

China Threatens Move After Hanoi Is Bombed

All Restraint Said Lifted

TOKYO (AP)—China says the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam has freed us from any bounds or restrictions in rendering support and aid to North Viet Nam.

A statement of the Chinese Communist government, broadcast Sunday by the New China news agency, says China holds the U.S. responsible for all the serious consequences arising therefrom.

"China has consistently and unreservedly done its utmost to support and aid Viet Nam politically, morally and materially and in other fields.

"The development by U.S. imperialism of its war of aggression to a new and still graver stage now has further freed us from any bounds or restrictions in rendering our support and aid. In accordance with the interests and demands of the Vietnamese people, we will at any time take such actions as we deem necessary."

"Whoever is peddling in whatever way 'peace talks' on the Viet Nam question, or even striking a behind-the-scenes bargain with the United States and acting in co-ordination with the United States to realize its scheme of forcing peace talks through bombing whoever is doing these things is selling out the Vietnamese people's struggle against U.S. aggression and for national salvation."

"Whoever is peddling in whatever way 'peace talks' on the Viet Nam question, or even striking a behind-the-scenes bargain with the United States and acting in co-ordination with the United States to realize its scheme of forcing peace talks through bombing whoever is doing these things is selling out the Vietnamese people's struggle against U.S. aggression and for national salvation."

"CHINA IS PREPARED"

The statement, the New China news agency said, "reiterates the many previous solemn statements by the Chinese government and Premier Chou En-lai that the Chinese people mean what they say, that China is prepared and that once the war breaks out, it will have no boundaries."

"We must tell the U.S. imperialists in all serious cases: wherever you extend the war and however heavy the price we will unswervingly support in fighting through to the end, till they thoroughly and completely drive the U.S. aggressors out of Viet Nam and win final victory."

The statement says Peking expresses "its boundless indignation and strongest condemnation of U.S. imperialism's repeated brazen bombings of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam, and the city of Haiphong, its second-largest city."

"U.S. military spokesmen say American bombs hit fuel depots as close as two miles from Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port, and 3 1/2 miles from Hanoi, ground."

Foot Says Responsibility That Of Hanoi And Peking

LONDON (AP)—One of Prime Minister Wilson's top advisers Saturday told Britons assailing U.S. action in Viet Nam that "the responsibility for the initiation and continuance of the war rest with Hanoi and Peking."

Sir Dingle Foot, solicitor-general in the Labour government, directed his remarks at a bloc in Parliament led by his brother, Labour MP Michael Foot, opposing British support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Wilson found himself on the spot of trying to head off a vote in the House of Commons condemning U.S. policy before his talks with President Johnson in Washington later this month.

While the prime minister has dissociated Britain from the bombings on the outskirts of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi and port of Haiphong, he has given support to general U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Sir Dingle, speaking at a political rally in Ipswich, gave this reminder to those who want to condemn the Americans:

"The recent extension of bombing to North Viet Nam was a considerable error of judgment. We have said so. But there is an old Chinese proverb: 'Do not remove a fly from your friend's forehead with a hatchet.'"

SHOWING LEG COSTS MONEY

LONDON (AP)—The three judges in the Court of Appeal asked pretty Elizabeth Gough, 17, to parade before them so they could see the way her hips swung.

And then the presiding judge, Lord Denning, asked her: "Could I just see your right leg?"

Elizabeth obliged and apparently too impressively for her own good.

The judges cut to $4,200 from $7,000 the damages she had been awarded in a lower court for a highway accident.

Elizabeth was knocked down by a car in 1962. Her right leg was broken and is now 1 1/2 inches shorter.

Lord Denning said the judge who made the award in the lower court was much too pessimistic about the girl's future.

Elizabeth said later of her exhibition in court: "It was not too embarrassing. The judges were quite nice."

Damaged Tanker Is Tough

NEW YORK (AP)—It took a U.S. coast guard cutter three hours and 57 five-inch explosive shells Sunday to sink the fire-scathed British tanker Alva Cape in the Atlantic 125 miles off New York.

The tanker had once seemed eager to destroy herself. But officials at the scene described the sinking as "painfully slow."

The Alva Cape had been ordered sunk after a collision and two fires, which claimed 37 lives, had left her a charred hulk still loaded with 150,000 gallons of naphtha.

