Centre of a three-way administration tug-of-war are the residents of the police village of Malton, Ont. Divided by the boundary lines of Toronto township and Toronto Gore township, the village has a rich prize to offer the township which succeeds in absorbing it. The prize is the income from the Sheaffer Pen Co. and the A. V. Roe plants. The Ontario municipal board has shelved until fall the question of which township will absorb the village, but in the meantime mothers such as Mrs. M. Broad, shown here, wonder if ever the issue will be solved and adequate school facilities be built for the children.

A search is under way in Georgian Bay area for two men, Theodore West, 47, seen here with 11 of his 16 children, and his cousin, Frederick West, 35, missing for past few days. The two Parry Sound men went on fishing trip and haven't been seen or heard from since. Their upturned boat was found floating in Georgian Bay near Parry Sound.

Leon H. Keyserling, chairman of President Truman's council of economic advisers, told reporters that the nation now is at a peak of post-war prosperity. And for the future, he added, "the outlook is good". After a White House meeting with Mr. Truman, Keyserling said that in "real terms" of productivity the second three months of 1950 represented an all-time peak. He said output is higher than at any time since 1948. He added that he does not expect the level to go down.

U. S. TO ADMIT 416,000 D. P.'S
At the White House, President Truman is seen as he signed into law a bill admitting 416,000 refugees to the U. S. by June 30, 1951. Witnesses are, left to right: Joseph Feeney, legislative assistant to Mr. Truman, and Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of the House judiciary committee.

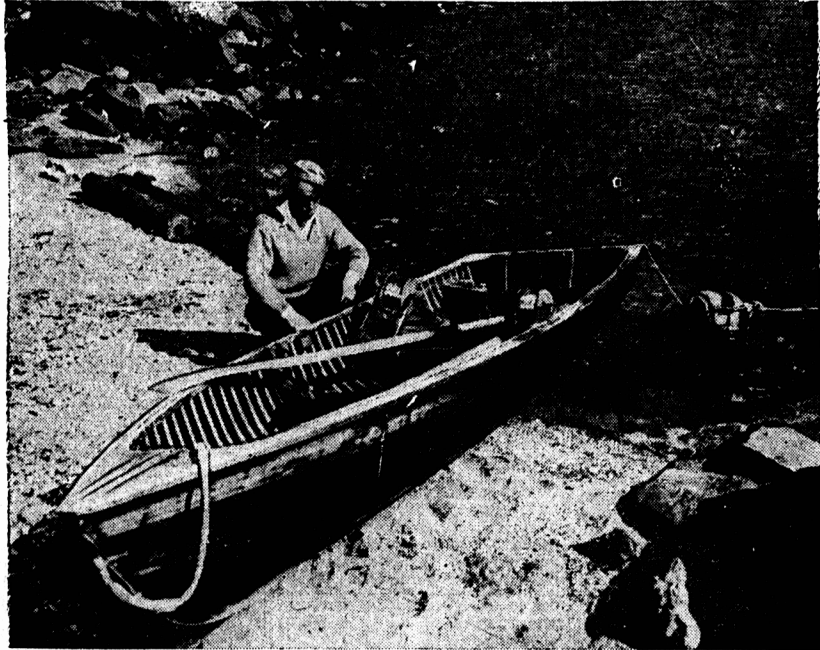

Willy Schmitz, champion starver of Germany, is shown in the glass cage at the Frankfurt zoo where he beat his own record of 50 days without food. Willy had just broken his old record when he heard that the gendarmes were on their way to get him on fraud and embezzlement charges dating back to 1945. Willy fled the cage, and made a clean getaway before the police arrived.

TOURNEY FAVORITE

Playing one of the steadiest games of her brilliant young career, Miss Anne Sharp of Niagara Falls, Ont., put together a par 36 the first nine and a two-over-par 40 on the home stretch, to head the qualifiers in the 35th annual Ontario Ladies' Tournament now under way in Toronto. Female divot digger won qualifying round and is a favorite to win tourney title.

Eldest son, Douglas, 25, seen above, found his father's boat in water that was over 350 feet deep. Fishing gear, gasoline cans and oars were scattered over several square miles. Frederick West is father of five children.

A SAINT'S CROWN FOR VOGELER?

Communist-ruled Hungary has offered to swap imprisoned U. S. businessman Robert A. Vogeler for one of her most venerated religious relics, the Allied-held crown of St. Stefan, seen above. Reliable sources said progress of negotiations between the U. S. and Hungary indicated Vogeler, sentenced to 15 years imprisonment last Feb. 21 for spying and sabotage, might be released within a few weeks. The crown, which dates back to Hungary's 11th century King Stefan I, was taken from Hungary by the Germans and found by U. S. troops in Germany. It was last reported held by the Western Allies in 1947 at Wiesbaden, in Western Germany.

Overtaken on a narrow, sandy road near the hamlet of Langton, Ont., a bank bandit opened fire through the rear window of his car and instantly killed the two men who had chased him. The bandit had just robbed a Langton bank of $23,000. Bandit's victims are shown slumped in front seat of pursuit car in which they were killed.

Four hundred residents of Thistletown, just 15 miles from Toronto and one of the fastest growing communities in Ontario, are against amalgamation with Toronto and intend to fight the project all the way. Their arguments against amalgamation is their taxes would be higher, industries would spring up everywhere, spoiling their peace and tranquility, and what do they need the city for when they have "a good fire department, hydro system, bus transportation, paved roads—everything you can ask for in a city." Carole Morphet is seen proudly pointing to fire hall.

NOT TOO OLD TO BE TRICKED

In spite of his 300 years of wisdom this turtle falls for the bait trick as readily as a mere half-century youth. He is a resident of the Offenbach, Germany, zoo and the rider is a visiting circus performer.

Riddled with bullets fired from a Sten gun were Art De Lierman, 31, right, an insurance agent and tobacco farm owner, and his sharecropper, William Goddyn, 24, of South Walsingham. Both were married. De Lierman having two children and Goddyn four.

The Imperial Bank of Canada in Langton, a hamlet, near Simcoe, Ont., where the robbery took place, is shown.

Two Cornwall, Ont., men were killed and a third escaped injury when transport truck they were riding in collided with standing transport a few miles outside that city. Loaded with 10 tons of grain, the transport plowed into the rear of a west-bound transport loaded with 10 tons of beer. Force of collision is shown by angle of two truck cabs in relation to trailers.

Forced to flee from the Greater Winnipeg flood menace with nothing but their clothes and two pillows, Mr. and Mrs. L. Roberts and their four sons had one hour's notice to move. They found temporary shelter at Winnipeg Beach. To aid such cases the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund has been established in Winnipeg.
