THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Carefully Collected by "The Examiner's" Reporters.

Mr. Parnell is reported to have written a novel.

You can't make a horse drink. It is different with men.

Capital punishment—making the bad boys sit with the good girls.

The recent floods have caused great damage to the crops in Tennessee.

Tobacco from American seed is being grown in the province of Kharkov, Russia.

A number of coal lands in the Northwest Territory have been opened for settlement.

It is said that eating onions will keep the lips from chapping. Most girls prefer the chaps.

The French fleet is at Tahiti for the purpose of annexing several of the islands to France.

The Belgian Government has introduced bills to strengthen the laws for the maintenance of order.

A floating planing mill, 170 feet long by 70 feet in width, is being built on the Allegheny River.

The man who never does any harm might crawl into a cave and stay there ten years without being missed.

A member of a certain musical society, speaking of their instructor, said he not only beat time—he murdered it.

The fishermen of St. Margaret's Bay, N. S., have been capturing large quantities of mackerel for the last few days.

Mrs. Ada H. Kepley ran against her husband for school trustee at Effingham, Ill., and defeated him by twelve majority.

An exchange remarks that men are strongest in the morning. The same may also frequently be said of their breath.

The reason why capital punishment is becoming unpopular is because there is a growing aversion to leaving a man in suspension.

The half breed holstein bull, 11 months old, raised by F. R. Parker, Shubensacdie, N. S., weighs 836 lbs and has girth 5 feet 6 inches.

The authorities in Russian Poland have promulgated a decree which levies a tax of 50 roubles on foreign sojourners in the country.

A Panama despatch states that a clerk belonging to a well known commercial house in Valparaiso has absconded with $80,000.

There are over 100 wholesale poultry dealers in New York city, and some of them handle daily 100 barrels, holding 175 pounds each.

A boy aged 15 years at Hastings, Neb., succeeded last week in raising several notes. The Reform School will raise him until he is 21 years of age.

The enquiry into the loss of the Cunard steamer Oregon, sunk off Fire Island, N. Y., on Sunday, March 14th, has been commenced at Liverpool.

At Little Rock, Ark., on Wednesday, a negro held a boy twelve years old over a hot fire till the flesh on his body and legs was cooked to a crisp.

The eight leading base ball organizations in the United States will employ over 700 players, whose salaries for the season will aggregate about $800,000.

During 50 years' service as clerk and cashier in a bank at Providence, R. I., Deacon Salesburg has not lost a day's salary on account of sickness.

Michael Egan, a Chicago boy, aged 10, committed suicide by hanging himself last week, because his father locked him in the house while he visited a neighbor.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk railway for the week ending April 10 were $300,736, an increase of $13,303 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The son of a Russian general has been arrested for complicity in the recent plot to kill the Czar. Upon hearing of the arrest the officer attempted to commit suicide.

Dredging boats are now taking away 2,000 tons per week of the debris of Flood rock. Dynamite surface blasts are used to break up the boulders left by the submarine mine.

People who believe the stories about intelligent dogs, will read with pleasure that a lost dog in Norfolk, having seen his master's advertisement in one of the local papers, returned home.

Among the Zulus the mother-in-law cannot face the son-in-law, but must hide, or pretend to do so, whenever she sees him. In this country the custom is reversed; it is the son-in-law who does the dodging.

A sharp-sighted observer is firm in the belief that a woman works harder and gets madder in putting up a clothes line on a windy day than a man would do in building a line of telegraph miles long.

An eccentric street walker in Cleveland seems to have a mania for accumulating old boots, and already has the loft of his shanty full of them. As he is too deaf to be annoyed by cats, it is surmised that he contemplates starting a brewery.

A young couple eloped from Pendleton, Ky. last week, and were pursued by the girl's father. At Chilo, O., they secured a minister and were married in a skiff on the river, while the father stood on the bank with a shotgun and wrathfully watched the proceedings.

The coolness which arose between the Sultan of Zanzibar and Portugal, in relation to the Portuguese claims to territory in the Sultan's dominions, has disappeared, and Herat must be resisted.

been succeeded by the re-establishment of friendly relations. The Sultan has ordered that the Portuguese flag be publicly saluted.

The defalcation of bank cashier Robinson, of Angelica, N. Y., amounts, as far as known, to $41,000. Robinson was also executor of the Graves estate, which will lose $11,000. Robinson is in Canada, where he has been joined by his wife. The money was lost in wheat gambling in Chicago.

