The school has entered in both the quiz and the spelling contest. The interest in this popular weekly programme is rapidly growing and today it commands an extensive listening audience. The first programme of this year's series will go on the air on Friday night, October 12th—S.

ANNUAL MEETING WEST PRINCE P-C ASS'N. The annual meeting of the West Prince Progressive Conservative Association was held in the O'Leary Legion Hall last evening with a very large attendance. The president, Earl Ellis, presided. The minutes were read by Lloyd Matthews and adopted as read. The president gave a very fine report. He referred to the passing of three men active in the affairs of the party, George Matthews, Heath Strong and Fred Tanton. He stated that the by-elections throughout Canada show that the tide is turning against the Liberals. He also referred to the election of J. W. Don Campbell and Hubert Gaudet and said that the work of the West Prince Progressive Conservative Party would be to gain new workers among the men and women. The resolutions committee was as follows: Joseph Morrissey, Dr. L. G. Dewar, Sanford Phillips and Alfred Ross.

SOCIAL EVENING. A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Croken on Thursday, Sept. 27th, when their friends and neighbors gathered to offer congratulatory messages and to extend a warm welcome to the bride. A nicely worded address was read by Lloyd McCourt and George Croken presented the happy couple with a well-filled purse. They also received many individual gifts. Mr. Croken thanked the guests for their good wishes and nice for their good wishes and nice for their home. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", lunch was served by the ladies and the evening spent in music and dancing.

Canada Fears

Government policy on reciprocal trade agreements. Mr. Sinclair said there was a great deal of "anxiety" at the Geneva meeting, particularly by European countries, which fear the restrictions will injure their export trade and their chances to earn dollars. Canada is particularly concerned with the principle involved. Officials fear that what may appear with restrictions, for example, against Canadian cheese, may spread to other commodities. It could establish a precedent for other U.S. import barriers and nullify tariff benefits Canada obtained from the U.S. in the last round of tariff negotiations at Torquay, England, earlier this year.

NEWMAN CLUB. The annual meeting of the Newman Club was held in Summerside, Monday evening, Sept. 24th, at the home of Mrs. A. J. MacLeod, president. The election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, Kenneth Perry; vice president, Betty Tobin; secretary, Dick Noonan; treasurer, Barbara Dalton; councilors, Jack Noonan, Betty Peters. It was decided to hold a social evening in St. Paul's Hall the next Tuesday. Plans for the year's activities were discussed and with the excellent state of young officers in charge much should be accomplished.

Health Notes

Topping the list of deadly diseases in Canada are heart disease and cancer, in first and second place respectively. Early consultation with the doctor may often prevent these diseases from progressing. In many cases, early treatment effects a cure.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER. A large pre-nuptial shower was held on Friday evening, September 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Muttart, Searlewyn, when friends and relatives of the surrounding communities gathered to tender a shower to Miss Ruth Wright, in honor of her approaching marriage. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Maud Newsome, Mrs. Malcolm Bradshaw and Mrs. John Myers. The house was tastefully decorated with dahlias, sweet peas and gladioli. The fireplace banked with a profusion of flowers, with pink and white streamers and a large wedding bell suspended from the ceiling, made a lovely background for the "bride-to-be", who was escorted to a seat of honor by her friend Miss Mae Bradshaw, as Mrs. Muttart played the Bridal March. A daintily-trimmed express wagon, heaped with interesting parcels (and re-filled several times), was drawn in by charming little Miss Norma Bradshaw and Master Carl Wright, as little "bride and groom". The Misses Winifred Wright and Joan Craig, opened the lovely gifts, while Mrs. Taylor read the accompanying verses. Mrs. Arnold Henderson arranged the gifts which consisted of linen, crystal, china, money, etc., and also a beautiful wool blanket, a gift from the Bedeque Sunday School, of which the "bride-to-be" was a former teacher. Miss Wright graciously thanked all for their gifts and good wishes and invited them to visit her in Crapeau, where she will reside in the future. All joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow". Piano music for the evening was supplied by Mrs. Heber Myers and Mrs. Walter Craig. Assisting in serving lunch were Mrs. Fred Platts, Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Nell Bradshaw, Mrs. Allison Harper and Mrs. Morley Muttart.—BQ.

Household pets may carry germs of contagious disease if they are permitted to come in contact with patients suffering from such illness. Dogs are particularly susceptible to scarlet fever and may carry the germs to other members of the family.

Whether the adult suffers from corns, bunions, hammer toes or other foot ills depends very largely upon the fitting of his shoes as a child. Footwear that is correctly fitted helps healthy young feet to give a lifetime of good service.

Keeping the skin healthy clean helps to prevent harmful bacteria or parasites from breeding on what is the body's largest organ.

