

THE DAILY EXAMINER

OCTOBER 9, 1900

THE ELECTION.

The date of the election has at last been fixed. Polling will be on the 7th November and nomination a week before. The campaign will thus be the shortest in the history of the country. From every section of Canada comes the most cheering news respecting the prospects of the Liberal-Conservatives, and Prince Edward Island may be depended upon to give a good account of itself. But the time is short, and every Liberal-Conservative should be up and doing.

SIR CHARLES IS RIGHT

The Hon. G. W. Ross, at present premier of Ontario, delivered a speech on the 4th of December, 1897, in the course of which he said:

"True, Great Britain admits our products free of duty; but then she confers a similar favor upon foreign nations. Have we not a right to expect that her own subjects, though living abroad, will be treated more favorably than the Magyar, or the Russian, or the citizen of the United States?"

"The personal and political privileges of her subjects, even under a foreign flag, are protected against encroachment. Why should not the commercial interests of her own subjects, under the same flag, though separated by a few leagues of water, be equally subject to her protection?"

"A preference would lead to the more speedy settlement of the wild lands of the various colonies."

"The increased population of the colonies would give a larger market to the products of British manufactures."

"The increased products of the colonies would add to the value of British commerce."

"Economic conditions change with the progress of the times. British statesmen are eminently practical, and the economic conditions which led to free trade may, in the course of years, so change and become so subordinated to larger conditions of a national character as to warrant their revision."

"This change, I believe, is at this moment taking place at the great centres of British industry."

This is the argument—the reasonable argument—of a Liberal leader, and according to it Sir Charles Tupper is right when he says that a mutual preferential policy may be adopted; while Mr. Fielding was all wrong when he said that it was "arrant humbug" and "impossible."

Scrofula in the blood shows itself sooner or later in swellings, sores, eruptions, But Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cures it.

As the owner of the rooms lately occupied by him is not in a position to hire them any longer, Mr. Earle will for the present, teach pupils in all branches of piano, organ and vocal music at their homes or at his own residence, until suitable rooms are secured.

Just now heaping coals of fire on the head of an enemy is too expensive an amusement to indulge in.

M'CORMAC-BROWN

Very Pretty Wedding in the Chapel of the Convent de Notre Dame.

This morning at eight o'clock the marriage of Miss Bertie Brown, daughter of Councillor Brown, and Mr. George J. McCormac, Inspector of Schools for King's County, was solemnized in the Convent of Notre Dame, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Father Johnston, of the Cathedral staff, assisted by Rev. Dr. McMillan, of Cardigan, Rev. J. C. McLean, of St. George's, and Rev. W. D. McKinnon, Captain and Chaplain of the U. S. army in Manilla.

The bride was beautifully attired in white organdie with Valenciennes lace and insertion trimmings and a crepon fichu. She also wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms, and a gold cross and necklace, the gift of the groom. She carried a beautiful ivory-covered prayer book.

The bridesmaids were Miss McCormac, of St. George's, and Miss Macdonald, of Panmure. Their dresses were white organdie over pink, the collars clasped with brilliant and opal brooches, the gifts of the groom. They also wore black velvet picture hats and carried ivory-covered prayer-books presented by the groom.

The groom was supported by Mr. Picton C. Brown, brother of the bride.

The Convent chapel was gorgeously decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and flowering plants. This was the work of the good Sisters, and it is needless to say that it could not be improved upon.

During the nuptial mass the Convent choir, under the direction of Rev. Sister St. Ovid, sang some beautiful hymns appropriate to the occasion.

After the ceremony the happy couple, accompanied by their intimate friends, repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormac left by the Princess on a tour of the provinces and the Eastern States, followed by hosts of good wishes.

The bride's going away gown was of checked cloth, and she wore a picture hat to match.

Rollo Bay, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Francis McDonald, of Orwell. The bride-to-be, charmingly attired in a suit of grey trimmed with satin with hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Fisher, while Mr. Beane McDonald, of Orwell, supported the groom. After the nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. E. Walker, the happy couple drove to the home of the bride's parents where a number of friends were invited. After partaking of a sumptuous dinner, the bridal party, accompanied by a few of the bride's friends, drove to the home of the groom at Orwell where a number of invited guests were awaiting their arrival. After partaking of a well served wedding supper, the merry strains of the violin cheered the hearts of many and dancing was indulged in till the wee sma' hours. The esteem in which both bride and groom are held was evidenced by the number of costly presents.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Reports of Officers—Addresses by Prof. Hamill and Mr. Meigs.

The second session of the Sunday School Convention met in the First Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. The reports of the county vice-presidents showed Prince County to be organized into six districts, Queen's into five districts and King's into one so far. Mr. C. D. Meigs gave an address on organized Sunday school work. He showed the great desirability of thorough organization on the Island.

Rev. G. P. Raymond submitted the statement of printing expenses, of the annual report, $85.50. All this, except $4.30, had been met by subscriptions secured by the executive committee. A resolution expressing the necessity of having a Field Secretary for part of the year, and to secure the services of Rev. G. P. Raymond for at least a month to visit district meetings and organize Normal classes, for which he would be paid a salary of $100, was unanimously adopted. Prof. Hamill gave an address on "The big boy and young man problem." He said the young man is not in the Sunday Schools and every effort should be made to bring him there. There should be in every Sunday School a good senior class containing the fathers and mothers.

In the evening Rev. G. M. Young delivered an address of welcome. Mr. Meigs and Rev. Neil McLaughlin replied to the address. Prof. Hamill spoke on the "Spiritual opportunity of the Sunday School." He said that many parents do not avail themselves of the God-given privilege of holding spiritual intercourse with their children.

A resolution of thanks to Prof. Hamill, for his visit, help and counsel and best wishes to go with him on his journey and about his chosen work was moved by Rev. J. W. McConnell seconded by J. A. Lawson and carried unanimously. Meeting closed.

LAST NIGHT'S SMOKER.—The "smoker" in the Artillery Orderly Rooms last night was a most enjoyable affair. The officers of the two companies of Artillery, the Engineers and 82nd Batt and the six soldiers who returned from South Africa were in attendance, and an attractive literary and musical program was presented. Sir Louis Davies was present and delivered an address. He also sang "The Englishman." Prof. Watts presided at the piano, and the Artillery Band discoursed capital music.