A young wife who had never learned the art of cooking, being desirous of impressing her husband with her knowledge and diligence, managed to leave the kitchen door ajar on the day after her return from her bridal tour, and just as her husband came in from the office, exclaimed loudly: "Hurry up, Elizabeth! Haven't you washed the lettuce yet? Here, give it to me! Where's the soap?"

A singular piece of enterprise in the way of marrying has recently occurred in the family of William Matinson, a sprightly citizen of Wilcox County, Ga., aged 60 years. His two sons married into the Brown family, and his daughter, Jane, was caught on the fly by Pleasant Gentry a few days after. This left the old man all alone, and so he concluded to get married too. He wooed and won Mary Blount, and a few days ago they were united as one. Thus the whole family changed hands within the space of a few weeks.

If the London Truth may be credited, the Imperial Government has agreed to subsidize the line of steamers between British Columbia, Hong Kong and Australia, to the extent of £100,000 a year. The steamers will require to be capable of carrying troops and guns, and they will be liable to go exclusively into the service of the Government in case of war. It is not probable that even the fall of the Gladstone Government would prevent this arrangement, assuming it really to have been made, from being carried into effect.

The standing army of the United States consists now of only 25,000 men. There are twenty countries which maintain larger armies than ours, though at a much smaller proportionate cost. Our army of 25,000 costs us $40,000,000 a year, while Turkey pays but $23,000,000 for an army six times as large. Spain pays $25,000,000 for the maintenance of her army of 152,000; Great Britain $90,000,000 for 181,000 men; Austro-Hungary only $50,000,000 for 284,000 men; 530,000 men cost France $121,000,000, while Germany maintains her army of $45,000,000 with an annual expenditure of $45,000,000.

The bone industry of America is an important one. The four feet of an ordinary ox will make a point of neat's-foot oil. Not a bone of any animal is thrown away. Many cattle's shin-bones are shipped to England for the making of knife handles, there they bring $40 per ton. The thigh-bones are the most valuable, being worth $80 per ton for cutting into tooth-brush handles. The fore-leg bones are worth $30 per ton and are made into collar buttons, parasol handles and jewelry, though sheep's legs are the staple parasol handles.

The water in which the bones are boiled is reduced to glue and the dust which comes from sawing the bones is fed to cattle and poultry.

The Russian Government has decided to attempt tea cultivation upon a large scale. Under advice, it is the intention of the government to import Chinese coolies, and the position chosen for the first plantation is Soukhum Kalo. That tea can be successfully cultivated in the Caucasus has been often proved, but whether it will prove a success commercially is questionable. It is argued that there is quite an extensive home market, the imports amounting to about 72,000,000 pounds annually, valued at $30,000,000, the Russians drinking tea of much superior quality than is consumed in this country. It is questionable if there will be the kind of labor available to compete with the Chinese and Hindostani laborer. At the same time it is impossible to develop the industry to any extent without the assistance of foreign capital.

The condition of affairs at Stry, Australia, among the people who lost their homes by the great fire, is most pitiable. Most of the victims are without food and means, and are rendered desperate by the thought of starvation. Farmers in the vicinity have been visited by mobs of men, who have first demanded food, and then, if refused, stole it. Owners of farms are now compelled to barricade their houses as the only way to guard them from being plundered of food by the mob, which, on account of hunger, is becoming uncontrollable. Numerous struggles for food, resulting in bloodshed have taken place. Thus far 68 bodies charred so as to make recognition difficult, have been taken from the ruins. There have been 20 deaths in the fields since Sunday of invalids, young and old, who were taken out of the town to escape the flames.

The Russian Government has recently directed overtures to the British authorities with a view of ascertaining whether it would be agreeable to the latter to extend the Indian railways to Herat, for the purpose of forming a junction with the Russian railways at that point. As at present advised by the Indian Government, the Home Government is not inclined to consent to the extension, though ultimately it may be found advantageous to do so. The steady progress of the Russian railroad continues to attract the attention of the British military experts, both here and in India. The road is now completed to within 140 kilometres of Sarakha, and at the present rate of extension will certainly be completed to Merv by the middle of May, and reach Amudaria by the end of July. The opinion among military authorities here is divided, but many believe that the Indian railways should be carried to Herat without delay, otherwise the time may come when the extension of Russian railroads beyond Herat must be resisted.
