WANT THE WAR RESUMED

Rather Than Accept the Terms of Peace

That Have Been Offered by the Peace Conference.

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—At a meeting held yesterday a resolution was adopted calling on King George and the Cabinet, to renew the war with Turkey rather than accept the terms of peace offered by the peace conference.

Armenian Peddler Murdered.

HALIFAX, Sept. 27.—An Armenian peddler was found dead on the road, fifteen miles from Truro, on Saturday night. He was shot in the back. The murderer is being searched for.

Ocean Mails Contract.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—It is expected that arrangements will be made for the renewal of the present contract with the Allen and Dominion Lines for the ocean mails.

Left For Halifax.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—Sir Louis Davies left Ottawa for Halifax Saturday evening.

There is intense indignation in St.
George's Bay, Nfld., over the action of the British warships in closing down the lobster factories of residents and confiscating the products. Last week the cruiser Pelican landed a body of men, who surrounded the factories, ejected the inmates and took on board all the packages of prepared lobsters that were ready for shipment. The residents are much incensed at this proceeding, a repetition of which is threatened all along the French shore.
The excuse given by the marines is that the factories interfere with those of French fishermen. The people threaten to resist the marines, and serious consequences are feared before many days elapse. The colonial government is powerless to interfere, as the warships have supreme authority in the matter.

DIAGNOSIS BY GESTURE.

Different Diseases Produce Characteristic Movements of the Limbs.

A medical paper in a recent issue has described the characteristic movements of the limbs made by persons suffering from different diseases. The gestures of the patient when asked to locate his pain not only indicate its seat, but describe its character. Thus, if the pain be in the chest and distributed over a large area the sufferer sweeps the palm of his hand over his chest with a circular motion, but should the pain be local he first draws his hand away from the body and then, with the index finger outstretched and the others curved cautiously, approaches the spot where the trouble is. In appendicitis he holds the palm of the hand over the diseased area without touching the skin. When suffering from violent noninflammatory pains, the patient slaps the abdomen.
A child who complains of continuous pain in the stomach, when there is no tenderness on pressure is probably afflicted with disease of the spine. In hip joint disease the pain will be referred to at a point inside the knee. With violent diffused noninflammatory pain in the leg the patient grasps the limb affected. If it be a shooting pain, he will point at the place with one finger.
The pain of hepatic neuralgia or shingles is indicated with the thumb or forefinger. In joint pains the patient approaches the seat of trouble cautiously with the hand flat.

A curious case is quoted of a patient complaining of a severe headache. Being asked in what part of the head it was, he answered, "The top," and when further questioned as to the exact spot pressed his finger on the side above the cheek bone. This he did three times, though declaring that the seat of the pain was exactly on the top of the head.
The cause of the trouble was found to be a bad tooth.

Richelieu as an Editor.

The first reporter of France was Louis XIII. The National library possesses the manuscripts of 86 articles written by that king. Almost all are accounts of his military operations. These articles were published in the Gazette de France. The "copy," however, did not go directly to the printer. Louis XIII wrote abominable French, and he had vague notions of orthography. His articles were corrected and often entirely rearranged by a secretary named Lucas, who copied them, sending to Richelieu the new manuscript. Richelieu examined it in his turn and often introduced additional corrections. At the siege of Corbie the king wrote a few lines eulo-gistic of the cardinal, but afterward crossed them out of his article. Richelieu wrote them in again, and so they appeared in the Gazette de France.— Revue de Paris.

Who does not know women and you girls who are continually in tear? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers, loquely and mentally, in silence. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription exerts a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism.
It is an invigorating tonic and is a specific for the peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements of woman.
Careless, easy going doctors frequently treat their women patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
