

Buyer meets seller with Guardian Want Ads. Dial 8506 ask for classified ad taker, for quick results.

Sunny and warm; low-high at Charlottetown 52 and 65. Outlook for Sunday: variable cloudiness.

P.W.C. Convocation Held In Crowded Auditorium

A crowded auditorium Friday morning witnessed the one hundred and twenty-second annual Convocation Exercises of Prince of Wales College and saw deserving students receive coveted prizes from the hands of His Honour, Lieutenant-Governor T.W.L. Frowse. Other features of the morning program, which was chaired by Premier A.W. Matheson, were the Convocation address, delivered by Senator, Hon. Elsie Inman, the address of the College principal, Dr. Frank MacKinnon, and the valedictory, delivered by Jean-Isabelle MacDonald.

Seated on the stage platform for the occasion were Dr. L.W. Shaw, Director of Education, Very Rev. J.A. Sullivan, Rector of St. Dunstan's University, Hon. Keir Clark, Minister of Education, Senator Inman, Lieutenant-Governor Frowse, Premier Matheson, Dr. MacKinnon, and His Worship, Mayor Stewart. His Honour was accompanied by his aide, Lt. Col. A.W. Rogers, E.D.

Following the opening procession and the singing of "The Queen", Premier Matheson welcomed all present and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many in attendance, especially in view of the inclement weather. "The weather", he remarked, "will not keep families away when they have something to be happy about." Referring to the graduates "who must have worked hard", the Premier said "there are others who worked hard and are not here to-day. Perhaps they couldn't get their knowledge down on paper, but, if they tried, I am sure there is a place for them in this country". In regard to the successful students, Premier Matheson said "their place is assured".

Following the presentation of the President's report, the Premier stated that "Dr. MacKinnon's advice is good for not only students, but for the audience as well." He then introduced the Lieutenant-Governor. His Honour then presented the various prizes, certificates, and diplomats to the deserving students, each of whose name was read by Dr. MacKinnon, who described the nature of presentation. Following the valedictory and convocation address, the program was brought to an end by the singing of "The Queen."

Following the presentation of the President's report, the Premier stated that "Dr. MacKinnon's advice is good for not only students, but for the audience as well." He then introduced the Lieutenant-Governor. His Honour then presented the various prizes, certificates, and diplomats to the deserving students, each of whose name was read by Dr. MacKinnon, who described the nature of presentation. Following the valedictory and convocation address, the program was brought to an end by the singing of "The Queen."

diplomats to the deserving students, each of whose name was read by Dr. MacKinnon, who described the nature of presentation. Following the valedictory and convocation address, the program was brought to an end by the singing of "The Queen."

NORMAL TRAINING
Della Gaudet, St. Nicholas Helen Ballum, Miscouche. Evelyn Weeks, Fredericton. Marilyn Sellar, Wadesley River. Aletha Mullen, Mt. Stewart. Audline Arsenault, Tignish.

FIRST YEAR
Susan Whiteside, Charlottetown. Phyllis Parker, North Wiltshire. Adele Beck, Central Royalty. Scott Rogers, Charlottetown. Faye Hickey, Parkdale. Hazel Vessey, York.
The John Caven Prize: for the student standing second in the Second Year French.
Susan Whiteside, Charlottetown. The S.N. Robertson Prize for Classics: highest standing in Latin and Greek.
Donald Moore, Charlottetown.
The Hon. John Richardson Scholarship: awarded to the student standing highest in Agriculture, Chemistry, and Physics: Carl Willis, Cornwall.
The J. Alfred Blanchard Memorial Prize, donated by the family: the student standing highest in Second Year French: Norman Stewart, Charlottetown.

THIRD YEAR
Evelyn MacLure, Montague. Christine MacPhail, Cornwall. Elizabeth Gill, Charlottetown. Maude Rogerson, Charlottetown. Ann MacKenzie, Parkdale. Lincoln MacLeod, Beach Point. Margaret Matheson, Wheatley.

SECOND YEAR
Barbara Worth, Charlottetown. Donald Mill, Charlottetown. Earle Warren, West Royalty. Gwendolyn O'Brien, Parkdale. Alan Anderson, St. Peter's South. Judy Miller, Tyne Valley. Elizabeth Howlett, Vernon.