The ship was towed gingerly from New York harbor Saturday, two weeks after the first of the two fires.

Thirty-three seamen died June 16 in the blazing aftermath of a collision in New York harbor that split the tanker's bow open and turned the water into a sea of burning naphtha.

She was ordered out of New York harbor after a second fire Tuesday, which took the lives of four men who were trying to remove the remainder of her cargo.

Resignation Signals Labor Party Struggle

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Frank Cousins, technology minister and former trade union boss, quit Prime Minister Wilson's cabinet Sunday, protesting a measure to stabilize Britain's price-and-income structure and outlaw certain kinds of strikes.

Cousins thus appeared available as a leader of the ruling Labor party's left wing, already in open revolt against Wilson's leadership and his support for U.S. Viet Nam policies.

The action by Cousins, 61, signalled the likelihood of a major tussle within the party on policy issues.

An announcement by Wilson's office said Cousins' job will be taken by Postmaster General Anthony Wedgwood Benn, Government whip Edward Short, 54, took over Benn's post.

The Labor government's prices-and-incomes bill, due to be published today, is the keystone of Wilson's general program to halt inflation by keeping rises in prices, wages and dividends in line with the rise of national output. At the moment this is set at 3 1/2 per cent annually. Wilson maintains that if the British people fail to exercise this over-all restraint it will overburden the economy and threaten the value of the pound.

RADIATION CLEARS RAPIDLY

First French Bomb Test Reported Feeble Effort

From Reuters-AP

PAPEETE, Tahiti (CP)—France began its controversial South Pacific nuclear tests Saturday with an atomic blast weak enough to allow its officials to stroll in the explosion area 10 hours later wearing street clothes.

French spokesmen refused to disclose the bomb's strength, but it was understood to have been relatively feeble, and intended primarily to test security measures and other procedure.

Jacques Tauraa, president of French Polynesia's territorial assembly, said he is satisfied there was no danger to human life.

Tauraa said he and Jacques Foccart, President de Gaulle's personal representative, landed on the test atoll barely 10 hours after the blast.

"We walked about in our ordinary clothes," Tauraa said. "The radioactivity is all dispersed."

Americans Watch Blast

French sources said two American warships, an American plane and probably an American submarine were collecting information on the blast, the first in a test program to continue until about November.

The device was planted on a barge anchored about 300 feet from the shore of a lagoon on Mururoa Atoll. The explosion was heard and a flash of light seen in the Gambria Islands 270 miles from the site.

The American warships cruising on the perimeter of the danger area were identified as the Belmont and Richfield. French sources said a submarine was spotted from the French aircraft carrier Foch and was presumed to be American although she submerged after being sighted. An American plane identified as a KC-135, a four-jet tanker plane, also was seen by French officials.

The officials said there were

Voting Quiet In Bolivia

LA PAZ (AP)—A former armed forces commander, Rene Barrientos, rolled up a massive lead Sunday and claimed victory in the Bolivian presidential election.

Barrientos, who resigned as co-chairman of the junta and later as commander of the armed forces to make the race for the presidency, led his four opponents by more than a 2-to-1 margin in early returns from the cities.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Eleven Canadians shared $150,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes jackpot Saturday with tickets on the top three finishers in the Irish Derby at Dublin's Curragh track. Another 160 Canadians drew prizes of about $1,000 each in the international lottery held three times yearly to aid hospitals in the Irish Republic.

The big prizes of $150,000 each for tickets on the winning horse, Sodium, went to two Vancouver residents and one each from Bradford and Burlington, Ont. Prizes of $60,000 each on the second-place horse, Charlottetown, went to men in Newcastle, N.B., and Arvida, Que.

Five Canadians—from Vancouver, Terrebonne, Que., Winnipeg, and two from Toronto—collected $30,000 each on Patsy, the third Derby finisher.

The total money winnings by Canadians in this second sweepstakes of the year came close to $1,978,000. Since sale of Irish sweepstakes tickets is illegal in Canada, no estimate of the amount contributed by Canadians to the lottery was available.

NEWCASTLE, N.B. (CP)—A 57-year-old laborer intends to set up a small lumber business with the $60,000 he won Saturday in the Irish sweepstakes.
