A Cat Circus.

There is in London a wonderful circus composed of cats, rats, mice and birds. A correspondent, describing their performances, writes as follows:

First the cats walk over a row of chair backs, then along a series of champagne bottles, then in and out and round about the same bottles. Then hoop la for the rats and mice—white rats and white mice—which are placed upon the tight rope at intervals! A long procession of pusses then passes gingerly along the narrow path, avoiding the rats and mice as if they wouldn't gobble them up at any price.

JUMPING THROUGH FIRE.

ROLLING THE CYLINDER.

The cats go through their part of the performance with indifference, as much as to say, "We've got to earn our living, and a very good living it is, so we may as well do it cheerfully." And cheerful they are. As for the rats and mice, they seem indifferent too. Neither do the little canaries object to the cats walking over their fragile little bodies, and they "sweet, sweet," as if the rope were a perch. There are 30 cats, of all colors and all nations. The hoops of fire the cats jump through without any ado, never balking. Two of the family fight, and two are put aside for the high rope, which is suspended about 40 feet above the audience.

Tommy's Resolutions.

A good resolution made and kept for a single week will do its maker and keeper some good. The objection to making good resolutions and not keeping them lies in the fact that the first failure makes it easy to fail again and again. A boy of our acquaintance became very good on a New Year's day. He withdrew to his room, and appeared after an hour or two with a sheet of foolscap paper held up before him. At the top of the sheet was written, "Good Resolutions For 1893." Then came the following preamble and resolves:

I, Tommy Dean, knowing that I am not as good as I ought to be, and thinking that I should try to be better on account of my friends, do agree to keep the following resolutions for one year at the very least:

I will get up when called once instead of after I've been called four times.

I will keep the back of my hair combed and tidy.

I will run on errands even if I don't get anything for it.

I will surprise my teacher at school by studying hard most all of the time and not whisper half as much as I did last year.

I will brush my clothes every day to save ma from scolding, for it is wicked to scold.

I will never be late at the table and so save pa from saying things that hurt my feelings.

I will not be saucy, and I won't quarrel with any of the boys.

If I break any of these resolutions I will draw a blue mark over it and be sorry.—Buffalo News.

How a Rose Was Named.

Many flowers owe their names to famous people. Among the number are the dahlia, named for Dahl, a Swedish florist; the magnolia, for Magnol, a celebrated French botanist, and fuchsia for Fuch, a distinguished German savant, but there is only one instance known when a man and a flower received a title at the same moment.

This is how it happened: When Niel, a brave French general, was returning from the scene of his victories in the war between France and Austria, he received from a peasant, who wished to honor the hero, a basket of beautiful pale yellow roses. One of the stems, which happened to have roots clinging to it, the general took to a florist in Paris, in whose care it remained until it became a thriving bush covered with blossoms.

Niel then took the plant as a gift to Empress Eugenie. She expressed great admiration for the exquisite flowers, and on learning that the rose was nameless said significantly, "Then I shall name it. It shall be 'The Mareschal Niel,'" and at the same moment she bestowed upon the astonished general the jeweled baton that betokened his promotion to the high office of mareschal of France.—Wide Awake.

Too Tired to Finish.

In a certain home in this city one night recently a little 5-year-old girl, whiterobed for a night's rest, had been placed in bed by her mother, and as the tender parent bent over the little form the child's lips parted, and in tired tones came the words, "Now I lay me down to s'eep; I p'ay Lord my soul to teep; if I s'ould die"—a long, wearisome yawn—"if I s'ould die"—then a closing of the heavy eyelids and a protracted hush, and as the cherub turned her face she was only able to add: "Please, Lord, I'm dess as tired as I tan be. Tan't I say the west in th' mornin?" She said this much in great effort and sank into a profound slumber.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

He Was Convinced.

A man in Nova Scotia was in doubt as to the genuineness of the reported cure of Mrs. Bernard Maguire and ex-Councillor Lingley, of Petersville, Queen's Co., by a course of Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic and Hawker's Liver Pills. He wrote to Squire Lingley, and that gentleman promptly assured him that the testimonials were genuine. .....

GRATEFUL, PLEASING RELIEF AFTER MANY DAYS.

How a Queens County Man Found Permanent Healing.

His Own Experience Tells Fully and Freely some Truths which all Readers of this Paper Should Know.

Here and there, in almost every town of our province, are "chronic" cases over which doctors disagree; cases that become worse year after year. It is to reach such that the gentleman to whom these lines refer, and whose portrait is here given, has written the story of his case.

Mr. Branscomb's home is in Chipman, Queens Co., N. B. It was there that a representative of the Groder company called upon him, Sept. 1st, of the present year. His greeting was most cordial. He gladly acknowledged his thanks, giving expression to the following statement:

"It is five years since I first became afflicted with a form of indigestion. Last winter it became more severe, developing into chronic diarrhœa. I cannot tell you how much I suffered for SIX LONG WEEKS. It seemed as though relief could not be found. You will remember how I told you of my condition and asked your advice about taking a bottle of GRODER'S SYRUP. You told me that the medicine was a laxative and might not meet my needs. I delayed buying for a few hours until I began to hope that it would help me. Even my clothes seemed a burden because of bloating of stomach. It was with difficulty that I kept about sufficiently to attend to my business.

But I am a well man now from the use of your remedy. In three days after I bought GRODER'S SYRUP the terrible pain and distress across my stomach were removed. My bowels rapidly assumed a natural, healthy condition. Now I eat and drink as well as I ever could. I have gained constantly in flesh since March last. I am perfectly cured.

It seems a duty for me to state my case fully, that others who suffer as I did may know where to find a cure."

Truly yours,

E. A. BRANSCOMB.

Deservedly Popular.

Our readers have no doubt read with interest the despatches almost weekly appearing in this and other Canadian journals regarding cures of a most startling nature made by Dodd's Kidney Pills. These pills have proven themselves to be a certain cure for all diseases of the kidneys and blood, such as backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, etc.

Enquiry amongst local druggists elicits the facts that they have a very large sale and are an infallible cure for kidney disorders.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold everywhere, or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. .....

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ar.