Unveiling Of Schurman And J.C. Pope Monuments To Take Place On Oct. 7

Two monuments one to Jacob Gould Schurman, educationist, author and ambassador, and one to James Colledge Pope, merchant, shipbuilder and statesman, both distinguished natives of Prince Edward Island have been erected on recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, Department of Resources and Development. They will be unveiled Sunday, October 7, 1951.

The cut-stone monument with bronze tablet of Jacob Gould Schurman was erected at Preetown, Prince Edward Island in honor of this distinguished Canadian who was born here in 1854. From his start as a professor at Acadia and Dalhousie universities, he rose to become president of Cornell University. He was also President of the first United States Phillippine Commission and joint author of its report to Congress in 1900. Later he held the posts of United States Minister to Greece, Montenegro and China. He became ambassador to Germany in 1925.

An iron standard with bronze tablet was erected at Lower Bedeque, Prince Edward Island, the birthplace of James Colledge Pope, merchant, shipbuilder and three times Premier of Prince Edward Island during the years 1868 and 1873. He was later elected to the House of Commons and became Minister of Marine and Fisheries under Sir John A. Macdonald during the years 1878 to 1882.

The unveiling ceremony of the monument of Jacob Gould Schurman will take place at 2 p. m., and the ceremony at the James Colledge Pope monument, will be held at 3:30 p. m. The Honourable Thane A. Campbell, Prince Edward Island representative on the Board will represent the Department and the Board at these ceremonies.

Annual Meeting West Prince P-C Ass'n

The annual meeting of the West Prince Progressive Conservative Association was held in the O'Leary Legion Hall last evening with a very large attendance. The president, Earl Ellis, presided. The minutes were read by Lloyd Matthews and adopted as read.

The president gave a very fine report. He referred to the passing of three men active in the affairs of the party, George Matthews, Heath Strong and Fred Tanton. He stated that the by-elections throughout Canada show that the tide is turning against the Liberals. He also referred to the election of J. W. Don Campbell and Hubert Gaudet and said that the work of the West Prince Progressive Conservative Party would be to gain new workers among the men and women.

The resolutions committee was as follows: Joseph Morrissey, Dr. L. G. Dewar, Sanford Phillips and Alfred Ross.

The credentials committee was as follows: Sydney Inman, Roy Arbing and Gerald Matthews.

Resolutions. The resolutions committee reported to Mr. Morrissey, the following resolutions: First they endorsed the resolution of the East Prince P. C. convention regarding the King's health.

Second, they expressed confidence in George Drew.

Third, they expressed confidence in R. R. Bell.

Fourth, they expressed confidence in John Price and said that he was the prospective candidate in the next election should he consider it.

Fifth, they expressed condolence to the bereaved families and friends of the three members mentioned previously.

Sixth, they went on record as asking the powers that be to see that the West Point ferry materializes. Mr. Sanford Phillips of O'Leary spoke on this resolution and he stated that this was not a dead issue and they were still working to obtain this ferry service.

Seventh, they urged the government to continue the pavement through to Tignish.

The first speaker was Mr. J. W. Don Campbell, who thanked the electors for their support and said it was thirty years since two Conservatives had been elected in the First District of Prince.

He then introduced the remaining speakers, R. R. Bell, provincial leader, Brigadier Price, Hubert Gaudet, Peter MacCaull, C. F. Morrissey, Pat Morris, president of the East Prince Progressive Conservative Association and Gerald Foster, president of the Young Progressive Conservatives, Charlottetown.

The credentials committee reported 19 polls represented and 69 delegates with credentials in order.

The following were appointed to the executive, two from the First District, two from the Second District, one from the Third District and a lady delegate besides.

1. Gus Peters and John Morrissey; 2. Robert Grindsday and Earl Ellis; 3. John Arsenault. The lady delegate on the executive is Mrs. Austin McDonald.

The Young Progressive Conservative member on the executive is Dr. L. G. Dewar.

Mr. R. R. Bell. Mr. R. R. Bell stated in his address that the interest shown in the convention augurs well for the future. He said that although they had elected only six members out of thirty the Progressive Conservatives had 47 per cent of the total vote and the Liberals only 51 per cent.

He emphasized that the Progressive Conservatives must build for the future. They would endeavor to organize the whole Province, all districts to have associations of their own. He said that Prince County was little being done by the government to fulfill election promises.

Brigadier Price spoke about inflation, the 65 million dollar gift to Western farmers and the railway strike. He stated that he would consider running in the next election and was loudly applauded by the meeting.

The Young Conservative president, Gerald Foster of Charlottetown, was the next speaker and told about their problems and said that John Diefenbaker would be the special speaker at a meeting in Charlottetown on November 7th.