Severe Heat And Drought Grips Burma

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters)—People in remote villages of Burma, which is gripped by the worst heat wave and drought in living memory, have revived a pre-Buddhist custom of masquerading as frogs and croaking for rain. Pasant have abandoned their homes and cattle have died in areas where wells and ponds have dried up and temperatures for a month soared above the 100-degree mark every day. In Rangoon, abbots and chief priests of leading Buddhist monasteries and temples have announced that Sunday will be a national day of prayer to break the heat wave. Sunday morning priests will recite Buddhist precepts and incantations in a broadcast over the government radio. After the ceremonies, 1,000 saffron-robed monks will lead the laity in a huge procession through the city reciting verses from the sacred scriptures.

U NU BLAMES SIN
Burmese Premier U Nu, who recently told a press conference he believed the heat wave was caused by the "sinful living" of the Burmese people, is expected to take part in the public prayers. But left-wing newspapers blame the abnormal weather on hydrogen bomb tests.

U.S. Asks Compensation, Apology For Taipei Riots

20 Tornadoes Hit West Texas

OLTON, Tex. (AP)—A sneak tornado smashed out of a driving rain here Friday to destroy 30 homes and injure at least 10 persons. The funnel was one of more than 20 deadly twisters that boiled across eastern New Mexico and west Texas. At least 100 homes were damaged by another tornado at Tahoka, Tex. A twister south of Durant, Okla., on the Texas line destroyed 20 boats and bathhouses at a resort lake. At least half-a-dozen small tornadoes bounced crazily across eastern New Mexico. Many barns and outbuildings were torn down, but few houses were hit. No one was reported injured.

CROPS DAMAGED
Heavy hail storms on the fringes of the tornado area damaged as much as 60 per cent of the wheat crop in the eastern New Mexico area. Red Cross representative George Harper of Lubbock, Tex., said 10 persons were injured here. 30 homes destroyed, 15 heavily damaged and 10 slightly damaged. The Negro and Latin-American sections of Olton were "wiped out," a policeman said. The rubble was combed for more possible victims. The tornado area of Texas was in the general vicinity of Silverton, where 22 persons were killed by a tornado last week. The tornadoes broke out shortly before noon and marched across upper Texas until late afternoon. They ranged from Amarillo, in the heart of the Texas Panhandle, as far south as Midland, 240 miles south of Amarillo. In north central Texas — at Fort Worth and Denton — flash floods from rains of more than eight inches in places drove additional home-owners fleeing for safety. It was the 37th day of violent

P.E.I. Farm Income Up Last Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Net income of Canadian farmers from farming operations in 1956 rose to an estimated $1,573,000,000 from $1,423,200,000 in 1955, the bureau of statistics said Friday. The 1956 figure compares with the post-war years of $1,347,400,000 in 1954 and $1,161,000,000 in 1955 and the all-time high was $2,154,500,000 in 1951. Net income of farmers from farming operations by province, with 1955 figures in brackets: Prince Edward Island, $14,900,000 ($13,900,000); Nova Scotia, $17,800,000 ($17,900,000); New Brunswick, $30,300,000 ($26,900,000); Quebec, $285,600,000 ($282,000,000); Ontario, $405,600,000 ($422,100,000); Manitoba, $132,500,000 ($97,100,000); Saskatchewan, $590,700,000 ($315,800,000); Alberta, $236,300,000 ($215,400,000) and British Columbia, $28,900,000 ($32,200,000).

Members Of Congress Take Serious View Of Outbreak

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Thursday demanded "full compensation and adequate apology" from Nationalist China for injuries inflicted on Americans and damage to American property by rioting mobs in the Formosan capital of Taipei. The government of President Chiang Kai-shek, whose mainstay in world affairs is United States friendship and support, formally expressed "profound regret" to the state department for the violent outbreak. It promised adequate protection for U.S. lives and property hereafter. Members of Congress generally took a serious view of the situation, and some said it was bound to damage Chinese-American relations. There was little or no immediate talk, however, of cutting off the massive U.S. financial aid to Chiang Kai-shek, though Senator Allen Ellender (Dem. La.) suggested changes in foreign aid policy to see that more assistance reaches the needy "masses" rather than the "rich."

