bicycle?

Martinez admitted "I've done too much back pedaling," then announced he wouldn't be on the bicycle this time.

"This is the big one," said the 29-year-old Patterson, N.J., fighter.

VINCE WON'T ATTACK

The Akins camp doesn't believe Martinez will be the aggressor. "He's always fought on a bicycle and he'll do the same against Virgil, wait and see," said Bill Farrell, Akins' trainer. "Virgil is going to have to press him, keep on him, and make him fight." Akins himself is confident of a knockout.

Martinez's manager Bill Daly has no fear of Akins' punching power. He said his fighter can hit, too.

Trainer Whitey Bimstein said Martinez can take a hard punch, and challenged: "Can you name anyone who ever decked him?" Nobody has.

Martinez has won 60 of his 65 fights, 31 by knockouts, and has never been stopped. But his back pedaling has hurt him in big fights.

Great Turnout For Golf Match

Belvedere Golf Course saw lots of action Saturday when 60 golf players took part in the first stage of the President's match. Very good scores were made by some of the players participating for so early in the season.

Following are scores made by the top eleven players in the tourney. (The largest figure following the name is the Gross, the center figure the handicap, and the last figure, the net score. The number in brackets is the amount of points accumulated in the first stage of this match. After the final stage the points made in the various stages of the match will be tallied and the person with the highest total will be the winner.)

Don MacDonald, Jr., 75-8-67 (10 points).

George Scantlebury 82-14-68 (9 points).

Dr. W. Moreside 80-11-69 (7½ points).

Ron Atkinson 91-22-69 (7½ points).

Jack Wilson 91-19-72 (6 Points)

C. H. Trainor 86-13-73 (3½ points).

H. J. Jardine 86-13-73 (3½ points).

Dick MacKinnon 84-11-73 (3½ points).

Don MacDonald 77-4-73 (3½ points).

Doug Pierce 86-12-74 (½ point)

Ball Practice This Evening

Barry Lions will hold Softball practice this evening at 6:00 o'clock on the Parkdale Diamond.

Doug Sanders Wins Tourney

DETROIT (CP)—Doug Sanders, the only amateur ever to win the Canadian Open, Sunday took the $5,000 first prize in the 55th Western Open golf tournament here with a 72-hole score of 275.

Sanders, who won the Canadian Open in 1956, was 13 strokes better than par in his first major U.S. tournament victory as a professional.

B.Y.C. Wins In Doubleheader

Junior B.Y.C. finally got rolling Sunday taking a doubleheader from Summerside Air Force 10-7 and 9-4, thus making up for the two previous games in which they had been shutout.

In the opener John MacDonald was on the mound for the Junior B.Y.C. giving up 11 hits, walking six and striking out eight.

Dobson started for the Air Force but Marchand relieved him in the 6th. Between them they gave up six walks 6 hits and struck out 8.

Dunn of the B.Y.C. squad got the longest hit of the game in the 4th, with a three-bagger. In the sixth Spicer of the Air Force made a nice running catch off Dunn to rob him of a homer.

Mike O'Brien hurried Junior B.Y.C. to victory in the final He gave up a total of 7 hits and 1 walk. He struck out two.

Sawatzky started off on the mound for the Air Force but again Marchand was called in to relieve. He took over the pitching duties in the fifth. Between them they gave up 7 hits, six walks and struck out six.

The longest hit of the game and of the day was Cecil Lader's three run homer in the sixth inning.

The umpire for this doubleheader was Bill Fern and the base judge was Lennie Arsenault.

Softball League Gets Underway

The National Park softball league had fine weather to get underway in Sunday, which saw two games being played.

In the first game Bedford-nicked Dupstafnaffage for twelve runs to take them 12-3. Hurler for the winning team was Frankie Bradley, and Glennie Court was on the mound for the losers. An outstanding play by Joe MacQuaid was the big factor for the winning team.

In the second game Dunstafnaffage was again on the losing end of the game, giving way to Tracadie 12-10.
