second year in a row

share male honors

ifax Gordon was also voted to the first all-star team.

Gordon said that he was greatly honored to be co-athlete of the year. He was however quick to praise his retiring teammate Delroy Adams.

"I really admire him a lot. I'm a roommate of Delroy's and he's been a great help. He's been really supportive. he's helped me with my basketball and with my schoolwork. We're going to miss him. It's going to be hard to recruit someone of Delroy's calibre."

Other major winners of awards were named as well.

To the surprise of no one, Tracy MacEachern was voted the Field Hockey MVP. It was the fourth straight year that she was so honored.

Women's Basketball MVP was a tie. The award was handed out to the tallest and the shortest players on the team, Janet Nichols and Ri Bahadursingh. Nichols said that she was suprised ecause there are so many good players on the team. Bahadursingh said that it as a great thrill to win the award with her teammate Janet Nichols.

Men's Basketball MVP went to the Magic Man, Delroy Adams. Adams who led the Panthers to their first ever AUAA title in 1986-87 echoed the words of Tracy MacEachern when she described his stay at UPEI.

"The people have made you feel at home. If you have a problem anyone will help you. The support from the fans, the environment here makes you feel welcome. They helped us to do so great."

Dr. Elliot's words. I'd have to say it was the most touching moment of my time here at UPEI. You don't hear words like that too often. It's true recognition."

Trying to find words to describe Richard Pierre-Gilles is not easy. In the few short moments I spoke to him I got the feeling that I was talking to a class person. Plain and simple that's what Richard Pierre-Gilles is: a class human being.

Winning the womens Volleyball MVP this year was Cheryl Mayne.

Of the many standing ovations given Thursday night one of the loveliest was saved for a special person. Physiotherapist Janet Rogers was given a prolonged ovation in recognition of her tireless efforts in holding our various teams together during the past season.

So often people behind the scenes go unnoticed. It's nice to see people who deserve praise get some for a change. We couldn't do it without the efforts of people like Janet Rogers.

One thing is for sure Delroy going to miss #22 leading the Panthers to victory.

Soccer MVP as was the case in Field Hockey came as no surprise to anyone. Richard Pierre-Gilles was honored for his outstanding play during the past season.

Gilles was honored by university president, Dr. Elliot hen during his speech Elliot said that Gilles "is the finest natural soccer player I've ever seen."

Gilles said that the president's comments were unexpected. "I'll really cherish
