K. of C. Boys' Camp Opens Today

More than 60 young boys, ranging in age from 10 to 14 years, are leaving Charlottetown this morning to spend the next ten days at the K. of C. Memorial Boys' Camp at North Rustico. Thirty-three of the boys are sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Charlottetown, whose fund-raising activities are aimed at sending as many boys and girls to camps during the summer as possible. Other boys from Kinkora, Summerside and Souris will also attend this camp, making it one of the largest groups to be handled for several years.

The camp is under the direction of Rev. Francis Bolger, who has gathered together a capable group of junior leaders and assistants. The business of the camp is handled by George Cheverie and John Butler is the camp treasurer. Others on the staff include Francis Carragher, chef, John Dunphy, senior leader and Dickie Noonan, swim instructor.

At the end of the camp for boys a group of girls, partly sponsored by the Kinsmen, will move in under the direction of Mrs. Ira Younker of Central Royalty. The last ten days in July the camp will be host to the Girl Guides.

THREE ELEVATORS To facilitate movement from floor to floor there will be two passenger elevators and one freight elevator. The exterior walls, built around the structural steel framework, will be extremely thick and solid. The outer face will be the hard Canadian grey sandstone six inches thick. (The tenderer may tender on the basis of limestone.) There will then be a one inch air space with eight inches of brick. The partition wall will be terra cotta. Interior walls will be mostly terra cotta, hollow tile and plaster. Some of the offices on the upper floors

ARTS CRAFT GUILD DIRECTOR LEAVING ON EUROPEAN TOUR

Miss Frances E. Johnston, director of the Prince Edward Island Arts Craft Guild, plans to arrive in Edinburgh for the celebration which marks the centennial of the famous Scottish Museum. The invitation to attend was extended by Dr. Douglas A. Allan, director of the museum. Miss Johnston leaves this morning for Montreal from where she will sail for Scotland next Tuesday.

The celebrations will be held in conjunction with the conference of the British Museum Association which meets July 19-23.

In 1952 Miss Johnston attended the UNESCO seminar "on the role of museums in education" held in Brooklyn, N.Y., and a number of museum workers from the different countries who participated at that time are expected to be present for the celebration. Dr. Allan is at present the pastor of the United Baptist Church of Windsor, N.S. A native of Scotland and an alumnus of Acadia University, Rev. Mr. Milton has distinguished himself as a desirable preacher of strong conviction and of earnest concern for spiritual matters. He has also taken an active part in the B.Y.P.U. and main conventions. For a time he was representative to the Baptist Federation of Canada.

Before going to Athens Miss Johnston plans to visit a number of communities in Britain from which early Island settlers came, as well as museums and other institutions to gather information in connection with Prince Edward Island history. From Britain she will go to Sweden, Denmark, The Netherlands, France and Italy to renew acquaintances with some of her fellow participants in the UNESCO first seminar on museum services. She will also observe their museum collections and the holding of supplies.

The fifth floor is taken over entirely by the Department of Transport with offices for all sections from administrative to inspection and protection. The Department of Public Works has the whole of the main section of the sixth and top floor. Concentrated here are the general offices as well as several offices for the use of the engineers. Besides these there is an office for the Inspector of Dredges, the chief architect, the chief engineer and the district engineer.

In the L part of the floor are housed the various sections of the Department of Fisheries. This area is approximately 64 feet wide by 136 feet long and has offices for the heads of departments as well as the preventive officers and inspectors.

There is a full size basement divided mainly into large storage rooms for each of the departments housed in the building. Here, too, will be the boiler room and extra washrooms. Specifications for the building call for underground ducts for telephone and power systems and provision for 150 telephone outlets. The lighting will be by fluorescent fixtures which are to be recessed or suspended. It is expected that at least $60,000 will be spent on fixtures alone.

94th Anniversary Of Zion Church Observed Sunday

The 94th anniversary of the congregation of Zion Presbyterian Church will be celebrated tomorrow with special services in the morning and evening. Services will be conducted by the minister, Rev. W. Harold Brown, M.A., and the special preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. W. Stanford Reid, Ph.D., Professor of History at McGill University.

Zion Church first came into existence in 1860 when two previously formed congregations united. The two were the Free Church, on Prince Street and the Queen's Square Church, on Richmond St. At that time they each had a settled minister. Since the union there have been only eleven independent ministers at Zion. They were Rev. Alexander Falconer, Rev. John M. MacLeod, Rev. David Sutherland, Rev. D. B. MacLeod, Rev. W. H. Sedgewick, Rev. George E. Ross, D.D., Rev. R. G. Strathie, Rev. George C. Taylor, Rev. M. Scott Fulton, B.D., Rev. G. Carlyle, Webster and the present minister, Rev. W. Harold Brown, M.A.

The congregation has not only been true and faithful to their own church in the building of the Kingdom of Christ, but were ever ready to assist in all good movements both within our city and throughout our Province.

The order of recruits for the Ministry was organized in Zion about thirty-seven years ago, and many of her sons, through this grand organization, have gone forward in the noble work of the Church. Their influence has been felt in many different parts of the country and some of them have attained to the highest positions within the Church, both in Canada and the United States.

Zion was not unmindful of her duties when the Great War broke out in 1918. Her young men and women immediately offered their services to King and country, and there went forth from the congregation, 215 men, 5 nursing sisters and 14 women in the women's organizations. Of this number 10 made the supreme sacrifice. Truly their training in this part of God's vineyard equipped them as faithful followers of God, and loyal citizens of sovereign and country.