EVIDENCES IN JAPAN
But in recent years the Eisenhower administration has curbed Chinese Nationalist operations against the Red-held mainland. These operations have been held down to purely defensive counter-strokes. U.S. policy has tended to pull away from support for the Nationalist government to march back on to the Asian continent and liberate the mainland from Red rule. The extent to which this may have generated deep-seated resentment is a question, but it may have been a factor underlying the Taipei riot. Much more directly involved, officials here said, is the fact that Americans in Formosa drive big cars, live in relatively good homes and dress well. They said it is axiomatic that where there is a large foreign population with marked differences in living standards, friction is bound to develop. The same sort of reasoning has been applied to evidences of anti-American feeling in Japan, including recent angry demands for trial by a Japanese court of an American soldier accused of having shot a Japanese woman collecting scrap-metal on a firing range.

Flood Threat At Dawson City

EDMONTON (CP)—A hospital has been evacuated and a state of emergency declared at Dawson City, Y.T., because of a serious flood threat on the Yukon River. Officials said reports from the area 110 miles northwest of Edmonton and from Mayo, Y.T., 100 miles northwest indicate waters have risen to a dangerous level on the Yukon and Stewart Rivers. Reports said the Yukon is more than 15 feet above normal. The Stewart at Mayo is rising one inch an hour and is 27.9 feet above normal.

Nat. Employment Committee To Meet In Charlottetown

The National Employment Committee of the Unemployment Insurance Commission which meets here for the first time in its history on the third and fourth of June, will bring to Charlottetown, a number of prominent Canadians. The committee is being tendered a dinner by the Provincial Government, which will be attended by Premier A.W. Matheson, and various members of his cabinet. In addition to the members of the committee, there will be several top-ranking civil servants present including Lieutenant Colonel J.G. Bisson, O.B.E., Chief Commissioner of the Canadian Unemployment Insurance Commission. Colonel Bisson served overseas with Major George Craig, now on the staff of Transport in Charlottetown. Some idea of Colonel Bisson's prominence may be gained from the following biographical sketch of his career:

LT.-COL. J. G. BISSON

Born at Black Lake in Quebec's Eastern Townships, Lt. Col. Bisson graduated from McGill University in 1936 with the degree of Bachelor of Commerce; he became a Chartered Accountant and received the degree of Licentiate in Accountancy (McGill) in 1938. He joined the Montreal firm of P.S. Ross and Sons, Chartered Accountants, in 1937, and in 1939 he went to Canadian Industries Limited, with whom he was employed as accountant and internal auditor. Lt. Col. Bisson's connections with Canadian Industries Limited were broken by his war service. He was mobilized on September 1st, 1939, with the rank of captain, having held that appointment in the Non-Permanent Active Militia. He was first commissioned in the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps (N.P.A.M.) in 1934. Proceeding overseas as a captain with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps in January, 1940, Lt. Col. Bisson rose to his present rank. In that rank he held the appointment of Assistant Director of Supplies and Transport (supplies). First Canadian Army, in pre-invasion (Continued on Page 15, Col. 5)

Top Salary In U.S. In 1956 Was $809,011

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the old timers of American industry, 81-year-old Eugene C. Grace, was the highest paid "boss" in the United States last year, a business magazine reported Friday. Grace, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel Corp., earned $809,011 to lead the field, followed by Harlow H. Curcize, president of General Motors Corporation, with $695,100. Business Week magazine said in a report on salaries of top-paid executives reported Friday. It was a reversal of the one-two order in 1955, when Curcize earned $776,400 and Grace drew $705,923. Business Week emphasized that "the figures, of course, are all gross." It pointed out that "after the tax bite, take-home looks considerably smaller. For instance out of the $809,011 Grace received, he keeps only about $133,000." Besides Grace and Curcize, five executives received total compensation of more than $500,000 last year. They were: Arthur B. Homeier, president, Bethlehem Steel, $668,176; Crawford H. Greenwall, president, Du Pont, $600,886; Frederick G. Donner executive vice-president, General Motors, $577,625; Louis C. Goad, executive vice-president, General Motors, $521,000 and Robert E. McManis, vice-president, Bethlehem Steel, $514,340.

