Love Lightens Labor.

A good wife rose from her bed one morn,
And thought, with a nervous dread,
Of the pile of clothes to be washed, and more
Than a dozen mouths to be fed.
There's the meals to get for the men in the field,
And the children to fix away
To school, and the milk to be skimmed and churned;
And all to be done this day.

It had rained in the night, and all the wood
Was wet as it could be;
There were puddings and pies to bake, besides
A loaf of cake for tea;
And the day was hot, and her aching head
Throbbed wearily as she said:
"If maidens but knew what good wives know
They'd be in no haste to wed."

"Jennie, what do you think I told Ben Brown?"
Called the father from the well;
And a flush crept up to his bronzed brow,
And his eyes half bashfully fell;
"It was this," said he—and coming near
He kissed from her brow the frown;—
"'Twas this," said he, "that you were the best,
And the dearest wife in town.

The farmer went back to the field, and the wife,
In a smiling and absent way,
Sang snatches of tender little songs
She'd not sung for many a day.
And the pain in her head was gone, and the clothes
Were white as the foam of the sea;
Her bread was light, and her butter was sweet,
And as golden as it could be.

"Just think," the children in a breath,
"Tom Wood has run off to sea!
He wouldn't, I know, if he only had
As happy a home as we."
The night came down, and the good wife smiled
To herself as she softly said:
"'Tis sweet to labor for those we love;
It's not strange that maids will wed."

The Crofters of Manitoba.

Mr. John Dyke, Government emigration agent at Liverpool, England, and Mr. R. McDonald, of Aberdeen, chief factor for Lady Cathcart, left for Manitoba a few days ago to visit the crofter settlements at Saltcoats and Killarney. The Empire reports that while at Ottawa Mr. Macdonald interviewed the Minister of the Interior, with a view of ascertaining how the crofters stand in their relation with the Government. It will be remembered that when Rev. A. E. Burke visited the crofters at Saltcoats about a month ago he found them complaining of the difficulty they experienced in repaying the advances made to them by Lady Cathcart and the Northwest Land Company, with the accumulation of interest and compound interest thereon; and they forwarded through Father Burke a petition to the Dominion Government, asking [illegible] proved farms to the [illegible] surrender their im[illegible] and also that the [illegible] company with lands elsewhere for those which are owned by the Land Company about Saltcoats, so that the crofters might be able to take up some second homesteads without abandoning their present settlement, where they have built churches and schools. An authority gives it that the proposals stated in the petition could not be carried out without legislation by Parliament, and Mr Macdonald says the Government is not likely to entertain the request of the crofters. Speaking of the course pursued by Lady Cathcart towards her former tenants, Mr. Macdonald stated to the Empire's correspondent that he considered the crofters had been liberally treated. "When they were leaving Scotland," he said, "Lady Cathcart not only advanced them money, but allowed them to sell off such moveables as they could dispose of, and paid for other articles at a high valuation, fixed by an arbitrator who sympathized with the crofters. The advance ranged from $500 to $2,500 per family, according to the number of persons included. The interest of the crofters in their holdings was of no value. They were mere tenants at will. They came out in 1883 and 1884 from the western Scottish islands. None have been sent since." Mr. Macdonald denies that the crofters were given to understand that the money advanced to them was not to be repaid.

Several banks at Martinique have suspended. Exchange is quoted at 10 premium, and little is obtainable at that figure.

Sir Charles Tupper has cabled an emphatic contradiction of the report that emigrants prevented from going to the United States are being diverted to Canada.

A Chinese opium joint in Montreal was raided Tuesday afternoon and $350 worth of the drug was confiscated. Nine Chinamen were arrested.

Almost every day for the past three months Guadalajara, Mexico, has been shaken by earthquakes. The walls of the most substantial buildings are badly cracked. The eruptions of Mount Colima are believed to have something to do with the tremblings.

A most romantic yarn is telegraphed to a New York newspaper from Mexico. It is related that a religeuse in a convent in the City of Mexico several weeks ago discovered an old document stating that $3,000,000 in gold was buried "at the time of the war with the French" by the Lady Superior of the convent, and telling where to dig for the treasure. The priests accordingly were hard at work digging it up, when President Diaz heard about it, and, as the bank president in Mark Twain's story told little Stepen Girard that the pins which he was picking up belonged to the bank and he must not steal them, so that conscientious executive set his own men at work, turned up the $3,000,000 and salted it away in the national treasury.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Grievance.

SIR,—My attention has been drawn to an article on Primary Education which appeared in a recent issue of the Weekly Guardian. With the sentiment of the writer I am heartily in accord, and hope in the near future to see at least one well-equipped kindergarten department in operation in this city.

