THE WEDDING MORNING.

(ADDRESSED TO THE MARRIAGEABLE.)

Encouraged by the success which has attended the efforts of the original devisers of the system, Mr. Punch respectfully announces to the nobility, gentry, and (Protestant) clergy, and all other persons likely or liable to marry, that he is about to open an establishment for the supply of every thing requisite and desirable at a wedding.

He purposes to confide the providing the mere necessaries, as wines of the rarest vintages, the breakfast, plate, china, servants, carriages, and bridecake, to the parties who habitually advertise their readiness to undertake such provision, and who, so far as he knows, acquit themselves with great credit. They will, of course, be enchanted to act as subordinates in carrying out the schemes he is now about to submit.

The best startling novelty of Mr. Punch's system is, that he undertakes to provide The Other Party. Any lady or gentleman, therefore, who may have obtained his or her consent to be married, has merely to write to Mr. Punch, ordering "the breakfast and the usual accessories."

If wished, one of Mr. Punch's young men will attend a party desirous to be married, with daguerreotypes of Other Parties on hand. The selected Party exchanged, if not approved of, but, in the case of a lady, not later than twelve o'clock, or if a gentleman, than six o'clock, on the day preceding that of the ceremony. Hair and teeth warranted, but neither age nor temper. Any amount of certificates and testimonials, however, may be had as to any point. Mr. Punch having engaged several eminent Begging-Letter Writers to manufacture these to order.

Arrangements with the leading Ladies' Establishments in the metropolis and suburbs, enable Mr. Punch, to offer selections from an assortment of the most charming Bridemaids who ever cried before or after. Due regard will, of course, be had in producing, or in avoiding, contrast between a lady and her bridal attendants. A group of old maids, with undeniable wigs, kept for occasions when younger bridesmaids may be deemed undesirable.

Several elegant young gentlemen, with others of more mature years, have been engaged, and will always be ready to enact the Bridegroom's friends, brothers, cousins, school-fellows, or any other relations that may be desirable. (Parties finding their own plate need be under no apprehension for their spoons, a police-man, disguised as a city uncle, invariably accompanying the party,] Moustaches, or not, as may be ordered.

A heavy father, either for Bride or Bridegroom, can be provided and he will be warranted to sob audibly at the ceremony, and, if wished, to embrace the clergymen convulsively, and call for water in the vestry. He will be furnished with a chastely pathetic speech for the breakfast. A comic gentleman will also be sent to return thanks for the bridesmaids, and Mr. Punch's connexion with the journal bearing his name is a warranty for this party being supplied with novel and discreet jokes.

Clergy furnished according to the views of the prrties. Those of the Clapham School entail a somewhat increased expense on account of their large consumption of the table, and a Puseyite will also be charged extra on account of the cost of the dress, which can be used for no other purpose except on the fifth of November); but it is suggested that this official be left to Mr. Punch's selections, he undertaking on no account to introduce an Irishman.

A member of parliament (with a speech), a family solicitor (clerks with parchments perpetually in the way, extra,) a peer, a banker, or any other character which may be thought desirable to enhance the eclat of the affair, will be supplied at the shortest notice. Any number of foreign noblemen without additional charge, and with orders, ribbons, and broken English complete.

Attached servants of both sexes, who have known either party, as may be wished, since childhood will be included, and will cry violently, either in the hall, or when bringing in coffee, or at any cue which may be arronged. A white headed old butler, with an agonized benediction on his young master or mistress (whose father saved his life), may be had, but as he is on the staff of a suburban theatre this touching effect must be arranged so as not to interfere with his hour for rehearsals elsewhere. A fashionable milliner and a first rate tailor always in waiting.

Love-letters, as as also letters of congratulation, with wedding presents from distant friends in constant readiness. Sentiments of such communications inserted to order, and warrented to read well when handed round. N. B. Christenings on a similar system, and everything found except the Baby.