FAMOUS PORT

Plymouth in England has been a British naval base since Edward I assembled a fleet there in 1287.

St. Laurent Continues Blasts At Conservatives For Promises

SHEBROOKE Que. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Friday night accused the Progressive Conservative Party of ignoring their responsibilities to the public and making extravagant election promises that would increase federal taxation by $150,000,000 a year. "Election promises often originate from a desire to substitute the interests of one's party for those of the nation," he told a political rally in the University of Sherbrooke auditorium. "The Conservatives have forgotten that their role is to interpret the will of the people. They give the impression of seeking to serve the interests of their party." Mr. St. Laurent spoke in both English and French. His statements were included in the text of his address issued to the press before delivery. PROMISES EASY Promises come easily to the Conservatives. The 75-year-old Liberal leader said maintaining that none of the three opposition parties seriously believe they will be elected to power on June 19. "The Conservatives would be terribly embarrassed by their promises in the unlikely event that they were elected. Their accusation of extravagance against the government has not been proven. They have not suggested one real effective reduction in federal expenditures or federal services.

The federal surplus last year was $200,000,000 Mr. St. Laurent said. Under present taxation the outcome of the Conservatives' promises would be an annual budgetary deficit of $1,300,000,000. Canada could not afford the programs advocated by the Conservatives. They lacked a sense of responsibility. The Liberals on the other hand made few promises. Their big job was to resist the irresponsible demands by opposition parties. The Liberals' policy was to increase federal services as income revenues permitted. For example the government had increased payments to provinces under tax-sharing arrangements which this year would increase revenue for Quebec by $5,000,000. The federal government also planned to get ahead with hospital insurance. And yet there had been no increases in tax rates in the last four years. In fact there had been many decreases. "The tax yield has been reduced by $475,000,000 a year at present rates. And the national debt has been reduced by $165,000,000." Payments for family allowances and other security measures were increased in the last budget. But the Progressive Conservative convention in Ottawa last November indicated that family allowances "still hold these Conservatives" Mr. St. Laurent said.

CCF Names Candidate For Queens County

Mr. Murdoch MacLeod of Long River was nominated to contest the Queens County constituency for the C.C.F. Party in the forthcoming Federal election at a meeting held at Bradablane last night. Mrs. Muriel MacInnis, C.C.F. candidate for Prince County, addressed the meeting. Mr. MacLeod also spoke briefly. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Douglas MacFarlane.

Maritime Library Association Meets

SYDNEY (CP)—The annual conference of the Maritime Library Association Friday named a committee to study a suggestion that a list of materials, industries and potentials of the Atlantic provinces be drawn up. The committee was named after 50 delegates attending the opening session of the two-day conference heard a talk on the Atlantic provinces Economic Council by staff economist Stephen Branch of Halifax. The association is a charter member of APEC.

BEAUTY SHAVED HEAD

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A 24-year-old Greek beauty's head was shaved by Brynner-fashion before television cameras Friday. Mrs. Marie Cain was chosen from more than 500 women volunteers. She said she volunteered because she needed money to bring her mother to Australia from Egypt. She received $200, a washing machine, a refrigerator, a television set, a diamond watch—and a short wavy brunette wig.

Diefenbaker Declares PM Has Been Making Many Promises

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) John Diefenbaker said Friday that Prime Minister St. Laurent, while accusing Progressive Conservatives of making unjustified election promises, has himself made promises exceeding $750,000,000 at least. "And he said he wasn't going to make any promises in this election," the Progressive Conservative leader said with sarcasm. "He counts that day lost in which a major promise has not been made." Mr. Diefenbaker's afternoon speech was made to some 400 persons in this northern British Columbia lumbering city of 14,000 population. He flew some 450 miles from Vancouver to deliver the speech and was due to fly to Kamloops for an evening meeting.

