Both cars were very badly smashed. The occupants of Mr. Moore's car were hurt but not sufficiently to be brought to the hospital.

The City police were quickly on the scene and at once sent for the Mounted Police to bring a gun to kill the animal. About eight minutes elapsed before the owner, Mr. William McNeill, could be found in order to obtain his consent, which was necessary before the horse could be destroyed. The carcass was loaded on a sloven and taken away to be turned into fox feed. The car, which had been travelling north was turning off Queen onto Richmond Street and the horse was proceeding south on Queen St. when the accident occurred. Neither the driver of the horse nor the occupants of the car were injured.

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at eight o'clock yesterday morning, when Miss Margaret Hegan, one of Charlottetown's most popular young ladies, was united in marriage with the Reverend Canon E. M. Malone, Priest Incumbent of St. Peter's Cathedral, where the impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. T. H. Hunt, of King's College, a cousin of the bride.

A daughter of the late Mr. James B. Hegan and of Mrs. Hegan of Charlottetown, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Richard Hunt Hegan of New York. She looked very charming in a white tailored suit, large white hat, white accessories, with corsage of butterfly roses.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother to immediate relatives, after which the happy couple left on a motor trip through the Maritimes.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.—The Rev. H. L. Denton, B.D., at the morning service on Sunday preached an interesting sermon on "The art of being careless." Basing his thought on the words of Daniel 3:16 "King Nebuchadnezzar, we are not careful to answer thee in this matter," the speaker alluded to the variety of carelessness that comes from lack of consideration, selfishness, indolence and pointed out that there is a carelessness of a high and noble type. The carelessness of self which which comes from a courageous devotion to purposes and conviction, the carelessness of person and material that places life and wealth in the scale and gladly finds these outweighed by duty. Such carelessness is only possible as a result of a certainty of conviction and an utter trust in God. Of such a carelessnes sare the martyrs and heroes and even the Christ himself. The solo at the morning service was "How beautiful upon the mountains" very expressively rendered by Miss Lena MacLure. Mr. Denton's notable evening sermon was on "Religion for Religion's Sake." Mr. Horace McEwen presided at the organ most acceptably for both services.

—FURTHER DETAILS OF ACCIDENT AT AUGUSTINE COVE—Hazen Lowther and Miss Aleah Lord of North Tryon were brought into the Prince County Hospital on Monday morning, suffering from injuries received in the collision of two motor cars at Augustine Cove on Sunday night. Miss Aleah Lord, daughter of Mrs. Charles Lord of North Tryon has very bad injuries to her head, and her condition is considered serious. Miss Lord was travelling with Mr. James Moore, son of Mr. Verner Moore of Westmoreland, near Crapaud, when the accident occurred. Hazen Lowther was in Mr. Steeves car and has a fractured jaw. At the time of the accident Dr. Bell who was called to the scene thought it best to take them to their homes. Mr. Steeves, who has a fracture of the left leg and badly lacerated face is resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. Miss Wanda Lowther is more seriously hurt than was thought at first. She has a fractured jaw and it is feared her shoulder is hurt also. Hazen Lowther and his sister are son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Lowther of Carleton. The accident occurred at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening near the Augustine Cove School house and it is thought that the dreadfully dusty condition of the road was the cause of the accident. Mr. Steeves with Miss Noonan, daughter of William Noonan of Seven Mile Bay, Hazen Lowther and his sister Wanda, had gone through the village and were travelling in the direction of Charlottetown when the accident happened. Mr. Steeves was on his own side of the road and had just passed several cars. Steeves was coming from Borden and the other cars were going toward Borden. Mr. Moore's car was the last car of all. The two cars collided and were very badly smashed up, both windshields were broken and the front of both cars completely demolished. James Moore, driver of the one car and Miss Noonan in the other car, both escaped with very slight injuries. Help was procured from the village and Dr. Bell of Cape Traverse called. He rendered first aid and then suggested Mr. Steeves and Miss Lowther being taken to the hospital. Mr. MacWilliams' truck was obtained and stretchers and blankets brought from Major Carruthers horse near by. Miss Lord and Mr. Lowther were taken to their home but were sent to the hospital in the morning. All the patients are doing as well as can be expected.—S

He received his early education on P.E.I., but left his native land 41 years ago, and went out to Erie, B.C. NARROW ESCAPE—An accident which might have resulted in a fatality occurred at Kensington yesterday morning. Mr. Heath Campbell, representative of the Maritime Life Insurance Company while crossing the street behind another car ran in front of a truck driven by Mr. Brookins of Clinton. Only for Mr. Campbell's presence of mind in jumping on the bumper of the car, a serious accident would no doubt have resulted. Eyewitnesses say Mr. Brookins threw on the brakes of his car as soon as he saw Mr. Campbell, which also helped to prevent the accident. Mr. Campbell who is slightly hard of hearing, did not see or hear the car coming and lays no blame on Mr. Brookins.

Haymaking was in progress, there being good crops, but none better than in this province.

Burned in a gasoline explosion which rocked a cabin motor boat employed in survey operations of Charlottetown harbor, three Charlottetown men were "resting nicely" in the Charlottetown Hospital last night.

The explosion occurred yesterday morning when a party of five including Mr. Murdock McKinnon of Ottawa, Department of Marine Harbor surveyor, were about to set out in the motor craft from a Charlottetown dock to do survey work in the harbor.

Four men, Messrs. John Connolly, Harold McInnis and Robert Buchanan, all of Charlottetown, and Harold Mitchell of Tracadie— were aboard at the time. Mitchell was trying to start the boat's gasoline engine and a spark was believed to have caused the explosion of fumes in the engineroom, which was closed all night.

Connolly, McInnis and Buchanan suffered burns about the head, arms and legs while Mitchell escaped unhurt. The interior of the motor boat caught fire immediately. Mitchell and Connolly were able to crawl to a float to which the craft was tied, but Buchanan and McInnis were forced to jump overboard into the water. Survey Superintendent McKinnon, who was about to step aboard when the explosion occurred, was not injured. He and Mitchell assisted the two injured men from the water.

Firemen, who were called to the scene, sank the burning vessel while an ambulance rushed the trio who suffered burns to hospital.

The craft was later brought to the surface by lines from the C. G. S. Brant, which was moored a short
