Gallant - Barrett Marriage Solemnized In Alberton

The Sacred Heart Church, Alberton, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 18, 1958, when Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Barrett, Alberton, was united in marriage to Clifford, son of Mr. Joseph Gallant and the late Mrs. Gallant, O'Leary.

The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Phelan McKenna and the wedding music was played by Mrs. E.E. Larter. Mr. J. H. Barrett sang "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Mother at Thy Feet Is Kneeling," and a girls' quartette, Misses Alice Faye Barrett, Bonita Barrett, Ronnie Rose MacKinnon and Diane Ahearn, sang "O Sacrament, We Thee Adore" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. R.D. MacKinnon, was attractively gowned in a cocktail length dress of pastel blue net over taffeta. She wore a white hat with blue veil and matching blue mitts. Her corsage was pink roses and she carried a white missal with pink streamers.

Miss Helen Barrett, as her sister's bridesmaid, wore pink nylon in cocktail length, with pink hat and white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses and she carried a white missal with blue streamers.

Little Miss Yvonne Barrett, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in white with pink accessories.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Wesley Gallant. Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served to forty-five guests.

The bride's mother wore a beige street length dress with corsage of white carnations.

Following a honeymoon trip in the Maritimes, Mr. and Mrs. Gallant will reside in O'Leary.

By Any Other Name It's Shish Kababs!

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN
"What is the difference in the method of cooking meat on brochettes or skewers or shish kabab style?"

The Chef and I have encountered this question in various forms in audience discussions following personal appearances.

SAME METHOD

"There is no difference in the method of cooking," the Chef always answers.

"In each case, the meat or fish is impaled on a pointed gadget. Originally, it was a sword for shish kababs — shish means sword, kababs means meat. A handled rod, called a brochette, or metal skewers are currently used. These gadgets are twelve inches in length, the right size to hold enough impaled meat or fish and vegetables to broil or grill for each person.

"The meat must be well-seasoned, with plenty of fat used, or it will be dry, tough and tasteless."

CASUAL MEAL

Of course, whether the food is cooked on a sword or a brochette, on elegant stainless steel skewers over an indoor or terrace barbecue grill, or on a pointed green stick over a camp fire, the meal is a casual one.

Tomorrow's dinner: Chilled pineapple juice, lamb kababs on Persian rice, tossed green salad bowl, lime sherbet with strawberries, hot or iced coffee, tea or milk.

All measurements are level; recipes proportioned to serve 4 to 6.

Lamb Kababs: Order 2 lbs. tender lean lamb cut in generous bite-sized pieces.

Add lamb to lemon marinade, made by combining and mixing 1 c. lemon juice, 3/4 c. corn oil, 1 chopped medium onion or 1/2 tsp. liquid onion, 3 drops liquid garlic, 3/4 tsp. each powdered thyme and bay leaf and 1-8 tsp. ground clove.

Let lamb stand in marinade and refrigerate a few hours or, if possible, overnight.

Impale lamb on brochettes or skewers, preferably 12 - in. in length, alternating with 4 - in. slices of onion, squares of green pepper and wedges of not-too-soft fresh tomato, if desired. Dust with salt and pepper.

For indoor broiling, place the shish kababs over the edge of a low pan so they are suspended. Broil under a medium heat 20-25 min. Turn twice; baste generously with the marinade. Last, brush with melted butter for shining effect.

Serve sizzling. When eating, remove from skewer with a fork to enjoy the savory morsels.

The Orwell Head W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Alex MacKinnon on Tuesday July 1, with an attendance of ten members and two visitors.

The program outlined in the Missionary Monthly was followed. "The Bible and Prayer" was the theme for the evening. Readings on the topic were given by Mrs. Lloyd Robbins, Mrs. D. J. Gillis, and Mrs. M.F. MacLeod. The hymns were "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing" and "Break Thou the Bread of Life."

The scripture reading taken from John's Gospel, Chapter 10: 1-15, was read responsively. The scripture lesson was followed by a prayer by Mrs. J.A. MacLean.

Correspondence consisted of two letters: a letter of acknowledgment from the Overseas Relief

Dept in Toronto for two cartons of used clothing and an afghan knit by the members; a letter of thanks from Mrs. M.D. MacDonaid for cards sent during her illness.

Eight dollars was voted to pay expenses of shipping parcels overseas. The offering amounted to $4.75.

A Bible quiz was conducted by Mrs. S.A. MacLeod. Mrs. Edward Hockett was appointed to prepare a quiz for the next meeting. A reading entitled "Echoes of World Day of Prayer in Africa" was given by Mrs. MacLean.

The Friendship Secretary reported that eighteen house calls and six hospital calls had been made and that ten cards and eight treats had been sent during the month.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Robbins. Lunch committee will be Mrs. M.F. MacLean, Mrs. Edson MacLeod, Mrs. H.O. Behm and Mrs. J.A. MacLean.
