POSTAL.—There has lately been a promising accession to the ranks of our postal officials in the person of Mr. John Yeo, jr.

DEBATING CLUB.—The Journal advises the 're-formation of the Summerside Debating Club.'

PRINCE OF WALES COLLEGE,—The Christmas Examination takes place on Wednesday next, commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m. Parents and friends are invited.

LATEST ARRIVAL.—The Schooner Adventure, Boudroit, master, from Halifax, arrived on Saturday, 19th December—the latest arrival of the season.

THE WEATHER.—Winter has fairly set in. Charlottetown harbor is closing up. Snowstorms during the early part of last week have made travelling in the country heavy.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Hope Manufacturing Co., of New York they advertise what is the most wonderful invention of the age, a first class Sewing Machine, with Table and Treadle complete for Ten Dollars. Read their advertisement headed "Wonderful." 1y

HORNED OWL.—Mr. Charles Ives, of Miscouche, a few days ago disabled and captured a large horned owl. The bird which is at present at the Drug Store of J. A. Gourlie & Co., is said to be the largest of the species ever seen on the Island.—Sum. Journal.

MR. FREDERICK W. COLLINS, late Teacher of the Eastern District School, Summerside, has been winning laurels for himself as a Teacher, judging from a recommendatory certificate, presented to him by the Trustees, a copy of which appears in the —Sum. Progress.

NOVA SCOTIA ELECTIONS.—Telegraphic advices at the Reading Room state the elections are likely to result in the defeat of the Government. The returns, it is reported, show Opposition 18; Government 15—two Counties to hear from.

MAILS.—The steamers are at last laid up for the season; and no mail has been received in this city since Thursday last, when the Princess of Wales brought an English mail. It has been arranged that the "Winter Boat" shall leave Georgetown every Monday and Thursday, and Pictou every Tuesday and Saturday.

Mr. Donald McNeill, of Brae, Lot 9, lost two of his children very suddenly last week. They both got up in the morning apparently in good health. A short time after breakfast one of them took ill and died; immediately the other one was attacked in the same way, and died the next morning. It is supposed that they had eaten poison. —Summerside Journal.

SMALL-POX.—We regret to have to report that another case of small-pox has broken out in the city. A man named Patrick Toole—living in a large tenement house near the old barrack property—has been attacked. There is, yet no place to which to remove him. The Civic authorities are, rather late in the day, looking about them for a house which may be used as a temporary hospital.

TWO CAPE BRETON MEN DROWNED.—The North Sydney Herald says two young men belonging to Cape Breton were drowned in St. Pierre, Miq., on Friday night, the 4th inst., while trying to get on board the schr. 'Florence,' owned by J. W. Peppett of Cow Bay. Their names are Neil McDougall and Angus McDougall. The bodies were recovered on the following day, and interred in the cemetery at St. Pierre.—Hx. Chronicle.

TRADE AT MONTAGUE BRIDGE.—Our own correspondent at Montague Bridge writes (Dec. 18)—All the vessels are away from Montague with the exception of the schr. 'Excel,' which will remain here for the winter. The river is still open down to Georgetown, but I suspect the first hard frost will shut us out for this season. There are a good many vessels in Georgetown yet, loading with oats, for which they were paying 54 and 55 cents per bushel. The merchants are storing oats at Montague at 50 and 51 cents, and will no doubt haul them to the Georgetown Ferry.

PENNY READINGS.—At the Readings in the St. Peter's Schoolroom, on Tuesday last, the following programme was presented and well rendered:—

1 Reading, "The Gambler's Wife," Rev. J. Ellis.
2 Song, "Oh! Erin my country," Prof. Smythe.
3 Reading, "How to train up a child," Mr. J. E. Haszard.
4 Song, "Jessie's Dream" Mrs. Strickland.
5 Reading, "Barbara Fretchie" Mr. T. Harris.
6 Instrumental Duett, "La Chasse" Miss E. DesBrisay and Prof. Earle.
7 Reading, A Frenchman and the Proverbs ' Mr. W. L. Cotton.
8 Duett (Vocal) "I would that my love," Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Newbery.
9 Reading, "The First Grey Hair," Hon. T. H. Haviland.
10 Song, "The Message" Mrs. Nicholson.
11 Reading, "A rather remarkable Missionary," Mr. W. C. DesBrisay.
12 Instrumental Solo, "Allegretto movement from Hadyn," Prof. Earle.
13 Duett, Vocal, "Hark! the Goat Bel's Ringing,' Mrs. Peake and Mrs. Strickland.
14 Reading, 'The two Puddifoots,' Rev. J. Ellis.
15 Song 'Mrs. Jone's Musical Party,' Mr. Nicholson.

Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, there was not an audience as large as usual. The programme was, however, rendered in a capital manner. Mrs. Nicholson's beautiful singing and Prof. Earle's brilliant performance on the piano were highly appreciated and heartily applauded. The Rev. Mr. Ellis' reading of "The two Puddifoots' and Mr. Nicholson's song "Mrs. Jone's Musical Party," were both "decided successes.' Remember the Sacred Concert in St. Peter's Schoolroom tomorrow (Tuesday) evening. Doors open at 7.30 o'clock. Admission 25 cents.

STORM-TOSSED.—The Schr. Dove, Doyle, Master, from Rustico, P. E. Island, with oats for Charlottetown, being in the Straits on Sunday last, was driven far out of her course by the violent storm and blown across to the New Brunswick shore. The atmosphere was very thick and the vessel fortunately made Escaumitac Fog-whistle and succeeded in getting up inside of Fox Island in the afternoon, where she anchored. On Monday she ran up to Chatham, where the cargo was purchased by Mr. Muirhead. As the river is now closed for the season the vessel will winter here.—St. Lawrence Advocate, Chatham, N. B.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—Your correspondent, Solomon Eagle, will, no doubt, be surprised to learn that most energetic steps were taken last winter to secure a suitable building for the "hospital for sick poor" in Charlottetown,—as several members of the committee made most diligent enquiries, but all in vain, for directly a house would be found by them, the landlord would at once reply, "Not for a Hospital;" as if there were more danger in having a few invalids gathered under one roof than in their being scattered throughout the town. Is it clearly understood that NO INFECTIOUS DISEASES would be allowed within its walls; and, if so, why are people so unwilling to rent their houses for the purpose? Can any one tell the Committee where a house can be found?

Yours, &c,
BROTHER SOLOMON.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The British Parliament will re-assemble February 5th.

A fire at Charleston, West Virginia, last week, destroyed $200,000 worth of property.

Five children, 6 to 16 years old, were recently drowned while sliding on a pond near Peakness, New Jersey.

It is reported that the Spanish Republican General Loma has died of wounds received in the last battle with the Carlists.

Mr Vanderbilt has obtained a controling influence in the Canadian Southern Railway; he proposed to make it a through working line in connection with the New York Central. Orders have been given directing western bound freight to go by the Canadian Southern.

The commander of the British man-of-war Cracker telegraphs from Montevideo, 9th inst., confirming the report of the insurrection having broken out in Uraguay. The Government troops refuse to march against the insurgents, and demanded the resignation of the Ministers.

Fifty-two deaths from choleraic diarrhœa occurred among the coolies an board the Forfarshire, on the passage from Calcutta to Kingston, Jamaica. Twenty-seven deaths are reported on board another vessel.

King Kalakana, of the Sandwich Islands, arrived at Washington, and was received by a battallion of Marines and escorted to his quarters. He afterwards was invited by the members of the Cabinet, to whom he was presented. He will visit the President.

The Last Pin Gone.—A brave tar with a wooden leg, who was on board Admiral Duncan's fleet in the engagement with the Dutch, having the misfortune to have the other shot off, as his comrades were conveying him to the surgeon, notwithstanding the poignancy of his agonies, could not suppress his joke, saying, 'It was high time for him to leave off play when his last pin was bowled down.'

A Memorial Service was performed in honor of the late R C. Bishop Bacon, at the Cathedral in Portland, Me., Dec. 10; in which a large number of clergy united. Bishop McNierney, of Albany, was the celebrant, assisted by Father Barry, of Concord. There were present, Archbishop Connolly, of Nova Scotia, Bishops Williams, O'Reilly, of Springfield, and Loughlin, of Brooklyn, with a large number of priests from all quarters.

