

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 3, 1890.

Beautifying the City.

Now that the noisy Philharmonic Society has passed into its summer silence, and the school examinations, with their many indications of a rich intellectual development in the minds of the young generation around us, are over, the time seems opportune for citizens to take up the idea of the physical development of Charlottetown, which certainly does not receive that amount of attention which should be bestowed upon it in a city so beautifully situated as the one in which we live.

There seems to be no doubt but that this old capital of Prince Edward Island may be made, in a few years, one of the most picturesque little cities in Canada, if the inhabitants will but take the slight amount of trouble and care necessary to make it so.

We now possess one of the most beautiful parks in North America, of which the citizens of Charlottetown may well be proud.

The valuable work done in Queen Square shows what a sudden transformation a little grass and a few trees are capable of making in any portion of the city. A few years ago this section of the town was almost as dusty and desolate as the great salt desert of Utah.

The trees planted throughout the City during the last three or four years are already beginning to have a picturesque effect.

Many portions of the town, especially in the West End, where trees have been allowed to grow for thirty or forty years, are now beginning to have that appearance of old-fashioned quietness and ease which is always so delightful a feature of old cities.

A movement, which we thoroughly hope will be successful, is now on hand by some of the citizens of the western part of the city to carry out sundry improvements in the vicinity of Government Pond, which, if accomplished, will probably change that portion of the town into one of our most beautiful districts. The proposal is to make a direct and short connection from the main part of the city with Brighton Road and Victoria Park, by carrying Fitzroy and West streets across the upper part of Government Pond until they meet, and by continuing a short street from their intersection diagonally across the upper angle of the field adjoining the Pond until it enters the Brighton Road somewhere opposite the residence of Mrs. McKinnon.

The surface of the upper portion of the Pond above the road, it is proposed to gradually raise with earth until a grassy interval meadow is formed with a clear, open stream flowing down the centre. The lower portion of the Pond will be changed into the condition of a fresh water lake, whose surface will be always kept above the level of high tides, so that the dangerous conditions and the green shine of stagnant sea water will be always avoided.

The power of the stream of water from Spring Park is ample to keep up the necessary circulation in a small fresh water lake. If a few elm trees and willows are planted around the water edges and about the flat upper interval surface, the whole vicinity may be made very beautiful.

This proposed change will make a very direct entrance from the centre of the city to Brighton Road and the Park, either by the way of Fitzroy Street, which is eighty feet in width, leading directly East and West across the centre of the city from the new Exhibition grounds, passing Mr. Horne's brick building on Main Street, Mr. Alex. Brown's residence and St. James' Kirk, or by way of Kent Street on the South side of Rochford Square where a vigorous growth of Elm and Rock Maple trees planted four years ago will in three years form a continuous avenue from the dusty centre of the city past St. Peter's Church, or from the Esplanade by way of West Street, which is one of the most beautiful localities in the city.

The direct entrance to the town from the park by either of the above streets would be very beautiful. Two of the very best landscape effects in Charlottetown may be obtained by standing on the low margin of Government Pond and looking up Fitzroy Street towards St. James' Kirk and by looking along West Street from where it joins the Pond. The proposed improvements will be sure to raise the value of all residence property west of Queen Street, and we certainly hope that all property holders in the western portion of the city will see that it is in their own financial interests to substantially aid the progressive work and that all residents of that portion of the town will assist in the work of making the surroundings of their homes beautiful.

When the citizens have raised a certain sum towards making the proposal a certainty, they will probably ask the City Council to aid them in this necessary and useful work, and there is no doubt but that the Council will take advantage of the opportunity of changing the present filthy cesspool, known as Government Pond, into one of the most beautiful features of our naturally beautiful city. No public work could be more popular, or please a larger number of citizens, or have a more immediate effect, in beautifying a large portion of the city than the proposed idea, which after all will be no very costly affair. And so much grumbling and dissatisfaction has been expressed, year after year, by our citizens, from the medical health officer down to the schoolboy skater, in regard to Government Pond, we sincerely hope that the foregoing proposal may be carried out.

Convent de Notre Dame.

Among the many accounts which have appeared within the last fortnight of closing school exercises, not very much notice has been taken of the classes of the Convent of Notre Dame. This, however, is largely owing to the quiet and unostentatious manner in which the exercises are generally conducted. It is now, perhaps, too late to enter into a detailed account of the work performed in that venerable institution, but it is certainly due to the teachers and pupils to record the fact that the teaching is of a very high order, and embraces a wide range of subjects. The pupils in the advanced department, which is taught by Mother St. Agnes, showed remarkable proficiency in the English branches, Mathematics and Latin. The late Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Montgomery, was wont to speak in words of encomium of the thoroughness of the teaching in the Convent Schools, and all who witnessed the exercises of Mother St. Agnes' class could feel that such praise was well deserved.

Specimens of the needle-work of the pupils, from the first rude efforts to the finest fancy sewing, were also exhibited, and received high eulogiums from the visitors. Drawings and paintings were also to be seen among many other tasteful objects which the trained lady puts forth to beautify and adorn.