There is one paragrrph, however, in the article in question which puzzles me not a little:—"The matter is receiving the attention of the School Board in Summerside, and there is a probability of the Board themselves taking the matter in hand and making provision for kindergarten teaching in the schools under their control." Now it certainly seems strange and inexplicable, in view of their deep and absorbing interest in kindergarten schools, that this Board should have summarily dismissed from their service the only teacher on the Island who has made a special study of nature's methods in the training of young children, and who, with the insignificant means at her command, put into successful operation a training system founded on true kindergarten principles. I refer to the recent dismissal from the teaching staff of the Summerside School, of Miss J McPhail, a lady of culture and refinement, and a teacher of rare ability, who by her literary talents and enthusiastic devotion to the work of her life, has won for herself a place of honor among our foremost educators. Miss McPhail was something more to her pupils than a mere instructor, always exercising a watchful care over them, and treating them with sympathetic tenderness and motherly affection. No wonder, therefore, that a petition signed by a very large number of the parents and ratepayers of the district to whom she had become quietly endeared during her fourteen years' residence among them, was laid before the Board, asking for justice in her behalf. But the strange thing about it all is that the petition was ignored, and that the lady was condemned unheard, apparently because she ventured to protest against a kind of grading which she considered unfair to herself and injurious to her work. The question naturally arises, Had Miss McPhail a real grievance? If so, then it seems hard, was manifestly cruel, and unchristian to punish her simply because she sought to have it removed. It is certainly due the public, and particularly those interested in the maintenance and welfare of our public schools, to receive fuller information respecting this matter in order that possible defects in our grading system may be discovered and remedied.

The P. E. Literary Notes.

George William Curtis had been associated with Harper's Weekly almost since its beginning in 1857, and had written the "Editor's Easy Chair" in Harper's Magazine since 1853. The next number of the Weekly, published September 7th, will in a certain sense be a memorial number, and will contain appropriate sketches of his life, character and services with a portrait and other illustrations.

A unique and valuable work by Walter Besant, entitled London, is soon to be published by Harper & Brothers. It is not a history of the city as a body-politic, but the story of the life of the people at different periods from the earliest historical records to the times of the Georges. The book will be very fully illustrated.

The New York Times' cable letter, commenting on the absence of cholera scares in Europe, says, however, that "some communities behaved foolishly under the guidance of some bellowing idiot of a newspaper, which was willing to work harm to any conceivable extent if only to fulfil its chosen function of making its readers' flesh creep," upon which the Montreal Gazette remarks that there is some comfort in this statement to people on this continent. The b. i. newspaper is not a purely American institution.

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD.

Rheumatism of the Joints AND INHERITED HUMOR of the BLOOD

Banished by Skoda's,

AFTER PHYSICIANS HAD PRONOUNCED THEM INCURABLE!

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD LIVES AT WEST WINTERPORT, ME. A FARMER BY OCCUPATION, HE ENJOYS THE RESPECT OF ALL WHO KNOW HIM. IN CONVERSATION WITH A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE SKODA DISCOVERY CO., NOT LONG SINCE HE RELATED THE FOLLOWING STORY:

"Ever since I was born, I have been troubled at times, more or less, with a HUMOR on my hands, face and neck. For fifteen years it has been on the increase, I have been gradually failing in health, and for three years past it has itched and burned so badly, that all the way I could get any rest at night, was to bathe in strong carbolic acid, and this only relieved me for a few hours. In addition to this, eight months ago, Rheumatism in my neck and shoulders set in, drawing my shoulders so out of place, that for three weeks I did not have my clothes off. Physicians said I could never get well. I was unable to do any work, and was a great sufferer. I doctored with several Physicians, including Specialists in Boston, and took nearly all the advertised sarsaparillas and blood purifiers, but received no benefit whatever. I had given up all hopes, and my friends thought I could live but a few months. I began the use of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and TABLETS, according to directions, and also used SKODA'S OINTMENT externally. After using them but one week, there was a visible change in appearance. My skin that was literally covered with pimples and blotches began to clear up. My appetite became good, less pain in my shoulders, and I gained rapidly. I have now used less than two courses of these REMEDIES, and my Rheumatism has entirely disappeared. SHOULDERS THAT WERE DRAWN OUT OF PLACE AND WHICH THE DOCTORS SAID COULD NEVER BE GOT BACK AGAIN ARE AS GOOD AS NEW AND IN PERFECT POSITION. My skin is free from blotches and pimples. I have gained [illegible] pounds in [illegible] in all my life, and [illegible] woods at surprise all the time. My friends [illegible] and [illegible]ished at the results, and not more than myself. They consider it almost miraculous."