Mr. Pat Morris, president of the East Prince P. C. Association spoke briefly and there were several other short addresses by local members.

She outlined the work of the various committees of the council including: the committee of nursing education, committee of nursing service, the committee on economic welfare of nurses and the committee on exchange of nurses. She discussed the relationship of the International Council of Nurses with the International Hospital Association and, in reference to this, she complained that nurses who work in hospitals have little or no say in the construction of hospitals. She said she has seen many new hospitals and all have some things wrong that would not have happened if nurses had been consulted.

The possible exception, she said, was Sisters' hospitals because they are nurses and know the needs. She thought that nurses should be represented on all planning committees. Miss Hall told of an experiment now being carried out at Windsor, Ont. in an endeavor to cut down the training time of nurses from three years. This experiment is based on two principles: Financial independence and control of students' time.

She discussed the World Health Organization of the U.N. and said that even though there is a shortage of nurses in Canada "we should be ready to send nurses from Canada to countries where they are needed."

The shortage of nurses continues, she pointed out, even though in 1950 there were more nurses in training than ever before and she advised that more effective use be made of existing personnel and she made some suggestions in this regard.

President's Report. In her presidential report, Sister Mary Stanislaus told of the setting up of a nurses' registry and the appointment of Miss Muriel Archibald as secretary-registrar. She said that the first duty of the secretary-registrar was to administer the Nurse Licensing Act which was designed to advance nursing education and service and to maintain the standards of the Canadian Nurses' Association. She said that the act called for matriculation standing for candidates seeking admission to schools of nursing and that while no appreciable increase in the number of applicants is apparent, there has been no falling off.

She said: "Among the graduates of the future, there should be a number of public health nurses. Heretofore many excellent nurses have been debarred from this field of nursing because of low academic standards. It will be our advantage to provide this type of nurse whose aid is invaluable in an expanding health program. If we receive financial aid from government sources, it seems only natural that a return in nursing assistance will be expected." With regard to service to the community, Sister Mary Stanislaus said some of our nurses seem to have forgotten that in choosing nursing as a profession, they dedicated their lives to the care of the ill of all types of sufferers. It is extremely difficult in this Province to procure adequate nursing service for those afflicted with tuberculosis, and other communicable diseases. If those who have the basic knowledge necessary to render this service hesitate about doing so, it seems to me that they are not doing their duty. It is hoped that in the near future, affiliation between the schools of nursing and the Provincial Sanatorium will bring about a better understanding of and love for this field of nursing."

In the report of the secretary-registrar, Miss Archibald discussed

Former Islander Awarded $80,000 In Law Suit

An item in the Boston Record of September 27th tells that a former Islander has won a verdict of $80,000 in a law suit.

It reads: "In the biggest award ever made by a jury in the Suffolk Superior Court, Lorenzo Cosgrove, 60, Clifton Road, Milton, Mass., won $80,000 from the Boston and Maine Railway for loss of part of his right leg in an accident."

Mr. Cosgrove is formerly from Wellington and is a brother of Mrs. Mark Delancy, Summerside, and of Mr. Parnell Cosgrove, Sherbrooke. The accident happened about a year ago and he has been hospitalized most of the time since—S.

Air Navigators To Graduate At Summerside

Another course of navigators will graduate from No. 1 Air Navigation School at R.C.A.F. station, Summerside on Friday afternoon. The usual ceremony will be held in connection with the presentation of wings which will be made by Air Commodore, A. D. Ross, G.C., C.B.E., who commands Maritime Group at Halifax.

Air Commodore Ross is 42 years of age and during the war won the George Cross for outstanding heroism. He was station and base commander in No. 6 R.C.A.F. Bomber Group in England. An aircraft returning from a night bomber operation crashed into another plane that was fully loaded with bombs. The crashed aircraft was burning furiously when Air Commodore Ross and two airmen pulled the pilot and air gunner from the flaming wreckage. While making the rescue the bombs in the other aircraft exploded, injuring his hand and forearm.

This will be the last wings parade for the commanding officer of Summerside station, Wing Commander, D. A. Willis, D.F.C., who will be leaving next week to take a course in England.

ed auxiliary nursing. She stated that it is the intention of the Health Planning Commission of this Province to put through legislation for the nursing assistant at the next meeting of the Legislative Assembly in the spring. A tentative draft of legislation has been prepared by an inter-provincial planning committee. Her report told of the division of the association into two chapters, one in Summerside and the other at Charlottetown which is considered a step forward in that it will encourage more professional activity locally.

The following committee reports were given. Educational policy, Sister Mary Irene; private nursing, Mrs. Mary Storey; public health nursing, Miss Ruth Ross; institutional nursing, Sister John the Baptist; board of examiners, Mrs. Lois R. MacDonald; Canadian Nurse Journal, Miss Frances MacMillan; refresher course, Miss Helen Schurman; civil defence, Miss Archibald.