St. Laurent Continues Blasts At Conservatives For Promises

The federal surplus last year was $200,000,000 Mr. St. Laurent said. Under present taxation the outcome of the Conservatives' promises would be an annual budgetary deficit of $1,300,000,000. Canada could not afford the programs advocated by the Conservatives. They lacked a sense of responsibility. The Liberals on the other hand made few promises. Their big job was to resist the irresponsible demands by opposition parties. The Liberals' policy was to increase federal services as income revenues permitted. For example the government had increased payments to provinces under tax-sharing arrangements which this year would increase revenue for Quebec by $5,000,000. The federal government also planned to get ahead with hospital insurance. And yet there had been no increases in tax rates in the last four years. In fact there had been many decreases. "The tax yield has been reduced by $475,000,000 a year at present rates. And the national debt has been reduced by $165,000,000." Payments for family allowances and other security measures were increased in the last budget. But the Progressive Conservative convention in Ottawa last November indicated that family allowances "still hold these Conservatives" Mr. St. Laurent said.

ELLIOT LAKE, Ont.—Governor-General Massey brings a shocked expression to the face of N.H. Bouck, vice-president of Ontario Mining Company of Canada Limited, when he puts his hand in a barrel of toxic uranium oxide during a visit to the mine at Elliot Lake, near Deep River, Mr. Massey, who returned to Ottawa on the weekend and then embarked on a tour of the Maritimes, escaped unscathed.

Chiang Calls Out 33,000 Troops To Restore Order

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek moved 33,000 troops into Taipei overnight to end anti-American rioting which wrecked the U.S. Embassy and injured nine Americans. (Reuters said that 10 persons were killed or wounded when police opened fire on a howling mob of 30,000 trying to storm the Taipei police station.) At one stage a frenzied mob of 3,000 took over the embassy compound. They stoned the two-storey, grey brick building, broke windows and worked their way inside, smashing furnishings and scattering documents. They hauled down a U.S. flag and tore it to shreds. Other rioters moved on the two-storey building of the U.S. information agency, some distance from the embassy, and left it in wreckage. They unsuccessfully attacked a U.S. communications center. RIOTERS ATTACKED Rioters tossed stones at U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and George Yeh, foreign minister for Nationalist China. Yeh was hit by a stone. Finally, the mobs, grown to 20,000 or 30,000, besieged the city police headquarters demanding a lease of prisoners taken in the earlier rioting. This siege lasted six hours and ended only with a declaration of martial law and the arrival of the first contingents of troops. That evidently saved Taipei from a bloodbath. The mob action was set off by reaction to the U.S. court martial of an American soldier who shot to death a Chinese he accused of rape in a town. The soldier, Master Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colorado, Md., was acquitted Thursday. He was hustled out of Formosa—guarded by 78 police—before the violence broke out. He flew to Manila in a chartered plane with Mrs. Reynolds and their seven-year-old daughter. RED INFLUENCE SEEN Some quarters expressed belief that pro-Communist elements, operating in the guise of patriots, had agitated the crowds. That was a tactic often used on the mainland before Communists took over there in 1949. Generalissimo Chiang's government, protected from Communist invasion by the U.S. 7th Fleet and the beneficiary of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of economic and military aid, expressed its "profoundest regrets" at the outbreak endangering 9,000 American on this tropical stronghold. The mob's wrath was not vented entirely on Americans. In attempting to storm police headquarters rioters tore guns from the hands of four police and shot and critically injured two policemen. Formosa's Black Friday began about noon when Mrs. Liu Tze-Jan, widow of the slain Chinese, arrived at the embassy with a three-cornered placard calling Reynolds a killer and declaring his acquittal unjust. A crowd that gathered to watch her gradually became bellicose. Someone threw a stone. Others followed his example, until practically every window was smashed. Each hit brought uproarious applause. MOB CLIMBS WALL The mob scaled the wall to the embassy compound and wrecked or burned seven cars, trucks and jeeps there. A lone demonstrator climbed the flagpole and hauled down the Stars and Stripes. The flag was torn to tatters and bits of it distributed to frenzied cheer. The U.S. emblem on the front door was torn down and the door battered open.