Rev. W. H. Beecher, of Chicago, the elder brother of Henry Ward Beecher, has been interviewed regarding the scandal. He declares his belief, as a true brother ought, in the latter's innocence of the charges against him. The interviewer propounded this conundrum: "Why should God permit him to suffer innocently?" Rev. W. H. Beecher did not "give it up," but answered it with another: "Why did God permit Job to have boils?" This settled the reporter, who has been boiling over to find out why ever since the interview.

'A professor in the University at Glasgow, as eminent for talent as for temper, writes Sheriff Barclay, 'was often annoyed by his unruly students. One day when the sun shone fully into the room, a wild Irish boy, with a piece of glass, contrived to dazzle and confuse the worthy preceptor by reflecting the rays of the sun full on his face. At length the professor caught young Ireland in the act. All the class looked for instant expulsion. But the venerable man gaily said, 'Young man, depend upon it, the reflection is on you, not on me.' The sunbeams were ever after permitted to follow their natural course.

Humorous Reply.—When the late Earl Howe was captain of the Magnanime during a cruise on the coast of France, a heavy gale of wind obliged him to come to anchor. It was on the lee shore, and the night was extremely dark and tempestuous. After everything was made snug, the ship rode with two anchors ahead, depending wholly on her ground tackle. The captain all the time was laid up with the gout, and was reading in his cabin, when the lieutenant of the watch came abruptly in and told his lordship, in a hurried manner, that the anchors came home. 'They are very much in the right of it,' answered the captain cooly; 'I don't know who would stay out such a night as this.'

Plentiful Wit.—A writer in Belgravia says:—'Foote has a vis comica of his own, which being, even as he was himself, utterly brutal, came upon friend and foe like the kick of a dray-horse. Such, for example, was his truculent reply to the inoffensive little man who mildly remarked, that he had come up from Essex—'The devil you have! Who drove you?' Sheridan's wit combined with the flash of the gem, its solidity too, and was invariably free from gratuitous rancor. It was 'more clearly allied to good nature' than wit always is. Dean Swift's wit was usually like forked lightning, scathing and blasting what it touched; but it was at times as mild as the moonbeams. It happened one day that his cook, whom he invariably called 'sweetheart, had greatly over-roasted the only joint he had for dinner. 'Sweetheart,' said the Dean, in the blandest possible tone, 'this leg o' mutton is overdone. Take it back into the kitchen and do it less.' The cook replied that the thing was impossible. 'But,' said the Dean, 'if it had been underdone, you could have done it more.' The cook assented. 'Well, then, Sweetheart,' rejoined the master, 'let this be a lesson to you. If you needs must commit a fault, at least take care that it is one that will admit of a remedy.' The mingled wit and wisdom of this admonition are delightful.

JOSH BILLINGS AND THE GONG.—Josh Billings related his first experience with the gong thus: "I never can eradicate holi from my memory the sound ov the first gong I ever heard. I was sittin on the front step of a tavern in the sitty ov Buffalo pensively smokin. The Ery kanal, with its golden waters, was on its way to Albany, and i was pursuin the line boats a floatin by and thinkin of Italy (wher I used to live) and her gondolers and gallus wimmin. My entire sole was, as it were in a swet. I wanted to klime. I felt grate, I actually grew. There are things in this lifertu big to be trifled with, there are times when a man brakes luce from himself, when he sees speerets, when we can almost touch the mune, and feels a tho he could fill both hands with the stars ov hevin, and almost sware he was a bank president. That's what ailed me. But the korse ov tru luv never did run smooth (this is Shakspear's opinion too). Just as I wos duin my best—dummer, dummer, spat, bang, beller, crash, roar, ram, dummer, dummer, whang, rip, rare, rallv, dummer. dummer, dum—with a tremenjus jump I struck the centre of the sidewalk, with aynther I klared the gutter, and with another I stood in the middle ov the street, snortin like an Indian poney at a band of music, I gazed in wild despair at the tavern stand, my heart swelling up as big as an outdoor oven; mi teeth was loos as a string of bedes. I thot all ov the crockery in the tavern had fell down, I thot of fenomenon; I thot of Gabriel and his horn; I was jest on the point ov thinkin of somethin else when the landlord kum out on the frunt stupe ov the tavern, holdin by a string the bottom ov an old brass kettle. He kawled me gently with his hand. I went slola and slola up to him; he kammed my fears; I saw the kussed thing, he said supper was ready, 'and axed me ef I wbd hav black or green tee, and I sed I wud."