It was decided to send a letter and token of the appreciation of the association to Miss Anna Mahr, superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Hospital, for her many years of service to the organization.

Guest Speaker. Guest speaker at the dinner was Dr. John Downing who spoke on the present status of A.C.T.H. and cortisone in therapy. After explaining the origin of these drugs, how they may be used and their good and bad effects, he said that public interest in medicine is of late years, a feverish pitch and unfortunately much is reported that is misleading. He said "Fully 75 per cent of the new advances in medicine reported in the press are premature in that they have not been adequately studied and often later are found useless, though they appeared initially promising. Thus it is wise to accept all of these so called advances in medicine with reserve, and wait to see if they stand the test of time and controlled laboratory experiment."

During the dinner the nurses were entertained by vocal selections by a group of student nurses from the Prince County Hospital under the direction of, and accompanied by, Mrs. Creelman MacArthur. Mrs. MacArthur and Mrs. Harold Schurman also rendered two piano duets. Sister Mary Stanislaus extended the thanks of the association to Mrs. R. T. Dods, president of the Baptist Ladies' Guild for a splendid dinner. She also thanked Rev. W. A. Harper, the minister, for the use of the church. When the toast to the King was proposed, Sister Mary Stanislaus asked that all say "God Save The King" as a prayer for his return to health.—S.

East Prince Liberal Ass'n Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the East Prince Liberal Association held last night in Summerside, Mr. W. A. Currie was unanimously elected president of the Association for the Fifth District. It was a very largely attended meeting with many of the provincial and federal representatives present. The vice president for the third district, W. G. Phillips, the vice president for the fourth district, John A. Smith and the vice president for the fifth district, Donald Baker, were all re-elected for the coming year. The present members of the executive of each district were also reappointed.

In accepting the office of president, Mr. Currie paid high tribute to his predecessor, Mr. Frank McNutt, and asked for a continuance of the same loyal support given to him while in office. Mr. Currie said that it would be the aim of the executive to raise the Liberal banner at least a notch higher and he felt that with the assistance of his colleagues this most certainly would be done.

The committee on resolutions presented resolutions of confidence in the Federal representative Mr. J. Watson MacNaught and commending him for the many benefits he had obtained for his constituency; of confidence in the leadership of the Prime Minister Louis Saint Laurent and in that of the provincial leader Hon. J. Walter Jones; and one expressing deep regret at the illness of our Sovereign, King George VI and praying for the complete recovery of his health.

Impressive Address. The convention heard a most impressive address by Mr. James McCordie, the honorary president of the association who traced the history of the Liberal Party and its achievements during the past sixty years from the days of Sir Wilfrid Laurier down to the present day under the leadership of the Pt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent. Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Fisheries spoke of his deep appreciation of the many fine things which had been said about his efforts on behalf of his constituents.

Mr. MacNaught said that he had closely followed the criticisms of the Opposition Party and he noted that, first, they had consistently criticized the government for its failure to impose controls and said that they themselves were the ones who had most vigorously advocated the removal of these controls after the war. "If we have overall control" he said, "then you must control everything and I do not think that this type of control is necessary, nor is it desirable."

Noting that the leader of the Provincial Opposition had complained of hard times in Prince Edward Island, Mr. MacNaught said that he had made a survey of the number of cars registered in the province as at August 31, 1950 and at the same date in 1951. He had found that there were 600 more automobiles this year and said that there could not be a situation such as this if there were not prosperity.

In his defense of the government's preparedness programme he concluded by saying that the democratic nations are a combination of nations strong enough to meet the threat of any combination of aggressor nations in the world.

Other speakers were Hon. A. W. Matheson, Minister of Health and Welfare, Mr. E. P. Foley, Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. George Mackay, Hon. Wilfred Arsenault, Hon. W. E. Darby, Attorney General and Senator George Barbour.—S.

Ducks Numerous In Alberton Area, Reports Indicate

First reports received on the opening day of the hunting season in the Alberton area indicate that ducks are far more numerous than for many years, many hunters obtaining the bag limit of seven ducks early in the day and not many returning empty handed. A calm sunny morning cut down the number of ducks brought down as not many were in the air after the first two hours although some were bagged in the evening. Very large numbers of black ducks were reported in the rivers and ponds and those fortunate to be well rigged out with decoys and duck blinds had no trouble obtaining the limit in the first couple of hours.

Judging by the heavy volley of fire at daybreak at the "Sandhills" Rayner's Marsh and both sides of the Gully a large number of hunters must have been abroad and the total number of ducks of all kinds brought down must run into the hundreds. Apparently not many went after partridge as yet although large coveys have been reported in all areas.—F.