Other rioters moved on the two-storey building of the U.S. information agency, some distance from the embassy, and left it in wreckage. They unsuccessfully attacked a U.S. communications center. RIOTERS ATTACKED Rioters tossed stones at U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and George Yeh, foreign minister for Nationalist China. Yeh was hit by a stone. Finally, the mobs, grown to 20,000 or 30,000, besieged the city police headquarters demanding a lease of prisoners taken in the earlier rioting. This siege lasted six hours and ended only with a declaration of martial law and the arrival of the first contingents of troops. That evidently saved Taipei from a bloodbath. The mob action was set off by reaction to the U.S. court martial of an American soldier who shot to death a Chinese he accused of rape in a town. The soldier, Master Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colorado, Md., was acquitted Thursday. He was hustled out of Formosa—guarded by 78 police—before the violence broke out. He flew to Manila in a chartered plane with Mrs. Reynolds and their seven-year-old daughter. RED INFLUENCE SEEN Some quarters expressed belief that pro-Communist elements, operating in the guise of patriots, had agitated the crowds. That was a tactic often used on the mainland before Communists took over there in 1949. Generalissimo Chiang's government, protected from Communist invasion by the U.S. 7th Fleet and the beneficiary of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of economic and military aid, expressed its "profoundest regrets" at the outbreak endangering 9,000 American on this tropical stronghold. The mob's wrath was not vented entirely on Americans. In attempting to storm police headquarters rioters tore guns from the hands of four police and shot and critically injured two policemen. Formosa's Black Friday began about noon when Mrs. Liu Tze-Jan, widow of the slain Chinese, arrived at the embassy with a three-cornered placard calling Reynolds a killer and declaring his acquittal unjust. A crowd that gathered to watch her gradually became bellicose. Someone threw a stone. Others followed his example, until practically every window was smashed. Each hit brought uproarious applause. MOB CLIMBS WALL The mob scaled the wall to the embassy compound and wrecked or burned seven cars, trucks and jeeps there. A lone demonstrator climbed the flagpole and hauled down the Stars and Stripes. The flag was torn to tatters and bits of it distributed to frenzied cheer. The U.S. emblem on the front door was torn down and the door battered open.

Other rioters moved on the two-storey building of the U.S. information agency, some distance from the embassy, and left it in wreckage. They unsuccessfully attacked a U.S. communications center. RIOTERS ATTACKED Rioters tossed stones at U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and George Yeh, foreign minister for Nationalist China. Yeh was hit by a stone. Finally, the mobs, grown to 20,000 or 30,000, besieged the city police headquarters demanding a lease of prisoners taken in the earlier rioting. This siege lasted six hours and ended only with a declaration of martial law and the arrival of the first contingents of troops. That evidently saved Taipei from a bloodbath. The mob action was set off by reaction to the U.S. court martial of an American soldier who shot to death a Chinese he accused of rape in a town. The soldier, Master Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colorado, Md., was acquitted Thursday. He was hustled out of Formosa—guarded by 78 police—before the violence broke out. He flew to Manila in a chartered plane with Mrs. Reynolds and their seven-year-old daughter. RED INFLUENCE SEEN Some quarters expressed belief that pro-Communist elements, operating in the guise of patriots, had agitated the crowds. That was a tactic often used on the mainland before Communists took over there in 1949. Generalissimo Chiang's government, protected from Communist invasion by the U.S. 7th Fleet and the beneficiary of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of economic and military aid, expressed its "profoundest regrets" at the outbreak endangering 9,000 American on this tropical stronghold. The mob's wrath was not vented entirely on Americans. In attempting to storm police headquarters rioters tore guns from the hands of four police and shot and critically injured two policemen. Formosa's Black Friday began about noon when Mrs. Liu Tze-Jan, widow of the slain Chinese, arrived at the embassy with a three-cornered placard calling Reynolds a killer and declaring his acquittal unjust. A crowd that gathered to watch her gradually became bellicose. Someone threw a stone. Others followed his example, until practically every window was smashed. Each hit brought uproarious applause. MOB CLIMBS WALL The mob scaled the wall to the embassy compound and wrecked or burned seven cars, trucks and jeeps there. A lone demonstrator climbed the flagpole and hauled down the Stars and Stripes. The flag was torn to tatters and bits of it distributed to frenzied cheer. The U.S. emblem on the front door was torn down and the door battered open.