The United States the Cause of the Depression in England.

(English Correspondent New York Herald.)

Many reasons are assigned—the main reason, the prosperity of the United States. Nothing seems clearer than this, that England is falling back simply because America is advancing. If you look for the causes of this trouble what do you find? There is the distress in the iron trade. Well, in ten years America has added twelvelfold to her iron production. Every ton of ore produced is so much taken from England. We can make iron even in Tennessee and Alabama cheaper than it can be made in England, and as a consequence the export trade of English iron, once the largest item of our imports, is confined to the Atlantic coast. Very soon it will be driven out and we shall be sending our manufactured iron to this market. This makes an immense chasm in the profits of English labor. There is no distress in the cotton trade. Not long since England had a virtual monopoly of cotton manufacture. She purchased our raw cotton and sent it back to us in cloth, and the industry assumed prodigious proportions. She had a market in India and China. I am afraid even to hazard a guess as to the amount of money England has made in the last half century out of her cotton trade with India, China and the United States. What do you see now? The United States makes her own cotton into cloth and begins to supply England. In China our cloths are so much better than the English that we are taking the market. I hear of some English mills imitating our American trade marks so as to secure a Chinese market. I read warning articles in the newspapers, telling cotton manufacturers that unless they stop cheating the Chinese by putting too much sizing in their cotton cloths, they will lose their whole trade, the Chinaman being a thoughtful, prudent person, and not caring to buy sizing by the yard. In India, where England has a monopoly of the cotton trade, and where local regulations would forbid any serious competition on our part, the people are building cotton mills and making their own cloth. Labor is so cheap in India, and cotton grows there in such profusion, that this competition must be effective. So you see that three great markets in which England has heretofore being supreme, are taken from her, and the cotton trade dies, and the men who work in cotton must go to the relief Associations and crave bread and meat.

How Farmers Lose Money.

(From Colman's Rural World.)

By not taking one or more papers. Keeping no account of farm operations, paying no attention to the maxim that "a stitch in time saves nine," in regard to sowing grain or planting seed at the proper time. Leaving reapers, cultivators, plows, etc., unsheltered from the rain and heat of the sun. More money is lost in this way annually than most persons would be willing to believe. Permitting broken implements to be scattered over the farm until they are irreparable. By repairing broken implements at the proper times, many dollars may be saved—a proof of the assertion that time is money. Attending auction sales and purchasing all kinds of trumpery because, in the words of the vendor, the articles are very cheap. Disbelieving the principle of rotation of crops, before making a single experiment. Allowing fences to remain unrepaired until strange cattle are found grazing in the meadow, grain fields, or browsing on the fruit trees. Planting fruit trees without giving the trees half the attention required to make them profitable.

The St. John's (P. Q.) News, an Independent journal, calls attention to the mischievous misrepresentation of Canadian affairs by the New York Witness. That journal contends that Mr. Tilley received a rebuff in England, and that the causes were various. The News replies: "1. Canadian credit has not declined since the 17th of December last. 2. The loan of Mr. Tilley's negotiation was a success, and the misrepresentations of the Globe and its witnesses have been positively refuted by authority. 3. Mr. Tilley met with a 'rebuff,' but was well received, and could to-morrow get three millions more if he required that amount. It is a miserable misrepresentation of the National Policy to say that it shuts out English manufactures, or contemplates increasing the tariff as a whole. It does propose a readjustment of the tariff in the interest of Canada, and if we do not misread the signs of the times, England will be compelled to readjust her tariff or cease to be a first-rate manufacturing power."

W. H. Vanderbilt, who reckons his wealth to be over $100,000,000, has ordered building specifications for a new residence, to be erected on the now vacant lot extending from 51st to 52nd Streets, on 54th Avenue, and which is calculated to cost from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. This "flight of grandeur" by Mr. Vanderbilt is said to be the result of an "unfavorable" comparison of the Vanderbilt mansion with the Stewart mansion, by a prominent "society" lady, who called at the former place last Thanksgiving Day.

In the collection of curiosities, &c., which the princess Louise has brought out with her from England, is a very old Moorish dagger, which was sent to Her Majesty from Morocco, and bestowed on the Princess Louise by the Queen.

It is believed that the Department of Marine and Fisheries will shortly consider the advisability of enforcing more stringent restrictions in regard to the period for catching fish on the shores of the Maritime Provinces.

It is said that the Pacific Railway sections, for which tenders are now being advertised, will be let at the earliest possible moment. The delays which have already occurred are said to be owing to the fact that the specifications were not ready.

Last year, 5,314 books were published in England, 1,584 being new editions. Fiction leads, with 879 volumes; theology comes next, with 739, and education third, with 586. Nearly all the novels are republished, while hardly a third of the other books go to a second edition.

The cultivators of lettuce and celery in France have united and offered a premium of $2,000 for a remedy that will check a rust that is proving injurious to the growth of these vegetables. The rust appears in spots, spreads rapidly, and is most destructive with plants that are nearly ready for the market.

It is rumored that the Indians about Battleford, North West Territories, are constantly appealing to Governor Laird for aid in addition to what they already received in accordance with the terms of Indian treaty No. 5. It is not known on what particular ground the Indians base their dissatisfaction, but there can be no doubt that much anxiety exists about Fort Pelly and Battleford.—Ottawa Herald.

The Empress Eugenie is described as leading the quietest and most monotonous of lives at Chislehurst. She prays, she drives, she embroiders, sometimes she plays whist in the evening; one day is almost exactly like another. Her food is simple, and she talks little at table, but always looks pleasant and interested. She is still handsome, her beautiful golden hair shining royally above her plain black dress.

The Duchess of Cumberland was assured an independent annual income on her marriage, and if the next Folkstead is more complaisant, the King will ask it to give his daughter a dower of 120,000 crowns, say $22,150. If the Duke could only get back his father's sequestered estates from Germany he would have an income of $500,000 a year, leaving out of the question his expectations from Brunswick.

Alvin Harrison, a cousin of President Harrison, and a hermit in Kansas, died recently in the uncomfortable cabin he has inhabited for many years. He was a promising young physician when he became engaged to a lady who, on the eve of their marriage, eloped with somebody else. Mr. Harrison was so disgusted that he retired from the ken of mankind, and has ever since lived alone, half-clothed and half-fed in spite of a comfortable fortune.

A definite plan has been finally decided upon for settling the affairs of Archbishop Purell, of Cincinnati. All the property of the Archbishop will be turned over to five trustees, who will manage it in the interest of the creditors. The indebtedness is $500,000, and the property to be turned over exceeds $1,000,000. The trustees will raise the necessary cash by issuing bonds, payable on call after three years, and not later than twenty.

Henry S. Ellmore, a former trustee of Talmage's tabernacle, and from whom his wife obtained a divorce on the ground of illicit intimacy with Mrs. Hutchins, of Brooklyn, married Mrs. Hutchins in Hamilton, Ont., on Thanksgiving Day, in order to evade the law of New York State. The marriage notice was not published. The parties since lived in Brooklyn. The second Mrs. Ellmore has now become insane, her hallucination being that she has committed an unpardonable sin against her first husband, now dead, and that he will never forgive her.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles, when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.
