We clip the following paragraphs from notices of the Exhibition of the Ontario Society of Arts, now open in Toronto:—

"The Dearest Joy," by R. Harris, C. A., represents a little girl nursing her doll. The drawing is good and the coloring still better, and all in all the picture is well worthy of the distinguished artist from whose easel it comes.—Toronto Globe, May 14.

Mr. Harris' new picture, "The Church Porch," is one that will call forth more than a passing comment from the visitor. It represents a young girl in the costume of the early part of this century, standing under the porch of an old church. The chiaroscuro is remarkably good. The shadow in the background is deep but not opaque, and the figures enveloped in it support the principal subject without detracting from its prominence.—Toronto Mail, May 14.

August Flower.

The immense sale and great popularity of Green's August Flower in all towns and villages in the civilized world has caused many imitators to adopt similar names, expecting to reap a harvest for themselves at the expense of the afflicted. This medicine was introduced in 1863, and for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, with their effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sickheadache, Indigestion, Palpitation of the Heart, vertigo, etc., etc., it never has failed to our knowledge. Three doses will relieve any case of Dyspepsia. Two million bottles sold last year. Price 75 cents. Samples 10 cents.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—After a very moderate delay, David Lawson ventured a reply to my letter of the 14th inst. It is evident that my strictures have had the effect of making him feel sore, and knowing well their truthfulness, attempts to rebut them by publishing a tissue of the most flagrant falsehoods. I say "falsehoods" advisedly, for Mr. Lawson knew when he penned them (if pen them he did) that they were fabrications of the worst kind.

Mr. Lawson "cannot see the reason I denounced him, and that he never promised to vote for me." Unluckily for Mr. L., a very intimate friend of his was present at 4.45, and heard me tell Mr. Lawson that I would then poll my vote for him, and request him (Mr. L.) to vote at the same time. Mr. L. thanked me and said he had decided not to vote at all, which would be equivalent to giving me a vote. How does this agree with the veracity of David?

He (Mr. L.) admits that "I ran against the candidates nominated at the Allen's Hall meeting and so came to be looked upon as his colleague, but we did not conduct our canvass together." Does not Mr. L. well remember that, immediately after our nomination, on the 6th inst., we fully arranged for the canvass, he deciding to take the eastern end of the Ward, and I consenting to attend to the western portion. This, certainly, looks as if we were "in conjunction." Why, then, does Mr. Lawson falsify matters? Several days prior to the election, I heard it whispered that Mr. L. was not acting loyally with me, but had been canvassing for himself only. I, knowing that my canvass was faithfully carried on, I having succeeded in influencing votes for Mr. L., from those who at first refused supporting him—many of them assuring me that I was in bad company, a fact which I have since fully realized—I met Mr. L. in a friend's store, and mentioned the rumor to him. He positively assured me that if such an impression existed it was untrue, and that he had acted honorably in the matter. I accepted his explanation, believing him to be a man of honor, but his present communication clearly demonstrates how sadly I have been deceived. Mr. Lawson again falsely states that I did not make it a condition that the men who voted for me should support him. Every vote I canvassed was solicited for Lawson and myself. In some cases I was unsuccessful, and can now appreciate the wisdom of those who refused him.

Modest Mr. Lawson says that I voted for him because I thought he would protect the interest of the taxpayers better than Mr. Beer or Mr. Hughes. Such an absurd idea never crossed my mind and could only emanate from the diseased imagination of a lunatic.

Mr. Lawson's contemptible insinuation that my candidature was not looked upon with approval by the electors of the Ward, the returns of the election disprove. Were it not for my exertions in his behalf, his "majority" would be reduced fully 75 votes. This he knows to be true.

Mr. Lawson has added insult to injury by the publication of his choice letter, proving that his egotism is only exceeded by his ignorance, when he says "he believes the electors are under a debt of gratitude to him." I suppose for having practiced a gross piece of treachery and deception.

The electors are only too anxious to liquidate this "debt," and will do so the first opportunity in a manner not at all congenial to Mr. Lawson.

The chief characteristics in Mr. Lawson's character are corpulency, treachery, falsehood and deception.

On the day of the election I had two teams running incessantly to the booth bringing up voters to support Lawson and myself, whose sympathies, in the majority of cases, were with Beer and I, but knowing it was our duty to support each other, I persuaded them to vote "the ticket." Electors who walked to the polls and who intended supporting me and either Hughes or Beer, I, in many cases, won for Mr. Lawson. Voters who wished to "plump" me, did, after much solicitation on my part, give Lawson the additional vote.

After doing all in my power for this person—even sharing my dinner with him, his friends evidently thinking him unworthy of a feed—and I may say, after sitting down to our rude meal I was called to the poll clerk's table for a minute or two, when returning to dinner I found that every particle had been consumed—I am now treated by this individual to a communication containing only vulgar abuse and falsehood.

Mr. Lawson does not represent the Ward—his own vote, and not that of the electors, has accidentally placed him in his present unenviable position—he is, in fact, "the unprincipled representative of a treacherous constituency."—i. e., he represents himself.

As it is impossible to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, it is equally hard to create a gentleman from such an incongruous mass as David Lawson. I now leave this matter in the hands of a discerning and intelligent public, asking that instead of censure they will mete out pity to a man who has fully proven himself to be a selfish, unthankful and traitorous person, and has shown his utter disregard for the essential element called truth. I am, etc.

THEO. L. CHAPPELLE.
Ch'town, May 18, 1880.

P. S.—I defy Mr. Lawson to disprove any of the foregoing statements. I have his own friends to corroborate the facts.