CLEVER DEVICE OF A FRENCH THIEF.—A thief recently entered one of the fashionable ready made linen shops in Paris, and asked to see sundry articles for his wife, for whom, he said, he was preparing a pleasant surprise. "But," said he to the attending damsel, "I wish to be sure of a correct fit, My wife is about your height; she has like you, a fine figure, the carriage of a queen. Will you be so obliging, since my wife has just your size, or very near it, to try on this chemise over your dress?" She complied, and the thief, pretending to draw it down, attached it, by means of a large carpet pin, to all her clothes. He then ordered a dozen like it at five francs each. The shop girl, well satisfied, attempted to take off the chemise, but finding that, as she raised it, her clothes came up with it, she ran into an adjoining room, when the thief made off with all he could lay his hands upon.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Charlottetown Gas Company.

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE:

Hon. DANIEL BRENAN, Chairman;

Hon. Charles Young,	Hon. W. W. Lord,
Hon. Charles Hensley,	Hon. Joseph Pope,
Francis Longworth, Esq.,	James Walkinshaw, Esq.,
Mr. James Anderson,	Henry Haszard, Esq.,
Hon. George Birnie,	Mr. George Beer,
James D. Haszard, Esq.,	George DeBlois, Esq.

THE superiority and advantages of Gas over every other method yet discovered for lighting Towns are so self-evident and so universally acknowledged, that it would be superfluous to dilate on the subject; and it is only surprising that, while every Town and considerable Village in Great Britain, as also many Towns in the neighbouring Provinces, are lighted by Gas, this, the Capital of Prince Edward Island, should be still in darkness.

To supply this desideratum, it is now proposed to form a Joint Stock Company—to be Incorporated by an Act of the Legislature—with a subscribed Capital of £6000, in 1200 Shares, of £5 each, to be managed by a body of Directors, annually chosen by the Shareholders.

As many of the inhabitants of Charlottetown may be comparatively unacquainted with the practical results of Gas Companies, it may be proper to observe, that a Joint Stock Company for the purpose of lighting the Town with Gas, can hardly be called a speculation; because it is now ascertained, by reference to the annual Reports and Dividends of the Gas Companies of Great Britain, and some of the neighbouring Colonies, that wherever they have been managed with ordinary prudence and economy, they have yielded a certain and steady return of annual interest on the capital invested.

Previous to bringing the scheme before the public, the Provisional Committee had been in correspondence with competent parties, both in the neighboring Provinces and in Great Britain, and from the information thus obtained, and the estimates they have received, they are of opinion that the Land, Buildings, Apparatus, Machinery and Pipes requisite to enable the Company to go fully into operation, may be acquired and completed for and with the proposed capital.

To enable the Company to commence operations at once, and on the most advantageous terms, it has been resolved that a deposit of £1 5s. per share be paid on the allocation of shares, and that no further call be made, till the Act of Incorporation be obtained; and that such further calls shall be payable by such instalments, and at such intervals, as the Directors may judge most convenient for the Shareholders and the requirements of the Company.

Although certain spirited individuals were prepared to subscribe the whole of the requisite Capital, it is deemed but fair to give the public an opportunity of participating in the advantages of the undertaking; and for this purpose the Subscription List will remain open at the Office of Mr. LAWSON, Interim Secretary to the Committee,—more than one-half of the Shares being already subscribed.

JOHN LAWSON, In. Secretary.

In addition to its greater economy, Gas Light may also be pronounced safer than any other ordinary Light. It produces no sparks—it cannot be carelessly placed in contact with bed curtains, or substances easily ignited, and it requires scarcely any attention. It may be turned down in an instant to the most minute speck of flame, ready to be restored to full brilliancy when necessary, by the simple turning of the stop cock; and even when it escapes by the carelessness of an attendant, or a defect in the fittings, it at once indicates the accident to the whole household, by the disagreeable smell which it occasions.

From the large quantity which must be mixed with atmospheric air before it becomes explosive, it is scarcely possible that this accident should occur, in any ordinary apartment, even if the Gas were allowed to escape for the purpose. And as its smell so instantly indicates its presence in cellars, or other confined situations, where it may have escaped in quantity from the accidental breaking, or leakage of a pipe, it is only by the greatest carelessness, or ignorance, that a light will be approached to it, before it has been allowed to escape by the free admission of air. There is no such thing as the bursting of a pipe, or the blowing up of a Gasometer.

RELATIVE EXPENSE.—The relative cost of Gas has been generally considered not to exceed one-third to one-half the cost of tallow candles.