QUACKS CONFOUNDED

Rheumatism and Gout have heretofore been considered by the ordinary practising physicians as incurable diseases, and the query has often been propounded, of what benefit to the helpless sufferer is all their pretended science; and what doth it avail—their long and tedious course of study—if they are obliged to acknowledge that all their resources are to no account when called upon to prescribe for a patient suffering from chronic rheumatism. The great trouble lies in the fact that the mode of investigation is prescribed within certain boundaries and limitations compelling, the student to tread in certain well worn paths, or suffer disgrace and excommunication from that highly respectable order of mortals known as the Medical Faculty. How often genius has been curbed in its flights of investigation can easily be imagined. And often really grand and beneficial discoveries have been placed under the ban of censure by those self-constituted censors for no reasons whatever, but that they are innovations upon a stereotyped and time honored prescription. It was not so however, with the proprietor of the

for his high standing in the profession, and the learning and science of an able mind, quickly compelled the Censor to succumb, and now physicians generally all over the world, where this medicine is introduced, admit of its wonderful efficacy, and often prescribe it for their patients. Of course the use of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, without the aid of a physician, is a saving in fees to the sufferer, but the really conscientious physician should rejoice at this, for the reason of the general benefits arising to mankind from its use.

READ WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY.

OFFICE OF SANITARY POLICE,
Montreal, June 18, 1874.

MESSRS DEVINS & BOLTON:

GENTLEMEN—Having been one of the many martyrs of Rheumatism that I meet on my daily rounds, I was induced to try the celebrated Diamond Rheumatic Cure, I had suffered the last five or six weeks the most terribly acute pains across the loins and back—so severe indeed that I could hardly walk without the aid of a stick. I commenced using the Diamond Remedy, following the directions carefully. Relief came immediately with the first bottle—improved with the second, and completely cured and free from pain after using my fifth small bottle.

You are at perfect liberty to refer to me either privately or publicly, as I feel very thankful for the relief and sympathize with my fellow sufferers from rheumatism.

Respectfully yours.
J. B. CARDINAL,
51 Labille Street.

ST. JOHN, N. B.
Sept. 29th, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH:

DEAR SIR,—This is to certify that the Diamond Rheumatic Cure has perfectly cured me of that dreadful pain called Rheumatism. I have suffered with the said complaint for upwards of twelve years, and tried several doctors, but never found anything to cure it until I took some of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. After taking three bottles of the said medicine I found myself as well as any man could wish for to be; for which I strongly recommend if to all who suffer from that dreadful pain.

PETER F. JOHNSTON,
123 Prince William St.

This medicine has for several months past been used with perfect success and satisfaction in the hospitals of Montreal, and is recommended by the best medical practitioners in that city, as a safe speedy, and positive cure for either chronic or or acute Rheumatism.

There is no medicine which so promptly revives the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation and restores the healthy action, as

The Diamond Rheumatic Cure.

In thousands of instances the prompt and free use of this medicine has saved valuable human lives. Hence the Diamond Rheumatic Cure should be in every hospital and infirmary, in every doctor's office, in every family and factory, in every shop and ship, in every office and counting room.

The experiment of twenty years in the London hospital, England, has demonstrated to the Medical Faculty of Europe, that the only medicine having control over this class of disease, is the

It is the result of a life time of scientific study, and is now for the first time offered to the Canadian public, prepared by a careful, experienced, and conscientious physician, in obedience to the desire of numberless friends in the profession, in the trade, and among the people.

Every bottle is warranted to contain the full strength of the medicine, in its highest state of purity and developement, and is superior to any medicine ever compounded for this terrible complaint.

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists throughout Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it to