On the afternoon of Monday, June 23d, the music pupils performed a well-selected programme to the delight of a large number of visitors. Many of the performers were of tender years, but gave good promise of musical excellence. The performance of the more advanced pupils, both as to time and expression, was excellent. Miss Benoit's playing on the harp, and Miss McDonald's on the violin were deservedly praised. The exercises were honored with the presence of Mrs. Carvell, for whom a very pretty song of welcome was sung.

The Diocesan Synod.

(Halifax Herald.)

The Diocesan Synod of the Church of England resumed its session at St. Luke's, on Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock. The first business was the filling of vacancies on the different committees. The special committee on incidentals reported, sustaining the action of the committee in not reporting All Saints, Milton, Yarmouth entitled to representation. Rev. Rural Dean Moore submitted a report on the unification of the Church in Canada. The report was recommended for alteration. Rev. F. H. Almon submitted a report of the special committee on the W. and O. fund. The report was received and made the first item on the order paper for the afternoon meeting. Rev. Dr. Partridge submitted the report of the executive committee, after the reading of which the synod adjourned at half-past five, to meet again in the evening at eight o'clock.

At the evening session the executive report was taken up for consideration. The amendment to Canon C. passed last session for consideration was confirmed. The recommendation of the special committee on the proceedings of provincial representatives was confirmed. Judge Townsend's motion relative to arrangements for making up the Bishop's salary was deferred until the supplementary report of the executive committee is taken up. The report on the unification of the Church was again taken up. It was moved that the report be adopted, and further recommended that two delegates be appointed. Those appointed were Archdeacon Smith and Dr. H. Y. Hind. The supplementary report was next taken up and the following recommendations adopted:—

"The executive committee recommended that the payment of the interest on See house purchase money be paid out of the money at credit of the synod.

"It is suggested that any moneys invested by the Synod be called in and re-invested in the See house."

It was then resolved that the title of the See house be vested in the Synod. The following resolution was then adopted:—

"That the question of the income of the See be considered on Monday afternoon immediately after the disposal of Mr. Almon's motion on the W. & O. fund with the dean in the chair and with closed doors."

The first business Monday morning was the question of the clergy superannuation fund. The report of the committee was presented by the Rev. Dr. Bowman, and embodied a scheme for superannuation on a regular business basis of premiums for superannuation privileges, and the scale of pension to be commensurate with the number of years the clergyman shall have served in the diocese. The highest amount guaranteed after 30 years of service is $400, and when a clergyman has reached the age of 70 years he may by right go upon the fund.

Revs. Canons Partridge and Brock were nominated for the position of Governor of King's College. Canon Brock withdrew his name and Dr. Partridge was elected.

A motion to include the clergy of P. E. Island in the superannuation fund was given notice of.

The afternoon's session of the Synod was taken up with a discussion of the bishop's salary.

I. O. G. T.

The Annual Summer Meeting of the Grand Lodge of I. O. G. T. was held at Vernon River, Bridge on the 1st and 2nd inst. The attendance was large, and showed in a very marked degree the advance which this Order has made since the last session, mainly owing to the visit of Mrs. Keefe to this Province, and the interest she created in the cause of temperance.

Notwithstanding the disappointment of many, on account of the carelessness and stupidity of those who commanded the movements of the steamer "Heather Belle" all seemed to enjoy the trip, and the kindness which we received on our arrival there was a happy change from the neglect shown to us at the start. The next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be in January, but the exact date or place of meeting has not yet been fixed upon.

Personal.

Mr. John T. Crockett, of the firm of J. H. Myrick & Co., left on a trip to Halifax and Boston this morning.

Miss McGarry, the talented elocutionist, arrived on Monday evening, and is now a guest at the Hotel Davies. She was accompanied by J. H. Logan, Esq.

Hon. Joseph O. Arsenault, Wellington, was at the Osborne last evening, on return from Ottawa. He left for home this morning.

The Right Hon. Henry Howard Molyneux Herbert, the third Earl of Carnarvon, died on Saturday last in London, after a long and severe illness. Lord Carnarvon was born in 1831. His name came prominently before the people of Canada as the author of the "Carnarvon terms" between Canada and British Columbia, when the Pacific province threatened to secede from the union.

General Middleton terminated his career as commandant of the Canadian militia last Monday. He says he will devote himself hereafter to writing on militia topics. His imperial pension will be seven hundred pounds. Last session several members spoke in favor of appointing a Canadian to this position, but the government holds that so long as the Dominion is part of the empire and Canada has to rely on England for defence purposes, it is better to have the judgment and experience of an imperial officer.

LAWN TENNIS.—The tennis grounds at Victoria Park were well patronized on the afternoon of Dominion Day. Notwithstanding a hard winter on grass, the courts are now looking well. They are beautifully located, and no prettier sight can be seen than these grounds present on a bright afternoon, filled with young and active players. Tuesday's game was principally confined to mixed doubles, and from what we saw of the play, the Charlottetown Club will be able to send some good players to the Inter-provincial Tournament, to be held at Truro in August next.
